U. S. Asks Soviet Russia To Live Up to Agreements

State Department Requests Prompt Removal of Red Troops in Iran

Note Declares Russian Action Is Contrary to Assurances Reached at Tehran Conference

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—The United States tonight called upon Russia to live up to its agreements and get out of Iran immediately.

The State department made public the note delivered to Moscow yesterday. It said that the United States "can not remain "different" to the Soviet decision to keep troops in Iran. And it asked an answer "promptly."

In the 650-word document, the United States declared that the Russian action was contrary to the assurances of the American-British-Soviet declaration of Tehran in 1943, and expressed "earnest hope" that the Soviet Union would withdraw all forces immediately from Iran.

Would Promote Confidence

Such a withdrawal, the United States note said, would "promote the international confidence which is necessary for peaceful progress among the peoples of all nations."

It closed with a request that the Soviet Union notify the United States promptly of its decision on the matter and said this country hoped that verdict would "be in accord with the views herein expressed."

The note was delivered at the Russian foreign office by George F. Kennan, United States charged-affaires in Moscow, on instruction of Secretary of State Byrnes.

Byrnes also has ordered Kennan to deliver a note regarding Red army activities in Manchuria, but State department officials declined to make public the text of that document along with the one on Iran, because they said they had not yet been advised that it had been delivered at the Kremlin.

The United States note on Iran said this government had been informed that the Soviet decision to keep its troops in the Middle Eastern county had been made without the consent of the Iranian government.

It added that its information indicated that Soviet troops were

Peace in World Is Possible, O'Conor Says

Governor Asserts There Will Be No Winner in Next War

HAGERSTOWN, Md., March 7 (AP)—Governor O'Conor told a meeting of the Kiwanis and other civic clubs today that world peace was impossible because "in spite of distrust—there is also trust, x x x an underlying faith, a determined hope and a sincere goodwill" among the nations.

"These are the things we must build upon," he said, even though there will be "many, many conferences, arguments, quarrels before there is victorious peace."

Will Always Be Quarrels

"Of course, there will be quarrels among nations," the governor declared, "that is why the UNO (United Nations Organization) was established. Naturally, there are sore spots on the map. That is why it is necessary to find means of doctoring them up. Distrust—yes. Misunderstanding—yes. But there were these things between the Allies before, and they were overcome. There had to be a Teheran and a Yalta before there was a San Francisco."

He said that "profiting by the mistakes of World War I, the statesmen of the United Nations did not wait until the fighting stopped before making plans" for the peace. "Men were still battling in Europe and Asia when the United Nations Organization was being discussed by the Big Three and others.

"It was an encouraging reversal of the old maxim, 'in time of peace, prepare for war,'" O'Conor continued. "Here in time of war, the certain victors were preparing for a lasting peace."

He added that this was a "token of hope that should be always before us. Because it proves how deep and sincere was the intent on all sides—by all parties concerned. It shows us that such things as international trust—faith—hope—goodwill are not just myths, but that they can be—because they have once been realities."

Fascism Is Not Dead

The governor said "we have seen to our dismay that fascism is not altogether dead in South America. We know for certain that it still exists in Spain, we have seen the apparent evidence of power politics in Iran. We have read about anti-imperialistic riots in India."

But, he said, any utterances or thoughts that "it is nonsense to suppose international matters can be settled by arbitration" or that the UNO is doomed to failure indicate that "we have taken a backward step."

Such thoughts and utterances would be "endangering the idealism which we held so short a time ago," he claimed.

O'Conor, a candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination, called for world peace because, he said, the victory achieved in World War II is a "victory we cannot afford to win again. There will be no winner in the next war—there may not even be any survivors. For our very genius in destroying enemies can be the means of destroying ourselves."

RAILROAD STRIKE DATE SET

Whitney and Johnston announced 6 A. M. (EST) March 11 as the deadline for a progressive strike which would tie up the nation's rail system.

Supervisory Employes Are Covered By Wagner Act, NLRB Decision Says

Ruling in Case Involving Coal Mine Foremen Is Given by Board

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board ruled today that the guarantees of the Wagner act apply to supervisory employes who wish to join a union and bargain collectively with their employers.

The ruling was made in a case involving coal mine foremen. John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers struck last October for recognition of the United Clerical, Technical, Supervisory and Office Employes, a branch of the UMW District 50. Lewis called off the strike and said he would pursue the issue at a more "appropriate time."

The UMW president recently declared that recognition is an issue now and served notice on the bituminous coal operators that it would be brought up at the negotiations scheduled to begin next Tuesday.

Reilly Dissents

The NLRB decision, with Gerald D. Reilly dissenting said it would be an "abuse of discretion" to refuse to apply the machinery of the Wagner act to supervisory employes who chose to organize into an affiliate of a national labor organization which also represents production and maintenance employes.

This went further than the board's first decision in a foremen case, involving the Maryland Drydock Company, and a decision last summer in the Packard Motor Car Company case.

In the Maryland case, the board ruled that foremen could join a union but that the union could not bargain collectively for them under the Wagner act. In the Packard case, the board held that the American Foremen Association, an independent union, could represent the foremen under the act, but made it clear that there was a distinction between a foremen's union which was independent and one which might also represent production and maintenance workers.

In the mine workers decision tonight, the board went an additional step and said that foreign in a production workers' union would come under the same bargaining

Strike Situation May Be Probed By Senate Group

Murray Cites Belief General Motors Is Trying To "Bust" Union

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Chairman Murray (D-Mont) said today a Senate labor subcommittee may investigate the strike situation, particularly that in General Motors.

He told reporters a group of members discussed the General Motors strike this afternoon and some "feel the principal thing the company is after now is to bust the union."

He said there was also talk about "the failure of the National Labor Relations Board to act more promptly on charges by the union to the effect that General Motors has failed to bargain collectively."

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach said meanwhile that he expects to "come to a conclusion" Friday on what to do about the General Motors strike.

He met twice today with James F. Dewey, special Labor department mediator in the strike of 175,000 workers which now has dragged on for three and a half months.

Not Being Replaced

Schwellenbach summoned Dewey, the veteran peace maker, to Washington for a progress report after the General Motors Corporation and the United Auto Workers (CIO) had come to a deadlock in their negotiations under Dewey's guidance in Detroit.

Holding an impromptu news conference, Schwellenbach said Dewey is "not being replaced" as mediator in the dispute.

Replying to questions, Schwellenbach said no consideration is being given to governmental seizure of General Motors plants.

Murray said any investigation would be in the form of hearings on a resolution introduced by Senators Kilgore (D-W Va), Tunnell

Modified Housing Bill Is Passed By 357-24 Vote

Tattered Remnants of Administration Measure Now Goes to Senate

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—The tattered remnants of the administration's Housing bill received final house approval today and were tossed to the Senate.

A fight is expected to be made in the latter chamber to bring the measure more in line with President Truman's views.

House passage was by a vote of 357 to 24 with the opposition votes coming from nineteen Republicans and five Democrats. Before the final vote, Rep. Jessie Sumner (R-Ill) moved to send the bill back to committee which would in effect have killed it altogether. This lost 304 to 76.

Senators are Hopeful

Senate leaders, hoping to restore the House-rejected building material subsidies which Mr. Truman called "the very heart" of his program, got surprising, though mild, encouragement from a Republican.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters "there are a few subsidies to which I might not object."

But he added that the issue "probably was dead in view of the size of the House's stand—161 to 92—against the subsidies.

The administration's original measure called for a broad grant of authority for the housing director to pay up to $600,000,000 in subsidies to producers of building materials if he determined the payments were necessary to increase supplies.

This, and proposed ceiling prices on existing homes, were two key provisions knocked from the measure by the House. Wilson Wyatt, housing expediter, declared that without them the legislation could not achieve its goal of stimulating construction of 2,700,000 new homes.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader and acting chairman of the Banking committee, said that he had reached no decision on procedure on the Housing bill. The committee presently is occupied with study of the proposed $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain.

Kilgore Raps Opponents

Barkley made no prediction as to what the Senate might do. Senator Ellender (D-La.), a long-time backer of federal aids for housing, forecast to reporters, however, that "the program will get considerably better treatment in the Senate than the House gave it."

Senator Kilbore (D-WVa) said he had written to the president urging that, in the absence of new legislation, "every possible effort should be made through administrative action based on existing law to encourage and assist new producers to come into the housing field."

In a statement, Kilgore suggested that the government could, if necessary, lease some of its wartime plants for a dollar a year to manufacturers willing to go into mass production of building materials and undertake new techniques.

Criticizing the House's action, Kilgore said "it is a serious blow to the nation's economy that the

House Committee Would Maintain Present Federal Income Tax Rates

Colmer Cautions Strong Measures Needed for Effective Control of Inflationary Forces

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Modified extension of the Price Control act for another year, and maintenance of existing federal income tax rates, were recommended today by the House Postwar Economic Policy committee.

The committee headed by Rep. Colmer (D-Miss) cautioned that effective control of inflationary forces will be "impossible without the aid of strong fiscal and monetary counter measures."

The group filed its ninth report with Congress as Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson told the House Banking committee the world food shortage makes it imperative to continue price controls and subsidy payments to hold down food costs in this country. The banking committee is considering legislation to extend the price control law another year beyond June 30.

Will Appoint Deputy

James F. Brownlee, deputy to Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles, told the committee that a deputy soon will be appointed in OPA with the one responsibility of taking off price ceilings as supply comes into balance with demand.

After prolonged study, the Postwar committee said it reached the conclusion that summary removal of wartime controls "would most likely result in ruinous inflation and would react unfavorably not only to the wage earners and consumers but to business itself."

But even with continuance of controls, the committee said, it believes administration, particularly by the Office of Price Administration, "can be greatly improved."

It tied to its recommendation for price control extension the following proposed amendments:

1. Establish the best three years of the period of 1936-40 instead of the years 1936-39 as the base period for calculation of how much prices shall be increased above March, 1942, ceilings, to compensate for added costs.

2. Establish the average of the best three years of the period 1936-

Revercomb Says British Alliance Would Foster War

Senator Calls Proposal "Softening Up" for Loan to Britain

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Sen. Revercomb (R-WVa) said today a military alliance with Great Britain "would be a certain way of dragging us into another European war."

Revercomb, in a written statement said, "If Mr. Churchill is in earnest about this proposal" for a military alliance, "he is telling us that he thinks the United Nations plan will not work.

"Maybe he is right, but it seems a little early not to try it out a little longer, and at the same time keep this country strong defensively."

Revercomb said he believes "the proposal is just a softening up in support of the pending loan sought from us by the United Kingdom—a proposal to show an alliance to justify us loaning them money."

Ellis Terms It "Build Up"

Another West Virginian, Rep. Ellis (R) told the House yesterday "this whole circus stems to be a build up for the British loan."

Ellis, referring to what he described as the "saber rattling speech of Mr. Churchill," said "I would like to remind my colleagues that the application for the $4,500,000,000 loan to Great Britain is now before the committee."

Revercomb, in his statement, said a military alliance means "an agreement for both to go to war whenever either gets into a fight."

Such an alliance, the senator added, "is the foremost thing condemned by the United Nations Organization. While I do not place all my faith or belief in the security of this country in the UNO yet I hoped that it would be given a trial.

Wants No Military Alliances

"If member nations of that organization make military alliances on the side and thus group themselves for combat, the UNO has definitely broken up—the whole thing as inane and purposeless."

Revercomb said he wants no military alliances.

"That would be a certain way of dragging us into another European war," he said.

"And furthermore, unless the people of this country change those in charge of our national administration, who have followed and still follow the policy of sticking our fingers into the internal affairs of other countries, and believes that we must get into every dispute, we're going to continue to be in war. War for us will never be far away under the present policy of administration."

House Committee To Hear Pauley

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley, President Truman's choice for undersecretary of the navy, squared away today for a personal rebuttal of charges made against him over five weeks of hearings before the Senate Naval Affairs committee.

He was promised all the time he wants tomorrow to develop what he calls his "affirmative case" for confirmation.

Reports persisted, however, that after laying his side of the story before the senators he will agree to withdraw, probably before Sunday.

Pauley, a 6-foot-4 California oil operator who formerly was Democratic national treasurer, laid the groundwork for tomorrow's appearance by issuing a statement asking: what's wrong with appointing an oil man to office?

"When the chips were down, when freedom and democracy throughout the world hung precariously in the balance, President Roosevelt and Secretary Ickes called oil men to produce, process and distribute the oil so essential to victory," Pauley said.

Then he asked:

"If men in the oil business were good enough, experienced, skilled, energetic and patriotic enough to hold high government posts during the war crisis, x x x what x x x is wrong with them now?"

Russia Decides To Take Part In Conference

Soviet Will Be Represented at International Monetary Conference

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Russia belatedly decided today to take part in the international monetary conference.

United States officials were elated at the decision, although the Soviet group will sit only as observers, along with eight other powers which have not yet ratified the Bretton Woods agreements creating an international bank and monetary fund.

The Russians had ignored for months an invitation to the conference of thirty-five member countries opening tomorrow on Wilmington Island, near Savannah, Ga.

An embassy spokesman said he did not know whether Russia might seek membership in the fund and bank, as at least two other late comers — Denmark and Panama — are expected to do.

A Soviet delegation sat through the international food and agriculture conference at Quebec last fall and then did not sign the world food charter adopted there.

The United States has been anxious for Russian membership in the bank and fund. High government officials revealed this week that only if Russia agrees to co-operate with the United Nations in this and other economic matters will this country consider her request for a $1,000,000,000 loan.

With Russia on the sidelines as an observer, the "Big Five" of the conference—based on their contributions to the fund and international bank—are the United States, Britain, China, France and India.

If Russia should decide to enter, she would oust India from the preferred "Big Five" group, membership in which carries extra influence in operations of the fund and bank.

United States delegates revealed that this country has decided to press for early admission of Italy into the $10,000,000,000 bank and $8,800,000,000 monetary fund.

On the agenda are the selection of a permanent site for the bank and fund probably either New York or Washington; adoption of by-laws and election of directors for the two institutions; decisions on the terms by which new nations may join; and study of a United States proposal to admit, for a limited period, countries which did not ratify by Dec. 31.

Telephone Strike Is Called Off

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—The long-threatened nationwide telephone strike definitely was called off today.

Operators already were leaving their switchboards and picket lines were forming at scattered points when the union ordered the walkout canceled twenty-five minutes before 6 a. m. deadline. An agreement on a new wage formula granting $5 to $8 weekly increases to some 250,000 phone workers had been reached shortly before under all-night pressure by the United States Conciliation Service.

The executive board of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, independent, ordered the strike canceled five minutes after a "pattern" contract had been signed with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company by its long lines affiliate.

The walkout had been called by the long lines unit and sixteen other affiliated unions. Thirty-four other NFTW units had been instructed to observe picket lines.

Delayed receipt of the union's notice, or premature walkouts, caused service interruptions in Washington, Philadelphia, Oklahoma City and parts of Maryland, Texas and Michigan.

Landing of French Troops Reported At Haiphong

By STANLEY SWINTON

SAIGON, Indochina, March 7 (AP)—The French eoday recognized the Viet Nam Republic of Annamite Nationalists as "a free state within the Indochinese Federation and French Union," and French troops were reported to have landed at Haiphong after a clash with Chinese occupation forces yesterday.

There was no immediate confirmation of the landing report, and the communique made no mention of negotiations with the Chinese at Haiphong.

A French communique declared Chinese artillery fire had killed ten soldiers and damaged the French Light Cruiser Triomphant in yesterday's engagement, and that the Triumphant's guns had fired back on the shore battery.

(The French general staff said in Paris that "the French command has succeeded in reaching the local Chinese command and conversations are in progress between their staffs."

(Chinese dispatches from Chungking said yesterday's action was due to "technical difficulties" and that French occupation of the port had been delayed until today.)

The French communique confirmed earlier reports that the Triumphant had returned the shore fire, but said it did so only after waiting a half-hour and being hit in four places.

The clash occurred as the Cruisers Triumphant and Emile Bertin and escorting craft were standing off Haiphong with 20,000 troops to

Truman Will Act In Threatened Railroad Strike

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—The threat of a railroad strike on Monday faded away today as President Truman invoked the fact-finding machinery in that industry which he proposes for others.

The White House announced that the president will appoint a fact-finding panel in the rail wage dispute "very shortly." Under the Railway Mediation act, this will automatically bar a strike for thirty to sixty days.

Mr. Truman proposed last year that Congress set up similar machinery for other industries. Instead the House passed a more stringent Strike-Control bill by Rep. Case (R-SD). In the Senate, labor legislation is still in the committee stage.

The Brotherhoods of Railroad Trainmen and of Locomotive Engineers had scheduled a progressive strike against 384 railroads and terminals to start at 6 a. m. Monday.

After the White House announcement, Alvany Johnson, head of the engineers, said in Cleveland that "I am a law-abiding citizen and personally would not favor embarrassing the president."

Dr. J. H. Parmalee, of the Association of American Railroads, told the board during the day that freight rates would have to be increased 36.8 percent to meet the wage demands.

"Labor," weekly newspaper published by fifteen railway brotherhoods including the engineers but not the trainmen, said that "the chances are 100 to 1 there will be no strike."

Leftist Demonstrations in Iran Cause Death of Three Persons

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

TEHRAN, March 7. (AP)—Three persons were killed and five wounded in a new outbreak of street fighting between Leftists and Right-wing elements today as Russia's intentions in Northeastern Iran remained clouded.

The new riots, the fourth outbreak in four days, came as Prince Firouz, director of propaganda, denied a war ministry statement that Iranian troops had been halted by the Russians east of Tehran.

Gen. Sepehbod Amir Ahmedi, minister of war, insisted, however, that "our troops have been held up since Wednesday by Russian troops" at Garmsar, a desert post sixty miles east of the capital.

Today's street fighting took place in the Bazaar district after mounted police and gendarmes, with fixed bayonets, prevented Leftist Tudeh party members from demonstrating in Parliament Square where rioting in the past three days had hospitalized eight persons.

Squads of goose-stepping soldiers, in full combat kit, marched through the streets leading to the Parliament building, which was completely ringed by gendarmes and police.

In this setting, parliament was able to hold its first session this week, with the exception of a secret meeting last night. Milling crowds in parliament square had forced cancellation of scheduled meetings Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The deputies, however, did not discuss the proposed measure to extend the life of the chamber beyond its closing date of March 11, a bill against which the Tudeh party was demonstrating.

Rioters in Old Delhi Are Fired Upon after They Burn Town Hall

By PAUL MASON

NEW DELHI, March 7 (AP)—Five persons were killed today during riots in Old Delhi in which the town hall was burned and other buildings were set fire.

Police were forced to open fire to quell the disorders stemming from opposition to the government's victory week parade.

Some United States troops marched in the parade.

Police were issued orders tonight to fire upon anybody destroying public property and a curfew was clamped on Old Delhi, situated several miles from New Delhi, capital of British India, where 15,000 troops paraded in celebration of the Allied victory in the war.

The one-story rambling town hall containing the municipal officers of the historic old city was left in ruins.

There was no violence along the six-mile line of march taken by the parading troops, who were watched silently by Indian residents. The parade route had been changed to avoid places which might have served as ambush points for stone throwers.

An American army unit of 205 men marched smartly with colors at the head of an infantry division. The Yanks swung past the reviewing stand, occupied by Viceroy Lord Wavell and Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, at the resounding strains of "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Indians were called out to aid the police when the rioting flared in the heart of Old Delhi. The police opened fire three times. A fire brigade which was sent to the town hall was stoned and turned back for police aid. Later it made the run to the fire under armed escort, but arrived too late to save the building.

The rioting climaxed a boycott movement instigated by opposition groups, including the Moslem League, against the victory celebration.

Probe of Suspected Atom Spy Ring Started by Representative Wood

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—The House committee on unamerican activities began a search today for foreign spies it declared are trying to steal America's atom bomb secrets.

Chairman John S. Wood (D-Ga) told newsmen a lengthy inquiry by committee aides had disclosed the attempts and the group is now seeking more detailed information about suspects.

He said the committee is prepared to "name some names" of individuals who should be questioned, but added that complete evidence has not as yet been obtained against anyone.

Wood declined to say what nation or nations the committee believes to be involved.

Asked specifically if Russia is involved, Wood said he is "not in a position to answer." Asked if the investigation showed any connection between the reported theft efforts here and those recently announced in Canada, Wood replied:

"I don't know. I'm not sure just what agents were at work up there."

The chairman announced after a closed meeting today that the group may hold hearings soon in connection with its inquiry.

The sessions probably will be conducted either in New York City or Oak Ridge, Tenn., because "most of the activity appears to be between these points," Wood said. The Tennessee city is the site of the famed "Manhattan project" where the atom bomb first was produced.

Wood also disclosed he is taking personal command of the inquiry.

It shows us that such things as international trust — faith — hope — goodwill are not just myths, but that they can be—because they have once been realities."

Fascism Is Not Dead

The governor said "we have seen to our dismay that fascism is not altogether dead in South America. We know for certain that it still exists in Spain, we have seen the apparent evidence of power politics in Iran. We have read about anti-imperialistic riots in India."

But, he said, any utterances or thoughts that "it is nonsense to suppose international matters can be settled by arbitration" or that the UNO is doomed to failure indicate that "we have taken a backward step."

Such thoughts and utterances would be "endangering the idealism which we held so short a time ago," he claimed.

O'Conor, a candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination, called for world peace because, he said, the victory achieved in World War II is a "victory we cannot afford to win again. There will be no winner in the next war—there may not even be any survivors. For our very genius in destroying enemies can be the means of destroying ourselves."

Landing of French Troops Reported At Haiphong

By STANLEY SWINTON

SAIGON, Indochina, March 7 (AP)—The French eoday recognized the Viet Nam Republic of Annamite Nationalists as "a free state within the Indochinese Federation and French Union," and French troops were reported to have landed at Haiphong after a clash with Chinese occupation forces yesterday.

There was no immediate confirmation of the landing report, and the communique made no mention of negotiations with the Chinese at Haiphong.

A French communiqne declared Chinese artillery fire had killed ten soldiers and damaged the French Light Cruiser Triomphant in yesterday's engagement, and that the Triumphant's guns had fired back on the shore battery.

(The French general staff said in Paris that "the French command has succeeded in reaching the local Chinese command and conversations are in progress between their staffs."

(Chinese dispatches from Chungking said yesterday's action was due to "technical difficulties" and that French occupation of the port had been delayed until today.)

The French communique confirmed earlier reports that the Triumphant had returned the shore fire, but said it did so only after waiting a half-hour and being hit in four places.

The clash occurred as the Cruisers Triumphant and Emile Bertin and escorting craft were standing off Haiphong with 20,000 troops to

Ruling in Case Involving Coal Mine Foremen Is Given by Board

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board ruled today that the guarantees of the Wagner act apply to supervisory employes who wish to join a union and bargain collectively with their employers.

The ruling was made in a case involving coal mine foremen. John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers struck last October for recognition of the United Clerical, Technical, Supervisory and Office Employes, a branch of the UMW District 50. Lewis called off the strike and said he would pursue the issue at a more "appropriate time."

The UMW president recently declared that recognition is an issue now and served notice on the bituminous coal operators that it would be brought up at the negotiations scheduled to begin next Tuesday.

Reilly Dissents

The NLRB decision, with Gerald D. Reilly dissenting said it would be an "abuse of discretion" to refuse to apply the machinery of the Wagner act to supervisory employes who chose to organize into an affiliate of a national labor organization which also represents production and maintenance employes.

This went further than the board's first decision in a foremen case, involving the Maryland Drydock Company, and a decision last summer in the Packard Motor Car Company case.

In the Maryland case, the board ruled that foremen could join a union but that the union could not bargain collectively for them under the Wagner act. In the Packard case, the board held that the American Foremen Association, an independent union, could represent the foremen under the act, but made it clear that there was a distinction between a foremen's union which was independent and one which might also represent production and maintenance workers.

In the mine workers decision tonight, the board went an additional step and said that foreign in a production workers' union would come under the same bargaining

Strike Situation May Be Probed By Senate Group

Murray Cites Belief General Motors Is Trying To "Bust" Union

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Chairman Murray (D-Mont) said today a Senate labor subcommittee may investigate the strike situation, particularly that in General Motors.

He told reporters a group of members discussed the General Motors strike this afternoon and some "feel the principal thing the company is after now is to bust the union."

He said there was also talk about "the failure of the National Labor Relations Board to act more promptly on charges by the union to the effect that General Motors has failed to bargain collectively."

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach said meanwhile that he expects to "come to a conclusion" Friday on what to do about the General Motors strike.

He met twice today with James F. Dewey, special Labor department mediator in the strike of 175,000 workers which now has dragged on for three and a half months.

Not Being Replaced

Schwellenbach summoned Dewey, the veteran peace maker, to Washington for a progress report after the General Motors Corporation and the United Auto Workers (CIO) had come to a deadlock in their negotiations under Dewey's guidance in Detroit.

Holding an impromptu news conference, Schwellenbach said Dewey is "not being replaced" as mediator in the dispute.

Replying to questions, Schwellenbach said no consideration is being given to governmental seizure of General Motors plants.

Murray said any investigation would be in the form of hearings on a resolution introduced by Senators Kilgore (D-W Va), Tunnell

Rioters in Old Delhi Are Fired Upon after They Burn Town Hall

By PAUL MASON

NEW DELHI, March 7 (AP)—Five persons were killed today during riots in Old Delhi in which the town hall was burned and other buildings were set fire.

Police were forced to open fire to quell the disorders stemming from opposition to the government's victory week parade.

Some United States troops marched in the parade.

Police were issued orders tonight to fire upon anybody destroying public property and a curfew was clamped on Old Delhi, situated several miles from New Delhi, capital of British India, where 15,000 troops paraded in celebration of the Allied victory in the war.

The one-story rambling town hall containing the municipal officers of the historic old city was left in ruins.

There was no violence along the six-mile line of march taken by the parading troops, who were watched silently by Indian residents. The parade route had been changed to avoid places which might have served as ambush points for stone throwers.

An American army unit of 205 men marched smartly with colors at the head of an infantry division. The Yanks swung past the reviewing stand, occupied by Viceroy Lord Wavell and Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, at the resounding strains of "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Indians were called out to aid the police when the rioting flared in the heart of Old Delhi. The police opened fire three times. A fire brigade which was sent to the town hall was stoned and turned back for police aid. Later it made the run to the fire under armed escort, but arrived too late to save the building.

The rioting climaxed a boycott movement instigated by opposition groups, including the Moslem League, against the victory celebration.

Leftist Demonstrations in Iran Cause Death of Three Persons

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

TEHRAN, March 7. (AP)—Three persons were killed and five wounded in a new outbreak of street fighting between Leftists and Right-wing elements today as Russia's intentions in Northeastern Iran remained clouded.

The new riots, the fourth outbreak in four days, came as Prince Firouz, director of propaganda, denied a war ministry statement that Iranian troops had been halted by the Russians east of Tehran.

Gen. Sepehbod Amir Ahmedi, minister of war, insisted, however, that "our troops have been held up since Wednesday by Russian troops" at Garmsar, a desert post sixty miles east of the capital.

Today's street fighting took place in the Bazaar district after mounted police and gendarmes, with fixed bayonets, prevented Leftist Tudeh party members from demonstrating in Parliament Square where rioting in the past three days had hospitalized eight persons.

Squads of goose-stepping soldiers, in full combat kit, marched through the streets leading to the Parliament building, which was completely ringed by gendarmes and police.

In this setting, parliament was able to hold its first session this week, with the exception of a secret meeting last night. Milling crowds in parliament square had forced cancellation of scheduled meetings Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The deputies, however, did not discuss the proposed measure to extend the life of the chamber beyond its closing date of March 11, a bill against which the Tudeh party was demonstrating.

Modified Housing Bill Is Passed By 357-24 Vote

Tattered Remnants of Administration Measure Now Goes to Senate

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—The tattered remnants of the administration's Housing bill received final house approval today and were tossed to the Senate.

A fight is expected to be made in the latter chamber to bring the measure more in line with President Truman's views.

House passage was by a vote of 357 to 24 with the opposition votes coming from nineteen Republicans and five Democrats. Before the final vote, Rep. Jessie Sumner (R-Ill) moved to send the bill back to committee which would in effect have killed it altogether. This lost 304 to 76.

Senators are Hopeful

Senate leaders, hoping to restore the House-rejected building material subsidies which Mr. Truman called "the very heart" of his program, got surprising, though mild, encouragement from a Republican.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters "there are a few subsidies to which I might not object."

But he added that the issue "probably was dead in view of the size of the House's stand—161 to 92—against the subsidies.

The administration's original measure called for a broad grant of authority for the housing director to pay up to $600,000,000 in subsidies to producers of building materials if he determined the payments were necessary to increase supplies.

This, and proposed ceiling prices on existing homes, were two key provisions knocked from the measure by the House. Wilson Wyatt, housing expediter, declared that without them the legislation could not achieve its goal of stimulating construction of 2,700,000 new homes.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader and acting chairman of the Banking committee, said that he had reached no decision on procedure on the Housing bill. The committee presently is occupied with study of the proposed $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain.

Kilgore Raps Opponents

Barkley made no prediction as to what the Senate might do. Senator Ellender (D-La.), a long-time backer of federal aids for housing, forecast to reporters, however, that "the program will get considerably better treatment in the Senate than the House gave it."

Senator Kilbore (D-WVa) said he had written to the president urging that, in the absence of new legislation, "every possible effort should be made through administrative action based on existing law to encourage and assist new producers to come into the housing field.' '

In a statement, Kilgore suggested that the government could, if necessary, lease some of its wartime plants for a dollar a year to manufacturers willing to go into mass production of building materials and undertake new techniques.

Criticizing the House's action, Kilgore said "it is a serious blow to the nation's economy that the

Truman Will Act In Threatened Railroad Strike

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP) — The threat of a railroad strike on Monday faded away today as President Truman invoked the fact-finding machinery in that industry which he proposes for others.

The White House announced that the president will appoint a fact-finding panel in the rail wage dispute "very shortly." Under the Railway Mediation act, this will automatically bar a strike for thirty to sixty days.

Mr. Truman proposed last year that Congress set up similar machinery for other industries. Instead the House passed a more stringent Strike-Control bill by Rep. Case (R-SD). In the Senate, labor legislation is still in the committee stage.

The Brotherhoods of Railroad Trainmen and of Locomotive Engineers had scheduled a progressive strike against 384 railroads and terminals to start at 6 a. m. Monday.

After the White House announcement, Alvany Johnson, head of the engineers, said in Cleveland that "I am a law-abiding citizen and personally would not favor embarrassing the president."

Dr. J. H. Parmalee, of the Association of American Railroads, told the board during the day that freight rates would have to be increased 36.8 percent to meet the wage demands.

"Labor," weekly newspaper published by fifteen railway brotherhoods including the engineers but not the trainmen, said that "the chances are 100 to 1 there will be no strike."

Revercomb Says British Alliance Would Foster War

Senator Calls Proposal "Softening Up" for Loan to Britain

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—Sen. Revercomb (R-WVa) said today a military alliance with Great Britain "would be a certain way of dragging us into another European war."

Revercomb, in a written statement said, "If Mr. Churchill is in earnest about this proposal" for a military alliance, "he is telling us that he thinks the United Nations plan will not work.

"Maybe he is right, but it seems a little early not to try it out a little longer, and at the same time keep this country strong defensively."

Revercomb said he believes "the proposal is just a softening up in support of the pending loan sought from us by the United Kingdom—a proposal to show an alliance to justify us loaning them money."

Ellis Terms It "Build Up"

Another West Virginian, Rep. Ellis (R) told the House yesterday "this whole circus stems to be a build up for the British loan."

Ellis, referring to what he described as the "saber rattling speech of Mr. Churchill," said "I would like to remind my colleagues that the application for the $4,500,000,000 loan to Great Britain is now before the committee."

Revercomb, in his statement, said a military alliance means "an agreement for both to go to war whenever either gets into a fight."

Such an alliance, the senator added, "is the foremost thing condemned by the United Nations Organization. While I do not place all my faith or belief in the security of this country in the UNO yet I hoped that it would be given a trial.

Wants No Military Alliances

"If member nations of that organization make military alliances on the side and thus group themselves for combat, the UNO has definitely broken up—the whole thing as inane and purposeless."

Revercomb said he wants no military alliances.

"That would be a certain way of dragging us into another European war," he said.

"And furthermore, unless the people of this country change those in charge of our national administration, who have followed and still follow the policy of sticking our fingers into the internal affairs of other countries, and believes that we must get into every dispute, we're going to continue to be in war. War for us will never be far away under the present policy of administration."

House Committee Would Maintain Present Federal Income Tax Rates

Colmer Cautions Strong Measures Needed for Effective Control of Inflationary Forces

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP) — Modified extension of the Price Control act for another year, and maintenance of existing federal income tax rates, were recommended today by the House Postwar Economic Policy committee.

The committee headed by Rep. Colmer (D-Miss) cautioned that effective control of inflationary forces will be "impossible without the aid of strong fiscal and monetary counter measures."

The group filed its ninth report with Congress as Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson told the House Banking committee the world food shortage makes it imperative to continue price controls and subsidy payments to hold down food costs in this country. The banking committee is considering legislation to extend the price control law another year beyond June 30.

Will Appoint Deputy

James F. Brownlee, deputy to Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles, told the committee that a deputy soon will be appointed in OPA with the one responsibility of taking off price ceilings as supply comes into balance with demand.

After prolonged study, the Postwar committee said it reached the conclusion that summary removal of wartime controls "would most likely result in ruinous inflation and would react unfavorably not only to the wage earners and consumers but to business itself."

But even with continuance of controls, the committee said, it believes administration, particularly by the Office of Price Administration, "can be greatly improved."

It tied to its recommendation for price control extension the following proposed amendments:

1. Establish the best three years of the period of 1936-40 instead of the years 1936-39 as the base period for calculation of how much prices shall be increased above March, 1942, ceilings, to compensate for added costs.

2. Establish the average of the best three years of the period 1936-

Senate Committee To Hear Pauley

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley, President Truman's choice for undersecretary of the navy, squared away today for a personal rebuttal of charges made against him over five weeks of hearings before the Senate Naval Affairs committee.

He was promised all the time he wants tomorrow to develop what he calls his "affirmative case" for confirmation.

Reports persisted, however, that after laying his side of the story before the senators he will agree to withdraw, probably before Sunday.

Pauley, a 6-foot-4 California oil operator who formerly was Democratic national treasurer, laid the groundwork for tomorrow's appearance by issuing a statement asking: what's wrong with appointing an oil man to office?

"When the chips were down, when freedom and democracy throughout the world hung precariously in the balance, President Roosevelt and Secretary Ickes called oil men to produce, process and distribute the oil so essential to victory," Pauley said.

Then he asked:

"If men in the oil business were good enough, experienced, skilled, energetic and patriotic enough to hold high government posts during the war crisis, x x x what x x x is wrong with them now?"

Probe of Suspected Atom Spy Ring Started by Representative Wood

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—The House committee on unamerican activities began a search today for foreign spies it declared are trying to steal America's atom bomb secrets.

Chairman John S. Wood (D-Ga) told newsmen a lengthy inquiry by committee aides had disclosed the attempts and the group is now seeking more detailed information about suspects.

He said the committee is prepared to "name some names" of individuals who should be questioned, but added that complete evidence has not as yet been obtained against anyone.

Wood declined to say what nation or nations the committee believes to be involved.

Asked specifically if Russia is involved, Wood said he is "not in a position to answer." Asked if the investigation showed any connection between the reported theft efforts here and those recently announced in Canada, Wood replied:

"I don't know. I'm not sure just what agents were at work up there."

The chairman announced after a closed meeting today that the group may hold hearings soon in connection with its inquiry.

The sessions probably will be conducted either in New York City or Oak Ridge, Tenn., because "most of the activity appears to be between these points," Wood said. The Tennessee city is the site of the famed "Manhattan project" where the atom bomb first was produced.

Wood also disclosed he is taking personal command of the inquiry.

Aga Khan Will Get His Weight In Diamonds

Thousands of Moslems Pay Tribute to Their Spiritual Leader

BOMBAY, March 7. (AP)—The poor and rich alike among the faithful followers of the Aga Khan paid him prayerful tribute today in the opening of religious ceremonies to be climaxed Sunday when the 240-pound spiritual leader of the Ismaili Moslems will be presented with his weight in diamonds.

Tens of thousands of pilgrims from all over the Orient have flocked to this over-crowded city, assembling in camps, hotels, private homes—wherever they can find space—in a colorful showing of respect and love for the Aga Khan in observance of the diamond jubilee of his leadership.

In the stifling heat of one huge tent, the 68-year-old religious leader received gifts of jewels, precious metals, sweets and flowers from the faithful.

By ones and twos in rich garb and in poor the pilgrims made their offerings, then rose with their hands clasped in prayer to receive a nodded blessing.

His highness stripped off the coat of his European style suit and removed his necktie as he moved from corner to corner on the dais on which he sat.

On Sunday the Aga Khan will take a seat on a specially constructed balance scale and his followers will pile packaged diamonds on the other side until the scales balance evenly. It will be a symbolic ceremony, since the Aga Khan will receive cash equalling the value of the diamonds, which have been "rented" from a diamond syndicate. The Aga Khan will receive between four and five million dollars in the ceremony here and in its repetition in South Africa, all of which he has earmarked for benevolent purposes.

Firemen Fight Blaze In Pittsburgh For 19 1-2 Hours

PITTSBURGH, March 7. (AP)—A $200,000 downtown fire, one of the smokiest and most dramatic in the steel city's history, was extinguished by firemen this afternoon after nineteen and one-half-hour battle.

The fire swept the builders' supply building of Jones and Brown, Incorporated, and damaged a Pittsburgh and West Virginia railroad trestle and the historic Wabash building on Liberty avenue.

Supervisory Employes

protection as the production workers under the Wagner act.

The case involved the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation Vesta-Shannopin coal division, Pittsburgh. The immediate case involved approximately 190 supervisory employes.

The board directed that elections be conducted within thirty days at the Jones and Laughlin mines among the supervisory employes on the question of whether they want to be represented by the United Clerical, Technical and Supervisory Union.

The decision by Chairman Paul M. Herzog and John M. Houston declared that the Wagner act "as written today, directs that we protect the right of employes to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, not our choosing."

Protects Fundamental Rights

"So long as the Congress of the United States imposes no limitation upon their choice, it is not for us to do so. The issue before the board is not whether supervisory employes shall join unions or seek to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, for they have already done so. It is whether the peaceful machinery of the act should be made available to protect their exercise of this fundamental right."

It added that "by closing the door" to this, "the board would simply turn the direction of the struggle for union recognition from the ballot box to the economic battlefield" and promote "strikes for union recognition."

In his dissent, Reilly said:

"In my judgment, the decision which we are making today so seriously distorts the principal objectives of the National Labor Relations act that unless it is speedily corrected by legislative or judicial action, it will have far-reaching repercussions upon industry and labor. x x x It is a clear holding that an affiliated union which has already organized the production workers of a given employer may use the processes of this act to draw into its organization the very persons hired to supervise them.

"In reaching this result, it is probable that we have seriously impaired the ability of the operators effectively to manage their mines. To me its impact upon the rank and file is equally catastrophic."

Will Hold Elections

Two elections among the supervisory employes will be held in thirty days at the Jones and Laughlin mines, under the board's order.

One election will be held among the supervisory workers of the production and maintenance employes. The other election will be held among supervisors of the clerical and technical employes.

Those eligible to vote in the first election will be fire bosses, mine crew foremen, assistant mine foremen, maintenance bosses and mechanical bosses.

Those eligible in the second election will be engineers, chief draftsmen, transit men, chief supplies clerk and assistant chief clerk.

Meanwhile Edward R. Burke, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association, told a reporter the NLRB decision was "very bad" and would be resisted by the industry.

A United Mine Workers spokesman said the board has given the supervisory workers "their inherent right of citizenship under the laws of the land."

At Pittsburgh, John A. McAlpine, president of the supervisory union, declared "peace in the coal industry now lies entirely up to the operators."

He did not amplify the statement and he said he had no further comment until he had read the ruling "in its entirety."

Byron H. Cannon, Jr., secretary of the Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators Association, said "the ruling most certainly will be appealed."

40 as the base for application of the "earning standard" except for situations in which the results would be inequitable. (This standard requires price adjustments whenever earnings on net worth before taxes for the industries or trades as a whole fall below those of the designated base period.)

Would Raise Prices

3. In the case of essential products at the low end of a producers' price scale (a) allow industrywide current cost plus at least a reasonable profit (preferably historical margins) to manufacturers on a list of items designated jointly by CPA and OPA; and (b) permit retailers to pass on in full any dollar increase resulting from these concessions, and percentage increases where margins are already tight.

4. In the case of other products, substitute for the present "product standard" the requirement that prices be raised at least to the point of insuring recovery of total costs on any product.

Churches Warned About Being Led Into "Holy War"

COLUMBUS, O., March 7 (AP)—A special postwar policy meeting of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America closed today on a keynote warning against churches being led into a "holy war" against either capitalism or communism.

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, council president and head of the New York area of the Methodist church, told the final session of the three-day gathering of 500 delegates from the twenty-five protestant churches composing the council:

"Men who would lead the church into 'holy war' are blind to the fact that the massing of force for the destruction of a movement may be planned as the force of idea, but such effort soon descends to force that is physical, and the castigation of words becomes the clash of arms."

Bishop Oxnam's plea came after three days which included a speech by President Truman urging a "moral and spiritual awakening" and dozens of sectional meetings seeking to achieve programs for the 25,000,000 communicants of the churches in the fields of world order, foreign relief, atomic energy, evangelism, and racial relations.

"If communism has brought more of equality to man," Bishop Oxnam said, "and has endeavered to abolish the esploitation of man by man, that must be weighed when we consider its denials of liberty, it materialism, its distatorship, its totalitarian economic order.

"If capitalism has preserved more of liberty and lifted the physical standards of men, that must be considered when we weigh its failure to remove the contradiction that lies in its ability to produce and its inability to distribute in a moral or rationally adequate manner x x x.

"We refuse to identify the Christian gospel with an economic order. x x x We shall be called Communists by unthinking capitalists and capitalists by dogmatic Communists. We are uninterested in these appellations. We seek to be Christians x x x."

No Children Were Born To Hitler and Eva, Von Below Declares

HERFORD, Germany, March 7 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's Luftwaffe adjutant, Col. Nicolaus Von Below, told British interrogators today that he was "certain" that the Fuehrer and Eva Braun had no children.

Von Below said Hitler had told him, the questioners reported, that it would be "impossible and wrong" for him to have descendants, because of "personal and public reasons."

Von Below said he saw Eva frequently between 1937 and 1945 and would have known had she been pregnant.

Treaty Is Reviewed

Then the note reviewed in detail the British-Russia-Iranian treaty of January 29, 1942, which pledged that all British and Soviet troops would be withdrawn from Iran six months after the end of the war.

It recalled that when Secretary Byrnes proposed last November that all foreign troops be withdrawn immediately from Iran, the Soviet government in its reply had cited the British-Russian-Iranian treaty as governing the period of occupation.

The United States note recalled that the American-British-Russian declaration in Tehran December 1, 1943 pledged all three governments to the maintenance of the "independence, sovereignty and territorial integrity of Iran."

"In the opinion of the government of the United States, the maintenance of troops in Iranian territory by any one of the three signatories to that declaration, without the consent and against the wishes of the government of Iran, is contrary to the assurances contained in that declaration," the note declared.

DETROIT, March 7 (AP)—The bitter General Motors strike that has idled 175,000 production workers and nearly 100 plants throughout the country dragged through its one hundred and seventh day today with across-the-table negotiations in adjournment, at least until tomorrow.

James F. Dewey, federal labor mediator, who for seven weeks had sought to bring the corporation and the CIO United Auto Workers into a wage and contract agreement, was in Washington reporting on the stalemate to Labor Secretary Lewis B. Schwellenbach. He was expected to return to Detroit tonight.

Await White House Reply

Meanwhile the Detroit city council awaited a reply from the White House on its appeal to President Truman to intervene in the stubborn labor-management battle.

In Washington it was said there were no indications that any immediate White House action was in prospect.

By union estimates the strike to date has cost General Motors employes $120,910,000 in lost wages. The management figured the wage loss at $137,174,000 basing its calculations on a 45.6 hour work week against the union's 40-hour week.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Aga Khan Will Get His Weight In Diamonds

Thousands of Moslems Pay Tribute to Their Spiritual Leader

BOMBAY, March 7. (AP)—The poor and rich alike among the faithful followers of the Aga Khan paid him prayerful tribute today in the opening of religious ceremonies to be climaxed Sunday when the 240-pound spiritual leader of the Ismaili Moslems will be presented with his weight in diamonds.

Tens of thousands of pilgrims from all over the Orient have flocked to this over-crowded city, assembling in camps, hotels, private homes—wherever they can find space—in a colorful showing of respect and love for the Aga Khan in observance of the diamond jubilee of his leadership.

In the stifling heat of one huge tent, the 68-year-old religious leader received gifts of jewels, precious metals, sweets and flowers from the faithful.

By ones and twos in rich garb and in poor the pilgrims made their offerings, then rose with their hands clasped in prayer to receive a nodded blessing.

His highness stripped off the coat of his European style suit and removed his necktie as he moved from corner to corner on the dais on which he sat.

On Sunday the Aga Khan will take a seat on a specially constructed balance scale and his followers will pile packaged diamonds on the other side until the scales balance evenly. It will be a symbolic ceremony, since the Aga Khan will receive cash equalling the value of the diamonds, which have been "rented" from a diamond syndicate. The Aga Khan will receive between four and five million dollars in the ceremony here and in its repetition in South Africa, all of which he has earmarked for benevolent purposes.

Firemen Fight Blaze In Pittsburgh For 19 1-2 Hours

PITTSBURGH, March 7. (AP)—A $200,000 downtown fire, one of the smokiest and most dramatic in the steel city's history, was extinguished by firemen this afternoon after nineteen and one-half-hour battle.

The fire swept the builders' supply building of Jones and Brown, Incorporated, and damaged a Pittsburgh and West Virginia railroad trestle and the historic Wabash building on Liberty avenue.

Feed Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

"...best food we ever used"

Paul Evans, owner of Lane's End Cocker Spaniels, Minneapolis, Minn., writes: "I have been using Gro-Pup for some time. It's the best food we have ever used. My dogs eat better, maintain better condition and coat. In short, Gro-Pup has been wholly satisfactory."

Most breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's GRO-PUP because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Kellogg's GRO-PUP is thrifty. And dogs love its hearty, meaty flavor.

Supervisory Employes

protection as the production workers under the Wagner act.

The case involved the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation Vesta-Shannopin coal division, Pittsburgh. The immediate case involved approximately 190 supervisory employes.

The board directed that elections be conducted within thirty days at the Jones and Laughlin mines among the supervisory employes on the question of whether they want to be represented by the United Clerical, Technical and Supervisory Union.

The decision by Chairman Paul M. Herzog and John M. Houston declared that the Wagner act "as written today, directs that we protect the right of employes to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, not our choosing."

Protects Fundamental Rights

"So long as the Congress of the United States imposes no limitation upon their choice, it is not for us to do so. The issue before the board is not whether supervisory employes shall join unions or seek to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, for they have already done so. It is whether the peaceful machinery of the act should be made available to protect their exercise of this fundamental right."

It added that "by closing the door" to this, "the board would simply turn the direction of the struggle for union recognition from the ballot box to the economic battlefield" and promote "strikes for union recognition."

In his dissent, Reilly said:

"In my judgment, the decision which we are making today so seriously distorts the principal objectives of the National Labor Relations act that unless it is speedily corrected by legislative or judicial action, it will have far-reaching repercussions upon industry and labor. x x x It is a clear holding that an affiliated union which has already organized the production workers of a given employer may use the processes of this act to draw into its organization the very persons hired to supervise them.

"In reaching this result, it is probable that we have seriously impaired the ability of the operators effectively to manage their mines. To me its impact upon the rank and file is equally catastrophic."

Will Hold Elections

Two elections among the supervisory employes will be held in thirty days at the Jones and Laughlin mines, under the board's order.

One election will be held among the supervisory workers of the production and maintenance employes. The other election will be held among supervisors of the clerical and technical employes.

Those eligible to vote in the first election will be fire bosses, mine crew foremen, assistant mine foremen, maintenance bosses and mechanical bosses.

Those eligible in the second election will be engineers, chief draftsmen, transit men, chief supplies clerk and assistant chief clerk.

Meanwhile Edward R. Burke, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association, told a reporter the NLRB decision was "very bad" and would be resisted by the industry.

A United Mine Workers spokesman said the board has given the supervisory workers "their inherent right of citizenship under the laws of the land."

At Pittsburgh, John A. McAlpine, president of the supervisory union, declared "peace in the coal industry now lies entirely up to the operators."

He did not amplify the statement and he said he had no further comment until he had read the ruling "in its entirety."

Byron H. Cannon, Jr., secretary of the Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators Association, said "the ruling most certainly will be appealed."

40 as the base for application of the "earning standard" except for situations in which the results would be inequitable. (This standard requires price adjustments whenever earnings on net worth before taxes for the industries or trades as a whole fall below those of the designated base period.)

Would Raise Prices

3. In the case of essential products at the low end of a producers' price scale (a) allow industrywide current cost plus at least a reasonable profit (preferably historical margins) to manufacturers on a list of items designated jointly by CPA and OPA; and (b) permit retailers to pass on in full any dollar increase resulting from these concessions, and percentage increases where margins are already tight.

4. In the case of other products, substitute for the present "product standard" the requirement that prices be raised at least to the point of insuring recovery of total costs on any product.

Churches Warned About Being Led Into "Holy War"

COLUMBUS, O., March 7 (AP)—A special postwar policy meeting of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America closed today on a keynote warning against churches being led into a "holy war" against either capitalism or communism.

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, council president and head of the New York area of the Methodist church, told the final session of the three-day gathering of 500 delegates from the twenty-five protestant churches composing the council:

"Men who would lead the church into 'holy war' are blind to the fact that the massing of force for the destruction of a movement may be planned as the force of idea, but such effort soon descends to force that is physical, and the castigation of words becomes the clash of arms."

Bishop Oxnam's plea came after three days which included a speech by President Truman urging a "moral and spiritual awakening" and dozens of sectional meetings seeking to achieve programs for the 25,000,000 communicants of the churches in the fields of world order, foreign relief, atomic energy, evangelism, and racial relations.

"If communism has brought more of equality to man," Bishop Oxnam said, "and has endeavered to abolish the esploitation of man by man, that must be weighed when we consider its denials of liberty, it materialism, its distatorship, its totalitarian economic order.

"If capitalism has preserved more of liberty and lifted the physical standards of men, that must be considered when we weigh its failure to remove the contradiction that lies in its ability to produce and its inability to distribute in a moral or rationally adequate manner x x x.

"We refuse to identify the Christian gospel with an economic order. x x x We shall be called Communists by unthinking capitalists and capitalists by dogmatic Communists. We are uninterested in these appellations. We seek to be Christians x x x."

No Children Were Born To Hitler and Eva, Von Below Declares

HERFORD, Germany, March 7 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's Luftwaffe adjutant, Col. Nicolaus Von Below, told British interrogators today that he was "certain" that the Fuehrer and Eva Braun had no children.

Von Below said Hitler had told him, the questioners reported, that it would be "impossible and wrong" for him to have descendants, because of "personal and public reasons."

remaining on Iranian territory in spite of the protests of the Iranian government.

Treaty Is Reviewed

Then the note reviewed in detail the British-Russia-Iranian treaty of January 29, 1942, which pledged that all British and Soviet troops would be withdrawn from Iran six months after the end of the war.

It recalled that when Secretary Byrnes proposed last November that all foreign troops be withdrawn immediately from Iran, the Soviet government in its reply had cited the British-Russian-Iranian treaty as governing the period of occupation.

The United States note recalled that the American-British-Russian declaration in Tehran December 1, 1943 pledged all three governments to the maintenance of the "independence, sovereignty and territorial integrity of Iran."

"In the opinion of the government of the United States, the maintenance of troops in Iranian territory by any one of the three signatories to that declaration, without the consent and against the wishes of the government of Iran, is contrary to the assurances contained in that declaration," the note declared.

Telephone Strike

A. T. and T. officials in New York said a survey showed that service was normal throughout the country by 9 a. m.

Edgar L. Warren, chief of the United States Conciliation Service, called the new wage rates a national pattern in his announcement of the settlement. The increases will date back to February 1, 1946, and the rates will remain in effect until March 6, 1947.

The resolution would authorize the labor committee to inquire into "the causes of current and threatened labor disputes, the economic and other factors, and governmental policies affecting such disputes."

DETROIT, March 7 (AP)—The bitter General Motors strike that has idled 175,000 production workers and nearly 100 plants throughout the country dragged through its one hundred and seventh day today with across-the-table negotiations in adjournment, at least until tomorrow.

James F. Dewey, federal labor mediator, who for seven weeks had sought to bring the corporation and the CIO United Auto Workers into a wage and contract agreement, was in Washington reporting on the stalemate to Labor Secretary Lewis B. Schwellenbach. He was expected to return to Detroit tonight.

Await White House Reply

Meanwhile the Detroit city council awaited a reply from the White House on its appeal to President Truman to intervene in the stubborn labor-management battle.

In Washington it was said there were no indications that any immediate White House action was in prospect.

By union estimates the strike to date has cost General Motors employes $120,910,000 in lost wages. The management figured the wage loss at $137,174,000 basing its calculations on a 45.6 hour work week against the union's 40-hour week.

Secretary Wallace Agrees Churchill's Speech "Shocking"

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace said tonight he was in "complete accord" with a statement by three United States Senators who termed Winston Churchill's speech at Fulton, Mo., "shocking."

In a joint statement yesterday, Senators Pepper (D-Fla), Kilgore (D-WVa) and Taylor (D-Idaho) said Churchill's appeal for close Anglo-American military collaboration "would cut the throat of the United Nations Organization" and "destroy the unity of the Big Three."

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

To My Fellow Citizens:

I wish to express my appreciation to the voters of the City of Cumberland for the support given to me in last Tuesday's Primary Election. Although I was one of the unsuccessful candidates for Mayor, it is my fervent and sincere hope that the ensuing administration will be an efficient, economical and progressive one for the City of Cumberland.

Sincerely

William E. McDonald

Cpl. J. J. Simmons, Riverton, Marries California Girl

By MYRTLE K. PARK

PETERSBURG, W. Va., March 7—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Luhn announced the marriage of Miss Netta Mae Burleigh Carner to Cpl. J. J. Simmons. The ceremony took place in the Luhn home on Palm avenue, San Francisco, Calif., December 20, 1945, and was performed by the Rev. L. D. Shepherd, of the Bethlehem Baptist church. The couple was attended by Cpl. Kenneth E. Mazereck and Miss Esther Crocker and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carner, Santa Maria, Calif., a brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

The bride was attired in a white satin gown with a sweetheart neckline, and a full length veil, and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. The matron of honor and bridesmaid were attired in pale blue formals and carried white satin covered Bibles.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Carner. She attended the Fresno Union academy for a number of years and is employed in Fresno.

Cpl. Simmons is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Simmons, Riverton, and is a graduate of Circleville high school, Circleville, W. Va., the army air forces' technical training command, Seymour Johnson field, N. C., and the army air forces' advanced mechanics school at Northrop Aircraft, Hawthorne, Calif. Before entering the service, he was employed by the Davison Chemical Corporation, Baltimore, Md.

Motor Law Violations Are Booked in Court

Motor vehicle violations were docketed in trial magistrates court against four offenders Wednesday.

Reverly W. Currence, a truck driver from Elkins, W. Va., was committed to the county jail in default of fines totalling $11.50 on charges of driving without a license and exceeding thirty miles an hour in a restricted zone on Route 40, at Narrows Park. A short time after being committed, the fine was paid and he was released. Currence was arrested by State Trooper Milton Hart.

Curtis O. Pratt, city, was fined $10 and costs for exceeding 50 miles an hour on Route 40. Trooper Hart made the arrest.

Arlie Ralph Nelson, of Baltimore Pike, was fined $1.75 for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car, and his son, Delbert J. Nelson, RFD 2, city, received a suspended fine for driving without a license.

Sgt. Thomas M. Hignutt arrested the father and son yesterday on the Christie Road.

A Term That Has Fallen In with Bad Company

ON VARIOUS OCCASIONS this newspaper has deprecated the wholesale use and abuse of the term "democracy." This has been done in face of the suspicion that objection rested upon purely partisan motives. Such, however, has not been the case—at least not altogether since there is no denying the fact that the term has been loosely employed by those seeking unfair political advantage from it.

Accordingly, "The News" is somewhat intrigued by a letter to the editor of the "New York Herald Tribune" on the subject written by Wilson S. Frederick, of Dunellen, N. J. Mr. Frederick, makes the point that the term "democracy" has lately come to mean many strange things, and he is not without justification in so stating.

"Referring to the matter of your editorial and other writers in the use, or rather the misuse, of that misnomer called 'democracy', as a form of government or as an approach to good or bad government," Mr. Frederick states, "the sane people of this country should retain the practice of calling what we now have here a 'republic.' We should continue our republican form of government as clearly cited in Article IV, Section 4 of the federal constitution of the United States of America, which section has not been canceled by a constitutional procedure.

"You have referred to 'China wins democracy.' We are informed that the Communists of China are more democratic than the government of Chiang Kai-shek.

"During the last decade the word democracy has been substituted for the word republic, but the word democracy has fallen in with bad company.

"It no longer means what it used to mean. Just a crazy way of life.

"We hear of democracy in Russia, but we are skeptical about just how free democratic freedom of speech or press are when the governmnt owns all the printing presses and newspapers.

"We get more suspicious when the Bible is being edited to conform to democratic principles.

"We are curious about how a democracy's election might be carried out with the name of only one candidate on the ballot.

"We question the seizure of people's property in the name of democracy.

"In more than a century and a half of our acquaintance with democracy we have never seen it in such queer garb or associated with such strange people.

"We have begun to question these strange new benefits which masquerade under the name of democracy.

"The peoples of the earth also are beginning to wonder about democracy.

"Their lives are regimented and their freedoms curtailed as much under this new-found democracy as they were under totalitarianism.

"Democracy is an awful state of life. The difficulty is as above stated: democracy is a misnomer and has been since it was advocated by Lycurgus in Sparta, 820 B. C., where and when it also failed and was thrown in the garbage can.

"The press should classify our nation as a republic with a representative republican form of government which has made the United States of America the hope of the world for more than one hundred and fifty years."

Mr. Frederick has stated the case interestingly and well. After all, this is a republic and not a democracy, and there should be wider and more intelligent appreciation of the fact.

How To Prevent And Relieve Colds

A guest editorial in the interest of better health by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association.

COLDS are almost as popular a topic of conversation as the weather. And, as with the weather, few people do anything about them. Many people, of course, have their favorite remedy for colds but even they find that colds keep coming back.

While people do not die just from colds, the common cold often leads to serious illnesses which may cause death. Not only that, colds are a nuisance and very disagreeable things to have. They can make a person miserable and lower his capacity for work and for the enjoyment of leisure.

Medical science does not claim to know all the answers about colds. It does know enough important facts about them, however, to help people avoid catching colds or, once they have them, to indicate how to care for them to prevent colds from leading to more serious illnesses.

It is important to remember that colds are catching. They do not develop spontaneously. We catch colds from someone who has one—or we give a cold to someone else. There would be fewer colds if people always remembered to cover their mouths when sneezing or coughing if they were careful not to drink from glasses or cups used by another person.

One way to avoid catching colds is to keep away from people who have them. We can't always do this so we should keep our bodies in such healthy condition that they are able to resist colds. This means getting sufficient rest, eating well-balanced meals, which include fresh fruits and vegetables, and seeing the doctor periodically, even if we think we are perfectly well.

If we do catch a cold we should not neglect it. A cold may lead to influenza, to pneumonia, to ear-trouble. It may so weaken the system that we become a ready prey to tuberculosis.

Children are particularly apt to develop ear trouble after a cold. When they have had colds they should be kept away from school until the worst is over. While at home, they should be kept quiet and should not be permitted to play with other children.

It is not always necessary for an adult to stay at home with a cold but it is often the wise thing to do. If the cold is accompanied by fever, both adults and children should by all means stay in bed.

Rest and diet are important factors in curing a cold. Weakened by the cold, the body needs extra rest and easily digested foods. Rich, heavy foods should be avoided. The diet should include plenty of liquids—water, fruit juices and clear soups.

Colds are undoubtedly a nuisance, but by taking care of ourselves when we have them, future trouble can be avoided.

The New Power Behind Truman

THE QUESTION has frequently been asked of late as to who are the men who have been advising President Truman and it has usually been coupled with the observation that whoever they are, whether the "Missouri crowd" or others, they have been poor advisers and have been giving the president some pretty rotten advice.

Richard Wilson, chief of the Washington bureau of "Look" magazine, vouchsafes that a new triumvirate has taken shape within Truman's official family, a fact of which political Washington is just now becoming aware. It comprises Robert E. Hannegan, the postmaster general and Democratic national chairman; Joseph Nunan, Jr., internal revenue collector, and Tom Clark, the attorney general. Close friends, Wilson says they comprise one of the strongest blocs of influence now behind the president.

Nothing mysterious and nothing sinister has yet appeared as a result of this combination, Wilson says, but he points significantly to the fact that the trio is composed of the man who rewards the faithful, the man who collects the taxes and the man who prosecutes the wicked. In politics, Wilson notes, such a team can come in very handy.

That is easily seen, but it is also apparent, if the trio is really bossing the show, that considerable damage can result otherwise from their machinations and perhaps already has.

Output Is Shifted By Pricing Policy

HOW MUCH RELIEF will be afforded industry by the new pricing policies of the administration at Washington has not become clear. Some segments of industry hold that the relief is more apparent than real.

Industry points out that the OPA, in considering requests for price relief, frequently confines its view to the over-all earnings position of an industry or company. If the over-all operation involves no less, the OPA views its price ceiling as a neat fit despite the fact that heavy losses may be suffered on individual products.

This is creating considerable confusion. Some manufacturers find it necessary to stop production of unprofitable products to concentrate on items on which they can break even or show a profit. This stoppage in some lines causes grief for other manufacturers who had depended upon buying the discontinued items for incorporation in their products.

Whether this pricing policy is to be changed has not been announced. Probably fair, effective pricing, affecting equally the thousands of industrial products produced in this country is impossible. Competition is the only governor yet found that is big enough for the job. Until competition is permitted to take over, there will be dislocations, delays and confusion.

President Truman's personal intervention in the deadlocked General Motors strike has been asked by the city of Detroit. Haven't the Detroit officials been reading the newspapers and noticing what has been resulting from the president's interference with the process of collective bargaining?

The Madrid radio denies that Generalissimo Franco aided the Axis in the war. In other words, black is white.

VOICELESS LANGUAGE

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

The language of Self is one that few ever know, or learn to use. We are greater communicants with ourselves than we realize. Many never realize this fact at all. Few people ever learn the importance of living with themselves, much less becoming acquainted with any self talk!

My happiest appreciation of beauty is when I listen to its voiceless language. The pansy is my favorite flower, simply because it seems to have more personality. Hardly two exactly alike in color, if ever. Each has such an infectuous smile, always cheerful, and almost dancing with glee.

I recently visited a wonderful flower show at the famous Fairchild Tropical Gardens, near Coconut Grove, Florida. Some of the varieties of flowers seemed almost unearthly, yet to me, each had its language! One beautiful orchid, with a creamy white background, unfurled a dramatic red as though Nature had strewn a carpet of velvet to its entrance, welcoming each visitor. I am sure that that orchid talked to me in its voiceless language!

And to know the structure and anatomy of a tree, is to feel its humanness and understand its voiceless language, for every tree seems to have one. But you have to be very understanding to enjoy the thrill of its voice—so silent, yet so plain. In co-operation with the cool message of the winds, each tree gives a bow—of gratitude, I believe, for attention and appreciation.

Then there are the clouds that one can watch for hours, without tiring. They tell, in their voiceless language, of worlds above and far beyond man's imagination. Silent castles in the blue. Streams of vapory ribbons that bind the sky. Rainbows, giving a concert in color. Raindrops, bringing messages from the clouds. The hearing ear can always detect a language from them.

A mere bark, and an honest look—that's all that some detect in man's best friend, the dog—but what a voiceless language he has! An understanding one, surely, if intelligence is a cue, for men have lived alone for years with no other visible communicant, and been both happy and inspired. And God's voiceless language is planted everywhere!

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Clique around MacArthur Jeopardizes Philippine Stability, Pearson States

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 7—In approximately six weeks, the Philippines hold their most important presidential election, and shortly afterward—July 4—the Filipino people cast off from the United States to become a full-fledged independent republic—the first in the war-troubled Pacific.

Millions of eyes in the Dutch East Indies, French Indo-China, and India are watching this historic experiment.

The building up of a free, independent Philippines in fifty years is something of which the American and Filipino people can be justly proud. Yet, to have independence succeed, there must be continued stability after July 4, and already there are unfortunate rumblings of internal trouble.

Unfortunately also, some of the men close to Gen. MacArthur appear to be a root cause of that trouble. Filipinos bluntly accuse them of using their military prestige and position during the war to further their economic position after the war.

It boils down to the age-old battle of foreign business interests pitted against native farmers and labor, part of the same issue which has caused turmoil in French Indo-China, Malaya, and the Dutch East Indies.

Unfortunately, Gen. MacArthur, though a military hero to the Philippine people, was not an economic hero. In fact, the reverse. He made the mistake of surrounding himself with a staff which has somewhat dimmed his military lustre and who have helped the Filipino people think more about a full rice bowl than medals. Among these men are:

Business-Military Clique

Gen. Courtney Whitney—A Manila lawyer, who happened to be in the United States at the time of Pearl Harbor, got commissioned, and, upon arrival in Australia, was placed in charge of the Philippine section of GHQ. Except for military strategy, Whitney, a close friend of MacArthur, virtually ran the Philippines.

Mike Elizalde—Former Philippine commissioner in the USA, who owns thousands of acres of sugar plantations, one entire block of Manila warehouses, and who plays close to Gen. Manuel Roxas, who is considered MacArthur's personal candidate for president.

Col. Andres Soriano—Wealthiest man in the Philippines, Soriano was a Spanish citizen up until one day after Pearl Harbor. He was also Franco's honorary consul in Manila, collected large sums of money for Franco during the Spanish civil war, and was given the Grand Medal of Naval Merit by Franco as a reward. Despite this, MacArthur made Soriano a colonel on his staff.

Soriano owns gold mines, lumber companies, and two large breweries in the Philippines, together with two others in Kansas City and Milwaukee. It was to one of these—the San Miguel brewery—that the War department flew twenty tons of beer-bottle caps in three special planes last December. No one not close to MacArthur could have secured the priorities to fly twenty tons of beer-bottle caps across the Pacific. War department officials freely state.

Gen. MacArthur is also reported to have heavy investments in the Philippines, and to be associated with Soriano and Gen. Whitney in the Consolidated gold mine and the Antamok mine. Unfortunately, this has added to Filipino economic unrest and the feeling that the war was won partly to retrieve the vested interest of the MacArthur military clique.

MacArthur's Gold Mine

Lt. Col. Jesus Villamor, greatest Filipino war hero, now retiring from the United States Army, goes so far as to state that on at least one occasion army equipment was used in the interest of MacArthur's investments.

In November 1940, Col. Villamor states, he was ordered to fly over the Mother Lode gold mine in Mindanao and make a mosaic air photo of this area.

"We were preparing to map various areas in the Philippines at the time," Col. Villamor states, "but orders came to map the Mindanao Mother Lode mine first. I left with two planes immediately and carried out the mission myself, though hindered by weather. The orders came from Col. Backes, then chief of the Philippine Air Corps, who told me that he, in turn, had received his orders from the top. I was informed that the gold mining company would pay for the gasoline and expenses of the flight. It was generally accepted in Manila that Gen. MacArthur had a financial interest in the mine."

Col. Villamor is the man whom MacArthur sent into the Philippines on January 14, 1943, to organize a spy network and help coordinate the work of the famous guerrillas who did so much to upset the Japanese occupation and who later contributed to the success of American landings.

Villamor was able to operate in the Philippines for eleven months before American forces landed, and the guerrilla forces he organized were described by Gen. George B. Decker, chief of staff of the Sixth army, as "one of the best fighting units I have ever known." For this service, Villamor was given the United States Distinguished Service Cross, the Legion of Merit, the Philippine Medal of Honor, Distinguished Service Star, and almost more ribbons than he can wear.

American Property Protected

Men like Col. Villamor, however, are among those resentful at the way the Filipino people are being used by the military-business clique which rode the tides of war back into the Philippines. As head of the Allied Intelligence Bureau, Villamor received all the radioed instructions from Gen. Courtney Whitney, the Manila businessman who acted for MacArthur.

"In some cases," says Col. Villamor, "Gen. Whitney's policy appeared to play off one guerrilla leader against another. Whitney also was interested in protecting American property even though it was of value to the Japs.

"For instance, the Japs were operating the Insular Lumber Company on Negros island. This is the biggest lumber mill in the Philippines and was indispensable to the Japs. Guerrillas got in touch with the Filipino enigneers employed by the company and had them sabotage the vital machinery.

"However, when I reported this back to Gen. Whitney, I got instructions from him that there must be no 'further sabotage of private property without the express order of this headquarters'."

Today, in Washington, the same clique of American businessmen who surrounded MacArthur are around High Commissioner Paul McNutt, led by Chic Parsons, who runs a big stevedoring firm in Manila. This group, rather than the Filipino people, will profit most from the $330,000,000 property damage bill being passed by Congress.

Of this $330,000,000, a handful of 5,000 Americans will get about one half.

Guerrillas Get Restless

Meanwhile, the guerrillas Hukbalahal or people's anti-Japanese army claim that the great majority of the Filipino people will get nothing. They are up in arms against the big land-owners and the business-military group, claiming that Gen. Roxas, candidate for president, is merely their tool. President Osmena, though never a collaborationist, they accuse also of playing in with American big business. There is little choice between them.

Meanwhile, there has been rioting and burning of sugarcane fields, and one reason for keeping the huge American army in the friendly Philippines is allegedly to be the prevention of domestic trouble.

When Col. Villamor came out of the Philippines after 300 days of tough guerrilla fighting, he wrote a report to Gen. MacArthur, which concluded:

"Into those 300 days have been crowded the sweetest and the most bitter, the humblest and the proudest, the brightest and the darkest moments of my life. During those days I have seen my people, weary, sick and battered, pick themselves up from the dusty ruins of defeat and rise again to lift high the torch of liberty in our country."

Those words represent the sentiment of thousands of other prominent Filipinos who have sacrificed for peace and independence and who do not want to see a clique of Spanish-American military businessmen turn their islands into another Dutch East Indies.

OPENS LOAN FIGHT

WARNING CONGRESS that failure to grant required credit to Great Britain might result in economic disaster, Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson appears before the Senate Banking committee to open the administration's fight for the long-proposed loan.

Policy Pursued On Franco Was Set by Wilson

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 7. — The demand of the United States, Great Britain and France that Gen. Franco give up his dictatorship in Spain has aroused some discussion here as to whether sovereign nations may interfere in the affairs of other sovereign nations and tell them who shall rule.

But an examination of the precedents shows that the three governments were following a policy set up by President Woodrow Wilson just about thirty-three years ago. The incident is important because some day soon Col. Peron, if elected in Argentina, may be asked to go, too.

Many Americans who read the newspapers today were not yet born when President Wilson told the world that Victoriano Huerta, who was president of Mexico in 1913, not only must get out of office but must consent to "bind himself not to be a candidate for election as president of the republic" in the election which was subsequently to be held.

The slogan "Huerta Must Go" was heard often in those days in Washington, but the dictator below the Rio Grande refused to go and managed to involve himself in further difficulties with the United States which later led to the seizure of Vera Cruz by our Navy. Late in November 1913, the American government sent to the various legations and embassies in Washington a note which read in part as follows:

American Peace Menaced

"Usurpations like that of Gen. Huerta menaced the peace and development of America as nothing else could. . .

"It is the purpose of the United States therefore to discredit and defeat such usurpations whenever they occur. The present policy of the government of the United States is to isolate Gen. Huerta entirely; to cut him off from foreign sympathy and aid and from domestic credit, whether moral or material, and force him out. . ."

In another note which was sent to the Mexican government through Mr. Wilson's special ambassador, also in 1913, the United States government explained its action in demanding the ouster of Huerta by the following statement:

"The present situation in Mexico is incompatible with the fulfillment of international obligations on the part of Mexico, with the civilized develpoment of Mexico herself, and with the maintenance of tolerable political and economic conditions in Central America."

Assistance Offered

The Washington government offered to play a part in the election and in the setting up of an interim government, just as has been offered this week to Spain. It will be noted that the note sent to Spain uses virtually the same grounds for international intervention. It reads in part:

"So long as General Franco continues in control of Spain, the Spanish people cannot anticipate full and cordial association with those nations of the world which have, by common effort, brought defeat to German nazism and Italian fascism, which aided the present Spanish regime in its rise to power and after which the regime was patterned."

The doctrine is expressed in much the same way as the policy proposed by the Uruguayan government recently, which made the point that internal abuses created international problems and lead to international friction. When this occurs, it is argued, there is justification for ridding a people of their dictator and of the conditions which can provoke international trouble.

Parallel in Argentina

A parallel situation exists today in Argentina. The Nazi influence has kept Peron in power and is trying to elect him. When the results of the balloting are officially known, it may be that foreign governments will be asked to join in notifying Argentina that her new ruler cannot be recognized and that the Argentine people must find some other solution. It is most unfortunate that the Washington government issued its recent "Blue Book" alone and did not take joint action with other governments—a method now being utilized in the case of Spain.

Once the election results are revealed, the time will be opportune for joint consulations. It seems improbable that there can be the "full and cordial association" with other countries as long as Col. Peron—an ally and tool of nazism—remains in power. The note to Franco will doubtless be the precedent for the same kind of demand on Argentina, which country cannot be permitted to be used as a springboard or base for future Nazi operations in this hemisphere.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

The city of Los Angeles doesn't know what to do with 500 air-raid sirens left over from the war. One suggestion: They can leave them all in the front yard of the milkman who delivers in our neighborhood.

They never used those air-raid sirens even during the war. Any time there was an alert, they just called up Professor Colonna and told him to start singing.

Can you imagine that! They can't even give them away. But after all, why should anyone want sirens... now that Crosby is back on the air!

The city has offered the sirens to Spike Jones's musicians, but Spike said he wasn't interested in the softer type of music.

I had a peculiar experience with a siren once. Walking along, I bumped into one. What wailing! What I didn't like about it . . . it was me she started whaling.

The noise of a siren always did confuse me. Every time I heard that weird shrieking, I never did know whether it was an air-raid, a fire tuck, an ambulanc, or Sinatra's bobby-soxers going into action.

One enterprising tavern operator put a coil slot in one siren and doubled his money. Somebody always puts a nickel in the siren every time somebody else puts a nickel in the jukebox to play "Chickery Chick."

Value Is Important In Present Buying, R. W. Babson Says

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Fla., March 7.—I would be the last to decry the value of bank deposits. They are very useful and always will be. It should be remembered, however, that money is of no value in itself but is good only as a medium of exchange.

Money is like stocks. In order to sell stocks a buyer must be found and if there are no buyers at the price you paid, then you must sell the stocks at a loss.

In the same way, in order to "sell" money,—that is—exchange it for stocks, commodities or land, you may have to sell it at a loss, or discount, to get what you want. When prices go up, the value of your savings in the bank goes down.

Value of Bank Deposits

Always keep enough money in the bank to pay your taxes for a few years; also enough to buy food in an emergency. There are some other bills which you must pay in cash whether or not you have any income. Hence, I believe in always having a fair bank account. This especially applies to us "oldsters". The point I want readers to understand is that money and bank deposits are no good in themselves. They are of use only when there are goods, houses and land for sale.

This means that when there is a scarcity of merchandise and when money is cheap it is a good time to store up money. But when goods are cheap and money is scarce, then we should store up goods. Today we have a half-way situation. Better now try to buy both real things for future use and keep a fair bank account. If inflation comes in full force, our bank accounts will not buy much.

Selective Buying

This surely is a time for selective buying. When buying bonds today, better buy certain government issues rather than low-yielding corporation bonds. When buying stocks, better buy into the merchandise or food chains rather than a large old house. When buying a home, get a small modern house rather than a large old house. It also is advisable to look more to the land than to the house. Well-located fertile land should gradually increase in value; but any house bought today will decrease in value.

I would rather have money in the bank than poor land upon which I must spend money for fertilizer, water and accessibility. But I would rather have good land than money in the bank if the land is fertile and has a flowing well or natural irrigation. This means that it is a mistake to get "hipped" on money, bonds, stocks, land, etc. All of these are never all good or all bad. Most people lose their money by putting all their eggs in one basket.

Consider Lasting Qualities

God gave us brains, eyes to see with, ears to hear with, and tongues with which to ask questions. We should use all of these when swapping money for food, clothing, shelter or anything else; or when swapping these real things for money which we deposit in a bank. Everything probably has its use in moderation; but we should not worship or become slaves to any of these things. We must be very careful not to give good money for any habit-forming drink or drug.

When spending or investing money we should consider the lasting qualities of what we buy. The value of money spent upon unnecessary drink, food or smokes has very little duration. This means that such are very poor investments. The same comment applies to many forms of entertainment. The value of money spent for clothes lasts a few months; the value of money spent upon an automobile lasts a few years, but when money is spent for well-located fertile land this value continues as long as you are able to pay the taxes! Money spent on an education, which makes you an expert in some profession, art or trade, lasts during your entire lifetime.

Investments and Employment

In conclusion, let me say that I wish labor leaders would give more thought to how their membership spends an invests money. Increased wages do workers no good unless spent upon worth-while things. Also some of these wages should be invested so as to provide work for other men. It requires an investment of about $5,000 to get the space, machinery and working capital necessary to employ one man. Hence, the investment of money is an important factor in preventing unemployment. Our jobs are safe only as other men are uflly employed. Hence, let us always invest wisely as well as save and spend wisely.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

A Term That Has Fallen In with Bad Company

ON VARIOUS OCCASIONS this newspaper has deprecated the wholesale use and abuse of the term "democracy." This has been done in face of the suspicion that objection rested upon purely partisan motives. Such, however, has not been the case—at least not altogether since there is no denying the fact that the term has been loosely employed by those seeking unfair political advantage from it.

Accordingly, "The News" is somewhat intrigued by a letter to the editor of the "New York Herald Tribune" on the subject written by Wilson S. Frederick, of Dunellen, N. J. Mr. Frederick, makes the point that the term "democracy" has lately come to mean many strange things, and he is not without justification in so stating.

"Referring to the matter of your editorial and other writers in the use, or rather the misuse, of that misnomer called 'democracy', as a form of government or as an approach to good or bad government," Mr. Frederick states, "the sane people of this country should retain the practice of calling what we now have here a 'republic.' We should continue our republican form of government as clearly cited in Article IV, Section 4 of the federal constitution of the United States of America, which section has not been canceled by a constitutional procedure.

"You have referred to 'China wins democracy.' We are informed that the Communists of China are more democratic than the government of Chiang Kai-shek.

"During the last decade the word democracy has been substituted for the word republic, but the word democracy has fallen in with bad company.

"It no longer means what it used to mean. Just a crazy way of life.

"We hear of democracy in Russia, but we are skeptical about just how free democratic freedom of speech or press are when the governmnt owns all the printing presses and newspapers.

"We get more suspicious when the Bible is being edited to conform to democratic principles.

"We are curious about how a democracy's election might be carried out with the name of only one candidate on the ballot.

"We question the seizure of people's property in the name of democracy.

"In more than a century and a half of our acquaintance with democracy we have never seen it in such queer garb or associated with such strange people.

"We have begun to question these strange new benefits which masquerade under the name of democracy.

"The peoples of the earth also are beginning to wonder about democracy.

"Their lives are regimented and their freedoms curtailed as much under this new-found democracy as they were under totalitarianism.

"Democracy is an awful state of life. The difficulty is as above stated: democracy is a misnomer and has been since it was advocated by Lycurgus in Sparta, 820 B. C., where and when it also failed and was thrown in the garbage can.

"The press should classify our nation as a republic with a representative republican form of government which has made the United States of America the hope of the world for more than one hundred and fifty years."

Mr. Frederick has stated the case interestingly and well. After all, this is a republic and not a democracy, and there should be wider and more intelligent appreciation of the fact.

How To Prevent And Relieve Colds

A guest editorial in the interest of better health by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association.

COLDS are almost as popular a topic of conversation as the weather. And, as with the weather, few people do anything about them. Many people, of course, have their favorite remedy for colds but even they find that colds keep coming back.

While people do not die just from colds, the common cold often leads to serious illnesses which may cause death. Not only that, colds are a nuisance and very disagreeable things to have. They can make a person miserable and lower his capacity for work and for the enjoyment of leisure.

Medical science does not claim to know all the answers about colds. It does know enough important facts about them, however, to help people avoid catching colds or, once they have them, to indicate how to care for them to prevent colds from leading to more serious illnesses.

It is important to remember that colds are catching. They do not develop spontaneously. We catch colds from someone who has one—or we give a cold to someone else. There would be fewer colds if people always remembered to cover their mouths when sneezing or coughing. If they were careful not to drink from glasses or cups used by another person.

One way to avoid catching colds is to keep away from people who have them. We can't always do this, so we should keep our bodies in such healthy condition that they are able to resist colds. This means getting sufficient rest, eating well-balanced meals, which include fresh fruits and vegetables, and seeing the doctor periodically, even if we think we are perfectly well.

If we do catch a cold we should not neglect it. A cold may lead to influenza, to pneumonia, to eartrouble. It may so weaken the system that we become a ready prey to tuberculosis.

Children are particularly apt to develop ear trouble after a cold. When they have had colds they should be kept away from school until the worst is over. While at home, they should be kept quiet and should not be permitted to play with other children.

It is not always necessary for an adult to stay at home with a cold but it is often the wise thing to do. If the cold is accompanied by fever, both adults and children should by all means stay in bed.

Rest and diet are important factors in curing a cold. Weakened by the cold, the body needs extra rest and easily digested foods. Rich, heavy foods should be avoided. The diet should include plenty of liquids—water, fruit juices and clear soups.

Colds are undoubtedly a nuisance, but by taking care of ourselves when we have them, future trouble can be avoided.

The New Power Behind Truman

THE QUESTION has frequently been asked of late as to who are the men who have been advising President Truman and it has usually been coupled with the observation that whoever they are, whether the "Missouri crowd" or others, they have been poor advisers and have been giving the president some pretty rotten advice.

Richard Wilson, chief of the Washington bureau of "Look" magazine, vouchsafes that a new triumvirate has taken shape within Truman's official family, a fact of which political Washington is just now becoming aware. It comprises Robert E. Hannegan, the postmaster general and Democratic national chairman; Joseph Nunan, Jr., internal revenue collector, and Tom Clark, the attorney general. Close friends, Wilson says they comprise one of the strongest blocs of influence now behind the president.

Nothing mysterious and nothing sinister has yet appeared as a result of this combination, Wilson says, but he points significantly to the fact that the trio is composed of the man who rewards the faithful, the man who collects the taxes and the man who prosecutes the wicked. In politics, Wilson notes, such a team can come in very handy.

That is easily seen, but it is also apparent, if the trio is really bossing the show, that considerable damage can result otherwise from their machinations and perhaps already has.

Output Is Shifted By Pricing Policy

HOW MUCH RELIEF will be afforded industry by the new pricing policies of the administration at Washington has not become clear. Some segments of industry hold that the relief is more apparent than real.

Industry points out that the OPA, in considering requests for price relief, frequently confines its view to the over-all earnings position of an industry or company. If the over-all operation involves no less, the OPA views its price ceiling as a neat fit despite the fact that heavy losses may be suffered on individual products.

This is creating considerable confusion. Some manufacturers find it necessary to stop production of unprofitable products to concentrate on items on which they can break even or show a profit. This stoppage in some lines causes grief for other manufacturers who had depended upon buying the discontinued items for incorporation in their products.

Whether this pricing policy is to be changed has not been announced. Probably fair, effective pricing, affecting equally the thousands of industrial products produced in this country is impossible. Competition is the only governor yet found that is big enough for the job. Until competition is permitted to take over, there will be dislocations, delays and confusion.

President Truman's personal intervention in the deadlocked General Motors strike has been asked by the city of Detroit. Haven't the Detroit officials been reading the newspapers and noticing what has been resulting from the president's interference with the process of collective bargaining?

The Madrid radio denies that Generalissimo Franco aided the Axis in the war. In other words, black is white.

VOICELESS LANGUAGE

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

The language of Self is one that few ever know, or learn to use. We are greater communicants with ourselves than we realize. Many never realize this fact at all. Few people ever learn the importance of living with themselves, much less becoming acquainted with any self talk!

My happiest appreciation of beauty is when I listen to its voiceless language. The pansy is my favorite flower, simply because it seems to have more personality. Hardly two exactly alike in color, if ever. Each has such an infectuous smile, always cheerful, and almost dancing with glee.

I recently visited a wonderful flower show at the famous Fairchild Tropical Gardens, near Coconut Grove, Florida. Some of the varieties of flowers seemed almost unearthy, yet to me, each had its language! One beautiful orchid, with a creamy white background, unfurled a dramatic red as though Nature had strewn a carpet of velvet to its entrance, welcoming each visitor. I am sure that that orchid talked to me in its voiceless language!

And to know the structure and anatomy of a tree, is to feel its humanness and understand its voiceless language, for every tree seems to have one. But you have to be very understanding to enjoy the thrill of its voice—so silent, yet so plain. In co-operation with the cool message of the winds, each tree gives a bow—of gratitude, I believe, for attention and appreciation.

Then there are the clouds that one can watch for hours, without tiring. They tell, in their voiceless language, of worlds above and far beyond man's imagination. Silent castles in the blue. Streams of vapory ribbons that bind the sky. Rainbows, giving a concert in color. Raindrops, bringing messages from the clouds. The hearing ear can always detect a language from them.

A mere bark, and an honest look—that's all that some detect in man's best friend, the dog—but what a voiceless language he has! An understanding one, surely, if intelligence is a cue, for men have lived alone for years with no other visible communicant, and been both happy and inspired. And God's voiceless language is planted everywhere!

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Clique around MacArthur Jeopardizes Philippine Stability, Pearson States

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 7—In approximately six weeks, the Philippines hold their most important presidential election, and shortly afterward—July 4—the Filipino people cast off from the United States to become a full-fledged independent republic—the first in the war-troubled Pacific.

Millions of eyes in the Dutch East Indies, French Indo-China, and India are watching this historic experiment.

The building up of a free, independent Philippines in fifty years is something of which the American and Filipino people can be justly proud. Yet, to have independence succeed, there must be continued stability after July 4, and already there are unfortunate rumblings of internal trouble.

Unfortunately also, some of the men close to Gen. MacArthur appear to be a root cause of that trouble. Filipinos bluntly accuse them of using their military prestige and position during the war to further their economic position after the war.

It boils down to the age-old battle of foreign business interests pitted against native farmers and labor, part of the same issue which has caused turmoil in French Indo-China, Malaya, and the Dutch East Indies.

Unfortunately, Gen. MacArthur, though a military hero to the Philippine people, was not an economic hero. In fact, the reverse. He made the mistake of surrounding himself with a staff which has somewhat dimmed his military lustre and who have helped the Filipino people think more about a full rice bowl than medals. Among these men are:

Business-Military Clique

Gen. Courtney Whitney—A Manila lawyer, who happened to be in the United States at the time of Pearl Harbor, got commissioned, and, upon arrival in Australia, was placed in charge of the Philippine section of GHQ. Except for military strategy, Whitney, a close friend of MacArthur, virtually ran the Philippines.

Mike Elizalde—Former Philippine commissioner in the USA, who owns thousands of acres of sugar plantations, one entire block of Manila warehouses, and who plays close to Gen. Manuel Roxas, who is considered MacArthur's personal candidate for president.

Col. Andres Soriano—Wealthiest man in the Philippines, Soriano was a Spanish citizen up until one day after Pearl Harbor. He was also Franco's honorary consul in Manila, collected large sums of money for Franco during the Spanish civil war, and was given the Grand Medal of Naval Merit by Franco as a reward. Despite this, MacArthur made Soriano a colonel on his staff.

Soriano owns gold mines, lumber companies, and two large breweries in the Philippines, together with two others in Kansas City and Milwaukee. It was to one of these—the San Miguel brewery—that the War department flew twenty tons of beer-bottle caps in three special planes last December. No one not close to MacArthur could have secured the priorities to fly twenty tons of beer-bottle caps across the Pacific, War department officials freely state.

Gen. MacArthur is also reported to have heavy investments in the Philippines, and to be associated with Soriano and Gen. Whitney in the Consolidated gold mine and the Antamok mine. Unfortunately, this has added to Filipino economic unrest and the feeling that the war was won partly to retrieve the vested interest of the MacArthur military clique.

MacArthur's Gold Mine

Lt. Col. Jesus Villamor, greatest Filipino war hero, now retiring from the United States Army, goes so far as to state that on at least one occasion army equipment was used in the interest of MacArthur's investments.

In November 1940, Col. Villamor states, he was ordered to fly over the Mother Lode gold mine in Mindanao and make a mosaic air photo of this area.

"We were preparing to map various areas in the Philippines at the time," Col. Villamor states, "but orders came to map the Mindanao Mother Lode mine first. I left with two planes immediately and carried out the mission myself, though hindered by weather. The orders came from Col. Backes, then chief of the Philippine Air Corps, who told me that he, in turn, had received his orders from the top. I was informed that the gold mining company would pay for the gasoline and expenses of the flight. It was generally accepted in Manila that Gen. MacArthur had a financial interest in the mine."

Col. Villamor is the man whom MacArthur sent into the Philippines on January 14, 1943, to organize a spy network and help coordinate the work of the famous guerrillas who did so much to upset the Japanese occupation and who later contributed to the success of American landings.

Villamor was able to operate in the Philippines for eleven months before American forces landed, and the guerrilla forces he organized were described by Gen. George B. Decker, chief of staff of the Sixth army, as "one of the best fighting units I have ever known." For this service, Villamor was given the United States Distinguished Service Cross, the Legion of Merit, the Philippine Medal of Honor, Distinguished Service Star, and almost more ribbons than he can wear.

American Property Protected

Men like Col. Villamor, however, are among those resentful at the way the Filipino people are being used by the military-business clique which rode the tides of war back into the Philippines. As head of the Allied Intelligence Bureau, Villamor received all the radioed instructions from Gen. Courtney Whitney, the Manila businessman who acted for MacArthur.

"In some cases," says Col. Villamor, "Gen. Whitney's policy appeared to play off one guerrilla leader against another. Whitney also was interested in protecting American property even though it was of value to the Japs.

"For instance, the Japs were operating the Insular Lumber Company on Negros island. This is the biggest lumber mill in the Philippines and was indispensable to the Japs. Guerrillas got in touch with the Filipino engineers employed by the company and had them sabotage the vital machinery.

"However, when I reported this back to Gen. Whitney, I got instructions from him that there must be no 'further sabotage of private property without the express order of this headquarters'."

Today, in Washington, the same clique of American businessmen who surrounded MacArthur are around High Commissioner Paul McNutt, led by Chic Parsons, who runs a big stevedoring firm in Manila. This group, rather than the Filipino people, will profit most from the $330,000,000 property damage bill being passed by Congress.

Of this $330,000,000, a handful of 5,000 Americans will get about one half.

Guerrillas Get Restless

Meanwhile, the guerrillas Hukbalahai or people's anti-Japanese army claim that the great majority of the Filipino people will get nothing. They are up in arms against the big land-owners and the business-military group, claiming that Gen. Roxas, candidate for president, is merely their tool. President Osmena, though never a collaborationist, they accuse also of playing in with American big business. There is little choice between them.

Meanwhile, there has been rioting and burning of sugarcane fields, and one reason for keeping the huge American army in the friendly Philippines is allegedly to be the prevention of domestic trouble.

When Col. Villamor came out of the Philippines after 300 days of tough guerrilla fighting, he wrote a report to Gen. MacArthur, which concluded:

"Into those 300 days have been crowded the sweetest and the most bitter, the humblest and the proudest, the brightest and the darkest moments of my life. During those days I have seen my people, weary, sick and battered, pick themselves up from the dusty ruins of defeat and rise again to lift high the torch of liberty in our country."

Those words represent the sentiment of thousands of other prominent Filipinos who have sacrificed for peace and independence and who do not want to see a clique of Spanish-American military businessmen turn their islands into another Dutch East Indies.

OPENS LOAN FIGHT

WARNING CONGRESS that failure to grant required credit to Great Britain might result in economic disaster, Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson appears before the Senate Banking committee to open the administration's fight for the long-proposed loan.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

The city of Los Angeles doesn't know what to do with 500 air-raid sirens left over from the war. One suggestion: They can leave them all in the front yard of the milkman who delivers in our neighborhood.

They never used those air-raid sirens even during the war. Any time there was an alert, they just called up Professor Colonna and tolk him to start singing.

Can you imagine that! They can't even give them away. But after all, why should anyone want sirens... now that Crosby is back on the air!

The city has offered the sirens to Spike Jones's musicians, but Spike said he wasn't interested in the softer type of music.

I had a peculiar experience with a siren once. Walking along, I bumped into one. What wailing! What I didn't like about it . . . it was me she started whaling.

The noise of a siren always did confuse me. Every time I heard that weird shrieking, I never did know whether it was an air-raid, a fire tuck, an ambulanc, or Sinatra's bobby-soxers going into action.

One enterprising tavern operator put a coil slot in one siren and doubled his money. Somebody always puts a nickel in the siren every time somebody else puts a nickel in the jukebox to play "Chickery Chick."

Policy Pursued On Franco Was Set by Wilson

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 7. — The demand of the United States, Great Britain and France that Gen. Franco give up his dictatorship in Spain has aroused some discussion here as to whether sovereign nations may interfere in the affairs of other sovereign nations and tell them who shall rule.

But an examination of the precedents shows that the three governments were following a policy set up by President Woodrow Wilson just about thirty-three years ago. The incident is important because some day soon Col. Peron, if elected in Argentina, may be asked to go, too.

Many Americans who read the newspapers today were not yet born when President Wilson told the world that Victoriano Huerta, who was president of Mexico in 1913, not only must get out of office but must consent to "bind himself not to be a candidate for election as president of the republic" in the election which was subsequently to be held.

The slogan "Huerta Must Go" was heard often in those days in Washington, but the dictator below the Rio Grande refused to go and managed to involve himself in further difficulties with the United States which later led to the seizure of Vera Cruz by our Navy. Late in November 1913, the American government sent to the various legations and embassies in Washington a note which read in part as follows:

American Peace Menaced

"Usurpations like that of Gen. Huerta menaced the peace and development of America as nothing else could. . .

"It is the purpose of the United States therefore to discredit and defeat such usurpations whenever they occur. The present policy of the government of the United States is to isolate Gen. Huerta entirely; to cut him off from foreign sympathy and aid and from domestic credit, whether moral or material, and force him out. . ."

In another note which was sent to the Mexican government through Mr. Wilson's special ambassador, also in 1913, the United States government explained its action in demanding the ouster of Huerta by the following statement:

"The present situation in Mexico is incompatible with the fulfillment of international obligations on the part of Mexico, with the civilized develpoment of Mexico herself, and with the maintenance of tolerable political and economic conditions in Central America."

Assistance Offered

The Washington government offered to play a part in the election and in the setting up of an interim government, just as has been offered this week to Spain. It will be noted that the note sent to Spain uses virtually the same grounds for international intervention. It reads in part:

"So long as General Franco continues in control of Spain, the Spanish people cannot anticipate full and cordial association with those nations of the world which have, by common effort, brought defeat to German nazism and Italian fascism, which aided the present Spanish regime in its rise to power and after which the regime was patterned."

The doctrine is expressed in much the same way as the policy proposed by the Uruguayan government recently, which made the point that internal abuses created international problems and lead to international friction. When this occurs, it is argued, there is justification for ridding a people of their dictator and of the conditions which can provoke international trouble.

Parallel in Argentina

A parallel situation exists today in Argentina. The Nazi influence has kept Peron in power and is trying to elect him. When the results of the balloting are officially known, it may be that foreign governments will be asked to join in notifying Argentina that her new ruler cannot be recognized and that the Argentine people must find some other solution. It is most unfortunate that the Washington government issued its recent "Blue Book" alone and did not take joint action with other governments—a method now being utilized in the case of Spain.

Once the election results are revealed, the time will be opportune for joint consulations. It seems improbable that there can be the "full and cordial association" with other countries as long as Col. Peron—an ally and tool of nazism—remains in power. The note to Franco will doubtless be the precedent for the same kind of demand on Argentina, which country cannot be permitted to be used as a springboard or base for future Nazi operations in this hemisphere.

Value Is Important In Present Buying, R. W. Babson Says

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Fla., March 7.—I would be the last to decry the value of bank deposits. They are very useful and always will be. It should be remembered, however, that money is of no value in itself but is good only as a medium of exchange.

Money is like stocks. In order to sell stocks a buyer must be found and if there are no buyers at the price you paid, then you must sell the stocks at a loss.

In the same way, in order to "sell" money,—that is—exchange it for stocks, commodities or land, you may have to sell it at a loss, or discount, to get what you want. When prices go up, the value of your savings in the bank goes down.

Value of Bank Deposits

Always keep enough money in the bank to pay your taxes for a few years; also enough to buy food in an emergency. There are some other bills which you must pay in cash whether or not you have any income. Hence, I believe in always having a fair bank account. This especially applies to us "oldsters". The point I want readers to understand is that money and bank deposits are no good in themselves. They are of use only when there are goods, houses and land for sale.

This means that when there is a scarcity of merchandise and when money is cheap it is a good time to store up money. But when goods are cheap and money is scarce, then we should store up goods. Today we have a half-way situation. Better now try to buy both real things for future use and keep a fair bank account. If inflation comes in full force, our bank accounts will not buy much.

Selective Buying

This surely is a time for selective buying. When buying bonds today, better buy certain government issues rather than low-yielding corporation bonds. When buying stocks, better buy into the merchandise or food chains rather than a large old house. When buying a home, get a small modern house rather than a large old house. It also is advisable to look more to the land than to the house. Well-located fertile land should gradually increase in value; but any house bought today will decrease in value.

I would rather have money in the bank than poor land upon which I must spend money for fertilizer, water and accessibility. But I would rather have good land than money in the bank if the land is fertile and has a flowing well or natural irrigation. This means that it is a mistake to get "hipped" on money, bonds, stocks, land, etc. All of these are never all good or all bad. Most people lose their money by putting all their eggs in one basket.

Consider Lasting Qualities

God gave us brains, eyes to see with, ears to hear with, and tongues with which to ask questions. We should use all of these when swapping money for food, clothing, shelter or anything else; or when swapping these real things for money which we deposit in a bank. Everything probably has its use in moderation; but we should not worship or become slaves to any of these things. We must be very careful not to give good money for any habit-forming drink or drug.

When spending or investing money we should consider the lasting qualities of what we buy. The value of money spent upon unnecessary drink, food or smokes has very little duration. This means that such are very poor investments. The same comment applies to many forms of entertainment. The value of money spent for clothes lasts a few months; the value of money spent upon an automobile lasts a few years, but when money is spent for well-located fertile land this value continues as long as you are able to pay the taxes! Money spent on an education, which makes you an expert in some profession, art or trade, lasts during your entire lifetime.

Investments and Employment

In conclusion, let me say that I wish labor leaders would give more thought to how their membership spends an invests money. Increased wages do workers no good unless spent upon worth-while things. Also some of these wages should be invested so as to provide work for other men. It requires an investment of about $5,000 to get the space, machinery and working capital necessary to employ one man. Hence, the investment of money is an important factor in preventing unemployment. Our jobs are safe only as other men are uflly employed. Hence, let us always invest wisely as well as save and spend wisely.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Sentence Deferred In Juvenile Case

Arrested Tuesday following a brawl in a South Cumberland apartment, a father and his two sons, another youth and two girls were arraigned Wednesday morning in juvenile court on delinquency charges, but police said sentence was deferred for several days.

The father, Frederick E. Bowers, of Laing avenue, was charged with contributing to the delinquency of his two minor sons, and Jessie Coffman, 18, Homer street.

According to police, the juvenile trio was "very drunk" when taken into custody after a "fight" in an apartment at the rear of the Laing avenue home. Two others arrested were booked as Thomas Bowers 21, Laing avenue, and Jessie Rice, 23, Wiley Ford, W. Va.

Lt. James E. Van Detective Lt. B. Frank Gaffney and Sgt. John H. Newhouse arrested the group.

TEACHER EXCHANGE PLAN WITH BRITAIN IS CONSIDERED HERE

One or two Allegany county teachers have already manifested an interest in a recent plan announced by School Superintendent Charles L. Kopp whereby arrangements have been made by the United States and Great Britain for the exchange of teachers in 1946-47.

The arrangement has been worked out by the National Education Association of the United States and Great Britain and Kopp said yesterday that any teacher interested should come to his office within the next ten days.

"I am not urging any teacher to participate in this program but if any teacher is interested I shall be glad to receive his or her application. Such an exchange might provide an interesting experience."

Any teacher approved for exchange between the two countries must be recommended by his or her school administration head and emphasis is being placed on securing teachers who will best represent their respective countries abroad.

Mountain District Auxiliary Units Will Meet Here

The Auxiliary Unit of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, will be the hostess unit at the second meeting of Mountain District units in the post home Friday, April 12, at 8 p. m., according to Mrs. Jessie Smith, Lonaconing, Mountain District vice president.

Miss Anne M. Sloan, Lonaconing, department child welfare chairman of the Legion, will be the principal speaker at the meeting, the theme of which will be "Child Welfare."

Units which will send delegates are Farrady Unit, Frostburg; Victory unit, Westernport; Wilson Fiddler unit, Kitzmiller; Memorial unit, Mt. Savage; James P. Love unit, Lonaconing; and Fulton Myers unit, Cumberland.

Announcement of the meeting was made by Mrs. Smith at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening of the Fort Cumberland unit.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer, who discussed community health service and praised the Legion's interest in the health of county children, especially in regard to ear clinics and clinics for crippled children.

Another guest speaker, Mrs. Morris L. Barnes, Girl Scout leader, urged the auxiliary to sponsor a troop and to assist the organization in securing Girl Scout leaders.

Mrs. Robert Doty, president, gave a report on the first Mountain District meeting, held in Lonaconing February 6; and on the meeting of presidents and secretaries of state auxiliary units in Baltimore February 16. At that meeting the local auxiliary won a trophy presented by the department of Maryland for securing twenty-five members in January.

Individual prizes for securing members were presented to Mrs. Marie Kelly, who brought in ten members during February; and to Mrs. Ovelia Walker for securing the most members of any auxiliary in the district during the past three months. Mrs. Smith made the latter presentation.

A written invitation from the Legion to attend its "birthday party" March 15 at the state armory was read at the meeting.

Following the meeting, a social hour was held and refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Catherine O'Donnell, chairman, and Mrs. Edith Ryan, co-chairman, of the social committee. Decorations were in the St. Patrick's motif.

History of State Police Is Given By Sgt. Hignutt

Services Are Described at Meeting of Western Maryland Motor Club

A brief outline of the history of the Maryland State Police from its organization in 1920 to the present time was given by Sgt. Thomas M. Hignutt, of the LaVale barracks, at the monthly dinner meeting of the Western Maryland Motor Club, held yesterday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Queen City hotel.

Sgt. Hignutt described some of the services offered by the state police to the community, including ambulance service and emergency assistance in case of fires or floods. He stated that the force, now ranking among the top state police organizations in the country, is mainly interested in serving the community rather than confining its activities to law enforcement.

Mrs. Mary Brewer, chairman of the entertainment committee, announced that the first annual spring dance for club members and their friends will be held April 26 from 9 to 1 at the Clary club. Reservations for the semi-formal affair may be made with the committee, which includes Clifford Gainer, William H. Geppert, Hugo Keller, and Daniel D'Amicol.

D'Amicol, who is chairman of the school patrol committee, reported that plans are being made to hold a rally and entertainment early in May.

George Erling, chairman of the road service committee, said that a meeting is planned in Oakland in the early spring for directors and members. A membership report was given by Mrs. Mary Simon, chairman of the membership committee.

J. Walter Byer, club president, presided at the meeting, which was attended by twenty directors and officers. Mrs. Brewer and Gainer made arrangements for the dinner.

Prayer Service Tonight At Zion Methodist Church

A World Wide Day of Prayer service will be held at Zion Methodist church, Bedford street, tonight at 8 o'clock with five other churches participating in the program.

Churches taking part include members from the Pleasant Grove, Elliott, Union, Centinary and Zion churches. Tonight's service will be a "participation" program.

Agricultural Economist Speaks to 4-H Club at Flintstone School

A. B. Hamilton, agricultural economist of the University of Maryland, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Junior Extension 4-H Club Wednesday evening in the Flintstone school. His talk concerned "The United Nations Organization and World Peace."

Mr. Hamilton gave a detailed account of the steps leading to the formation of the UNO and explained many of its plans and the manner in which they will function. Throughout his talk he stressed the fact that any group with a definite work to do will succeed.

Earl Morgan, president of the group, was in charge of the business session and group singing was led by Florence Thompson. The meeting opened with the recitation of the 4-H pledge.

Miss Maude A. Bean announced a schedule of meetings of interest to the club as follows: March 13, a parliamentary meeting at the public library; March 25, national meat company demonstration at 1 o'clock at the Queen City hotel; March 25 and 27, recreational meetings sponsored by Stanley Hutton, Kent county assistant agent and 4-H leader, at Flintstone and Cresaptown schools, respectively.

R. L. Laramy and Ralph McHenry will be guest speakers at the next meeting, which will be held at the home of Louise and Earl Morgan, Valley road.

Westminster Fellowship To Conduct Program At YMCA Sunday

The Westminster Fellowship of First Presbyterian church will be in charge of the monthly program of the Christian Youth Federation, to be held Sunday at 4 p. m. in the clubrooms at Central YMCA, according to Mrs. George T. Woodworth, advisor.

Theme of the program, "We Must Be the World We Want," will be divided into four separate discussions: "In Our Hearts," Miss Ann Martin; "With Our Talents," Robert Heisey; "Through Our Friendships," Betty Weaver; and "By Our Vision," Allan Macy.

Donald Fuller, president of the fellowship, will preside. A quartet including Ruth Ann Richards, Mary Emma Richards, Jean Dixon and Shirley Fuller, will sing "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Maxine Conrad at the piano. Miss Conrad will open the program with Schubert's "Ave Maria" as a piano prelude.

Mrs. Woodworth said that the executive committee of the Westminster Fellowship has decided to visit local churches to help organize youth groups. The committee has also appointed Miss Conrad as permanent pianist for the fellowship.

Harold K. Cheney Weds Miss Rena Alice Friend

Ceremony Is Performed in Parsonage of First Methodist Church Here

Miss Rena Alice Friend, Narrows Park, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch C. Friend, Friendsville, and John Walter Cheney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Cheney, Flintstone, were married Friday, March 1, in the parsonage of the First Methodist church, Bedford street.

The Rev. George E. Baughman, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony. The bride was attired in a powder blue suit, with which she wore black accessories and an orchid corsage completed her costume.

The bride is a graduate of Friendsville high school and attended Catherman's business school. She is employed in the office of the Buchanan Lumber Company.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Flintstone high school. He recently received an honorable discharge from the army after four and a half years of service. He served in the European theater of operations and held the rank of first sergeant. He has resumed his employment with the Buchanan Lumber company.

"Y" Victory Room Club Plans Dinner, Dance

A St. Patrick's day candlelight dinner and dance will be held next Tuesday, March 12, beginning at 6:15 p. m., in the clubrooms at Central YMCA for members of the Victory room club at the "Y", according to Mrs. George T. Woodworth, advisor to the group.

Honor guests will include the Rev. William A. Eisenberger and Mrs. Eisenberger; Ralph R. Webster, principal of Allegany high school, and Mrs. Webster; Victor D. Heisey, principal of Fort Hill high school, and Mrs. Heisey; Edmund S. Burke, president of the YMCA board of directors, and Mrs. Burke.

The Rev. Mr. Eisenberger, pastor of First Presbyterian church, will give the invocation.

Mrs. Woodworth said that the first 100 reservations made for the dinner will be the only ones accepted, because of limited space. Reservations must be made by tomorrow evening.

Fred Partleton, chairman of the committee on arrangements, will be assisted by Jean Dixon, in charge of decorations; Doris Lee Thrasher, invitations; Jean Watt, materials for decorations; Virginia Borgman, John Brown, Delores Chase, Billy Linn and Charles Bujac.

Personals

Miss Pauline McEvoy, 220 Washington street, is ill at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Farrell, Brownsville, Pa., have returned after visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Wickerstaheim, 509 Marshall street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Vandegrift, Algonquin Hotel, visited friends in Allentown, Pa. Mrs. Vandegrift is the former Miss Mary Hudson, of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Catherine Barnard, 532 Fairview avenue, left yesterday to attend the Capping exercises of her daughter, cadet Nurse Doris Jean Barnard, at Sibley Memorial Hospital, Washington. She was accompanied by Mrs. Heyle Walker, 534 Fairview avenue, who will visit in Baltimore before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Alt and son David, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alt, have returned to Toledo, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Turner, 640 Lincoln street. Homer and Richard Alt are brothers of Mrs. Turner.

Officer Curtis Kime, 5 Ridgeway Terrace, who suffered a right knee injury in a motorcycle mishap February 12, is recuperating at his home.

Anthony J. Russell, Jr., 309 Arch street, is convalescing at Allegany Hospital, where he underwent an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Day and sons, Jack and Junior, have returned from Baltimore where they visited their daughter and sister, Mrs. Mazie Virginia Price, a patient at Sinai hospital.

Mountain District Auxiliary Units Will Meet Here

The Auxiliary Unit of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, will be the hostess unit at the second meeting of Mountain District units in the post home Friday, April 12, at 8 p. m., according to Mrs. Jessie Smith, Lonaconing, Mountain District vice president.

Miss Anne M. Sloan, Lonaconing, department child welfare chairman of the Legion, will be the principal speaker at the meeting, the theme of which will be "Child Welfare."

Units which will send delegates are Farrady Unit, Frostburg; Victory unit, Westernport; Wilson Fidler unit, Kitzmiller; Memorial unit, Mt. Savage; James P. Love unit, Lonaconing; and Fulton Myers unit, Cumberland.

Announcement of the meeting was made by Mrs. Smith at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening of the Fort Cumberland unit.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer, who discussed community health service and praised the Legion's interest in the health of county children, especially in regard to ear clinics and clinics for crippled children.

Another guest speaker, Mrs. Morris L. Barnes, Girl Scout leader, urged the auxiliary to sponsor a troop and to assist the organization in securing Girl Scout leaders.

Mrs. Robert Doty, president, gave a report on the first Mountain District meeting, held in Lonaconing February 6; and on the meeting of presidents and secretaries of state auxiliary units in Baltimore February 16. At that meeting the local auxiliary won a trophy presented by the department of Maryland for securing twenty-five members in January.

Individual prizes for securing members were presented to Mrs. Marie Kelly, who brought in ten members during February; and to Mrs. Ovelia Walker for securing the most members of any auxiliary in the district during the past three months. Mrs. Smith made the latter presentation.

A written invitation from the Legion to attend its "birthday party" March 15 at the state armory was read at the meeting.

Following the meeting, a social hour was held and refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Catherine O'Donnell, chairman, and Mrs. Edith Ryan, co-chairman, of the social committee. Decorations were in the St. Patrick's motif.

A meeting of the Allegany County War Memorial committee will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the office of John Park, Clark Keating Building.

History of State Police Is Given By Sgt. Hignutt

Services Are Described at Meeting of Western Maryland Motor Club

A brief outline of the history of the Maryland State Police from its organization in 1920 to the present time was given by Sgt. Thomas M. Hignutt, of the LaVale barracks, at the monthly dinner meeting of the Western Maryland Motor Club, held yesterday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Queen City hotel.

Sgt. Hignutt described some of the services offered by the state police to the community, including ambulance service and emergency assistance in case of fires or floods. He stated that the force, now ranking among the top state police organizations in the country, is mainly interested in serving the community rather than confining its activities to law enforcement.

Mrs. Mary Brewer, chairman of the entertainment committee, announced that the first annual spring dance for club members and their friends will be held April 26 from 9 to 1 at the Clary club. Reservations for the semi-formal affair may be made with the committee, which includes Clifford Gainer, William H. Geppert, Hugo Keller, and Daniel D'Amicol.

D'Amicol, who is chairman of the school patrol committee, reported that plans are being made to hold a rally and entertainment early in May.

George Erling, chairman of the road service committee, said that a meeting is planned in Oakland in the early spring for directors and members. A membership report was given by Mrs. Mary Simon, chairman of the membership committee.

J. Walter Byer, club president, presided at the meeting, which was attended by twenty directors and officers. Mrs. Brewer and Gainer made arrangements for the dinner.

Prayer Service Tonight At Zion Methodist Church

A World Wide Day of Prayer service will be held at Zion Methodist church, Bedford street, tonight at 8 o'clock with five other churches participating in the program.

Churches taking part include members from the Pleasant Grove, Elliott, Union, Centinary and Zion churches. Tonight's service will be a "participation" program.

Patient Wife Is Fed Up with Her Wandering Mate

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Many a patient wife puts up silently for a long time with her husband's philanderings, living desperately in the hope that he'll finally tire of playing around and come home to settle down once more—and they'll live happily ever after.

Unfortunately, that rarely happens.

What usually does happen is that before the wandering husband gets fed up on his stolen sweets, his wife gets fed up on him. Or if not actually fed up with him, then she reaches a breaking point where she just can't take it any longer.

That's what's happened to the wife who writes:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I am 29 years old and married nine years. I've known my husband for the last fifteen years, so I know it wasn't a get-married-quick affair.

"My husband has gone bowling with his workers every week one day for the past three years, but now he also goes out drinking once in a while. I have never complained except about the fact of his coming home so late and getting so little sleep.

"Recently one night he went out telling me about the boys wanting him. When he got home he had lipstick all over his mouth, but I still didn't say anything. He did, though, in his sleep, talking about where he was and when I questioned him about it, he said he wished he did it more often and that I should just forget about it; that all I wanted was him tied to my apron strings. Oh yes, he's done it before, but I never questioned him, as I just didn't want to believe it.

"But now it's got so I just can't go on living with him.

"At first I thought perhaps he was doing it because all he spoke of was a family, and luck wasn't with us for a long time. But now we have a little one a year old, but things have gotten worse. He doesn't fuss over her like fathers usually do, although he'll hold her once in a while. But he always manages to get someplace else when he's home week-ends. He knows we'll never have any more, and keeps saying it, and cheapens me in front of people.

"He did all these things when we were first married, but stopped for awhile, and now, although I love him deeply, I cannot go on sharing him.

"A WORRIED WIFE"

Since you have reached the point where you feel you cannot go on with this man any longer, now is the time for you to make a definite decision in the matter, and then act on it. If you do not do this, I am very much afraid you will find yourself just drifting along with the situation, growing more and more unhappy and upset until you really break down. And you don't want to do that. Your baby needs you.

I think you certainly should get away from your husband for awhile and give him, as well as yourself, a chance to think things over. Have you any family or other relatives with whom you might stay? It would be a good plan, I think, not to make a threat of it, telling your husband you were leaving because he had treated you so badly. If possible, just say you are tired, and have decided to make your family a little visit and get rested. He'll get the point without you making it, and if you've left without a quarrel, it will be easier to come back, if things work out so that you feel it is the thing to do. Don't go back, though, unless he comes after you. Let him be the one to suggest it. And if he doesn't suggest it, if he appears perfectly content to let you go, you're far better off away from him. Then you can begin to plan to make a new and happier life for yourself and your baby.

Lumber Shortage Stops South African Housing

JOHANNESBURG—(AP) — South Africa is in the throes of lumber famine. Scores of homes now being built cannot be completed and the country's national housing program is being badly affected. Very little suitable timber is grown locally and in pre-war days most of it had to be imported from Baltic countries. Today the Baltic is virtually closed as a major source of supply owing to European and Russian demands.

Evicted Family Finds Home on Farm

Arrangements have been made for the mother and six children, who were evicted last Thursday from their home in Ridgeley, to reside on a nearby farm in West Virginia. The family left Tuesday for their new home.

Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary of the Associated Charities, made the arrangements for housing the family on the farm. Miss Bonig reported that a warrant has been issued for the arrest of the father of the children, charging non-support.

Fireman, Save My Cow

MURRAY, Utah—(AP)—A cow, possibly a distant relative of Mrs. O'Leary's, was the only witness to the start of a barn fire. Farmer Abraham Losser said he forgot to take the candle with him after the night milking. Firemen saved the cow but not the barn.

Every Militiaman A Court in Poznan

POZNAN, Poland (AP)—In Poznan, every militiaman acts as a court.

Militiamen stop hack and taxi drivers on bridges and at street intersections during the night to see whether they are displaying lights and to question their passengers. If the militiamen aren't satisfied with explanations, they fine the driver 100 zlotys on the spot.

HAGERSTOWN FAIR CASE IS DISMISSED

A petition made by Robert H. McCauley, Hagerstown, and Herbert M. Brune, Jr., Baltimore, attorneys for the defendants in litigation between two groups of stockholders in the Hagerstown Fair Association, to have the action dismissed, was granted in circuit court Wednesday by Chief Judge William A. Huster.

Chief Judge William A. Huster Wednesday, in circuit court granted the petition of Robert H. McCauley, of Hagerstown and Herbert M. Brune, Jr., of Baltimore, attorneys for the defendants in litigation between two groups of stockholders in the Hagerstown Fair, to have the petition dismissed.

The attorneys pointed out that the election held last Saturday resulted in a complete victory for the fourteen candidates submitted by the stockholders who were defendants in the action, and that the officers and directors were elected without counting the ninety-two votes which were placed in sealed envelopes, under the stipulation agreed upon at a hearing February 26 before Judge Huster in Hagerstown.

The petitioners had charged that the defendants were attempting to seize control of the Agricultural and Mechanical Association of Washington county, through illegal transfer of shares. The association conducts the Fair in Hagerstown.

D. Lindley Sloan and William A. Gunter of this city were attorneys for the stockholders who filed the action in January, the day before the election was scheduled. Judge Huster postponed the election until March 2.

7-Year-Old Boy Escapes Injury When Hit by Car

Francis Niland, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Niland, 1301 Michigan avenue, was examined in Memorial hospital Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, attaches were told, he was struck by a car driven by William McCullough, 410 Race street, on Oldtown road Wednesday at 4:20 p. m.

Attaches added that an examination failed to disclose any injuries. Police said no charges were preferred against the driver.

Mrs. Marie Melius, 36, wife of Walter Melius, Route 5, was X-ray'd in Allegany hospital Wednesday for possible head and right shoulder injuries suffered according to Officer R. C. Cassen, when she was struck by a piece of plaster from the F. W. Woolworth Company store on Baltimore street Tuesday at 4:20 p. m.

She was treated Tuesday attaches said for scalp contusion and brush burns of the shoulder.

Herman Bice, 51, Route 4, B. and O. machinist's helper, was treated in Allegany hospital Tuesday for a left eye injury suffered, he told attaches, when he was struck by a wrench while at work.

Now He's Retired, He Has Time to Spare

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—(AP)—A 56-year-old man, now retired, wrote to the School of Agriculture at Pennsylvania State college, seeking the second in a series of lessons he had previously started via correspondence. Investigation showed he had originally enrolled in 1908.

World Day of Prayer Will Be Observed by Parsons Churches

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, W. Va., March 7 — The World Day of Prayer will be observed by the town of Parsons on Friday, sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church with all of the churches of the town participating in services to be held in the Presbyterian church.

Each church will have charge of a half-hour service which will include music, prayer and quiet meditation. The first half hour, from 10 until 10:30 a. m. will be in charge of the Rev. James H. Lotspeich, pastor of the First Methodist church; the 10:30 to 11 o'clock service will be in charge of the Rev. W. R. Nelson, pastor of the First Baptist church; the 11 to 11:30 service will be in charge of the Rev. R. E. Hiller, pastor of St. John's Methodist church and the last half-hour service will be led by the host pastor, the Rev. Harold D. Shiflet.

Mother of Mrs. Johnson Dies

Word has been received in Parsons of the death of Mrs. Sussannah Jane McDonald, 93, mother of Mrs. J. Watson Johnson, Parsons, who died on Monday afternoon at the home of her daughter in Beverly following a lingering illness.

She was born April 5, 1852, in Harrison county, a daughter of the late James and Celia Basil Shrout. She was twice married, first to Charles Bond and after his death to Judson McDonald.

She is survived by one son, Bert Bond, Albright, and three daughters, Mrs. John G. Long, Bridgeport; Mrs. Lena Webb, Clarksburg, and Mrs. J. Watson Johnson, Beverly.

There are also ten grandchildren, thirteen great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. Services were held Wednesday morning with the Rev. Harold D. Shiflet, of the First Presbyterian church of Parsons, officiating. The body was removed to Bridgeport for interment.

Church Auxiliary Elects

Miss Esther Sill, Parsons, was elected president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church of Parsons at the annual business meeting held in the social rooms of the church this week. Other officers elected were Mrs. Harold D. Shiflet, vice president, Mrs. Fred Chapman, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Minear, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. K. Lyons, treasurer; Mrs. H. U. Freeman, historian, and Miss Mary Rawlings Smith, pastor's aid.

Mrs. Ossie Bible was elected secretary of spiritual life and evangelism; Mrs. Riley Harper, secretary of religious education and publication; Mrs. George Donalds, secretary of foreign missions; Mrs. James English, secretary of Presbyterian home missions; Mrs. Truman McVicker, secretary of literature; Mrs. J. Blaine Corrick, secretary of Christian social relations, and Mrs. Ralph Rowland, secretary of education and ministerial relations committee. The various committee chairman will be selected at a later date by the president.

Scouts To Receive Charter

Cancer Is Subject Of Talk at Lions Club by Dr. King

By KATHERINE FISHER

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., March 7—"Cancer can be found in any part of the body, except the hair, nails and teeth", Dr. C. E. King, said, in addressing the members of the Moorefield Woman's Club Monday evening. The doctor went on to explain that cancer was a disease in which the cells multiplied too rapidly and were also paracitic, taking life from surrounding cells.

Cancer is more common in older people but attacks all ages. Dr. King mentioned that it seems there is more cancer today than there used to be but explained this by mentioning the fact that thirty or forty years ago the life expectancy of an individual was thirty-five while at present the life expectancy has lengthened to sixty-three and as the average age when cancer strikes is about fifty-two ,there are naturally more cases of cancer.

Dr. King stressed the fact that cancer is curable in its early stages but its early diagnosis depends upon the individual who must learn to notice unusual lumps or bleeding and report them to his physician.

He then went on to discuss some of the various types of carcinoma found and their chances for treatment and cure. He showed some slides of cross sections of cell tissues, explaining the difference in various tissues.

Cancer is treated at the present time only by the use of radium, X-ray and surgery and Dr. King spoke of the great forward steps taken by the state of West Virginia in establishing ten centers or clinics where radium treatment may be applied.

During the business meeting preceding the talk by Dr. King, the ladies decided to give $10 to the American Red Cross. It was announced that the picture, recently sponsored by the club had netted $57.

A nominating committee, composed of Mrs. A. C. McNeill, Mrs. Wade Stickley and Mrs. S. A. McCoy was appointed to report at the next meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. McNeill.

Mrs. Walter Wood was in charge of the program and she and Mrs. W. J. Teets were hostesses after the meeting, taking the ladies to Wenzel's restaurant for refreshments.

Drive Will End

Raymond S. Dispanet, chairman of the Victory Clothing drive, announced Monday night at the Moorefield Lions Club that the drive would terminate this week. All the old clothing will be collected from the three centers and packed and shipped from Moorefield.

The Lions, in the meeting at the Hotel McNeill, also organized the business and professional men's committee to solicit in the current Red Cross drive, which opened this week in Hardy county. Members who will solicit the business men in the Moorefield district are Irvin Bowman, chairman, Reg Saville, Ralph J. Bean, R. E. Fisher, and Harley J. Myers.

A show for the benefit of the glasses fund will be sponsored by the Lions club in the near future as five new cases of needy children whose eyes need correction have been reported to the club.

R. J. Bean reported to the club the progress of the hospital committee in the attempt to secure a hospital for the South Branch Valley section.

Woman Is Hurt

Miss Luanna Liggett, Buckhannon, was injured slightly Sunday when her car collided with a car driven by Albert Cleaver. Miss Liggett's car was driven by Jansen Wereby, Buckhannon, a veteran just released from the Veterans hospital at Martinsburg.

Cleaver turned across the road into his garage when the car driven by Wereby unavoidably crashed against it. Miss Liggett suffered slight bruises and stayed at the Hotel McNeill until her car was repaired. None of the others were injured.

Will Sell Flowers

Members of the Fire Company Auxiliary made plans for the sale of Easter flowers at the meeting held at the home of Miss Helen Leatherman Friday night. They also decided to have a radio show or a style show during March.

Mrs. A. C. McNeill announced that three more memorial chairs had been sold, bringing the number secured for the dining room in the new fire building to twenty-eight.

Extinguish Blaze

The Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company answered an alarm Monday morning to the residence of Bert Greenwalt at McNeill down in the Flats. The alarm was caused by a flue fire in the chimney at the house which caused no damage.

The firemen stood by until the fire died down to the point where it was not dangerous.

Clerk Makes Report

Fees collected in County Clerk C. C. Wise's office in February totaled $225.25 according to the summary posted this week.

The break down of the totals show fees recording $97.25, fees administrator cases $3, fees copies $3, fees executors cases $3, and marriage licenses $4.

A total of $112 was collected for hunting and fishing licenses which included $82 for forty-two resident state wide licenses and $30 for two non-resident state wide hunting and fishing licenses.

One application to wed was issued during the past week by Clerk Wise to Ray H. Lowery and Esther Lillian Harvey, both colored and both from Moorefield.

Miss Luanna Liggett, Buckhannon, was injured slightly Sunday when her car collided with a car driven by Albert Cleaver. Miss Liggett's car was driven by Jansen Wereby, Buckhannon, a veteran just released from the Veterans hospital at Martinsburg.

Cleaver turned across the road into his garage when the car driven by Wereby unavoidably crashed against it. Miss Liggett suffered slight bruises and stayed at the Hotel McNeill until her car was repaired. None of the others were injured.

Will Sell Flowers

Members of the Fire Company Auxiliary made plans for the sale of Easter flowers at the meeting held at the home of Miss Helen Leatherman Friday night. They also decided to have a radio show or a style show during March.

Mrs. A. C. McNeill announced that three more memorial chairs had been sold, bringing the number secured for the dining room in the new fire building to twenty-eight.

Extinguish Blaze

The Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company answered an alarm Monday morning to the residence of Bert Greenwalt at McNeill down in the Flats. The alarm was caused by a flue fire in the chimney at the house which caused no damage.

The firemen stood by until the fire died down to the point where it was not dangerous.

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, March 7—Meeting last evening, Frostburg City Lodge No. 88, Knights of Pythias, completed plans for a large class initiation to be held here Wednesday evening, March 13, when the degree team of Cumberland Lodge No. 60 will confer the rank of knight on a class of fifteen candidates.

They are Gordon Hovatter, Milton Crowe, William Prichard, Martin Cosgrove, Harold Filer, Robert Prichard, Ellsworth Filer, Orville Steele, William H. Atkinson, Edward Hollida, Harry Miller, Frank Duncan, William Wiebrecht, Ralph Koontz and William Brode.

Refreshments will be served.

Minstrel Show Planned

A three-act minstrel show, "Dixie," will be presented at the First Methodist church March 12 at 8:15 p. m. by the Youth Fellowship. The performance is open to the public and the proceeds will go toward recreation materials for the youth group.

Raymond Rodda is interlocutor with Richard Rephann, Edward Warehime, Donald Llewellyn, and William Yates as endmen. Phyllis Ritchie has the leading role in a sketch in the second act. The name of this is "Too Many Sweethearts." Supporting Miss Ritchie are Donald Llewellyn, William Yates, Edward Warehime, and Arthur Bond.

Many of the traditional minstrel songs will be used as well as some Gay 90's numbers, patriotic songs, and popular numbers. Specialties are as follows:

Jo Ann Durst singing "Lily Belle"; Donald Llewellyn, "Swanee"; Belle Rice and Bill Bailey, "When Francis Dances With Me"; Richard Rephann and Edward Warehime, "Darktown Strutters' Ball"; Gerry Powers, "St. Louis Blues"; Mary Lou Hawkins and Phyllis Ritchie, "Hush-a-Bye"; William Yates, "Chattanooga Choo Choo"; Anna Nelson and Roberta Elias, "Always"; Raymond Rodda, "Till the End of Time"; Mary Lou Dickey and Helen Lockard, "Swanee River Moon."

Songs by the entire company will include "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "You're a Grand Old Flag," "Shout I Am an American," "Alabamy Bound," "Dixie Land," and "Oh Susanna."

The production is under the direction of Mrs. Betty Hawkins Hodgdon with Pat Warehime as stage manager. Mrs. Thelma Rephann will be at the piano.

Mt. Chapter No. 15, Order of the Eastern Star, will attend a meeting of Martha Washington Chapter No. 10, Lonaconing, Friday at 8 p. m. A special program is being arranged by the Lonaconing chapter. A large delegation from Frostburg is planning to attend.

Mrs. Charles Hager was the speaker at the March meeting of the Frostburg Homemakers, held last week at the home of Mrs. Philip Lehr. Her subject was "The Kitchen of Tomorrow." A program of games and music, arranged by Mrs. H. R. Aldridge and Miss Ann Little, followed the business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Coleman, East Loo street, entertained Wednesday afternoon at their home in honor of their son, Ronald, who was observing his tenth birthday. The affair was a birthday surprise party and was attended by eighteen other guests.

McCormick Comments On Rent Control At Ridgeley, W. Va.

Commenting on announcement by the OPA national office in Washington that Ridgeley, in Mineral county, W. Va., had been brought under rent control, Leo H. McCormick, Maryland OPA state director, said today the action would mean much to the many people who work in Cumberland and nearby but live across the Potomac River in West Virginia.

The West Virginia town and that part of Mineral county adjacent to Maryland are, to all intents and purposes, suburbs of Cumberland, where about 90 per cent of Ridgeley's working population is employed, McCormick said. The OPA director added that the order setting up Mineral county as a rental area is largely the result of efforts initiated last August by William H. Morris, member of the Maryland OPA Labor Advisory Committee and also secretary and acting state representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Rent control in Mineral county, which is effective as of March 1, 1946, and establishes a "freeze" date of October 1, 1944, will be administered through the Charleston, W. Va., OPA district office, a part of OPA Region 3.

By CATHERINE O'ROURKE

MT. SAVAGE, March 7—A three-reel motion picture, entitled, "Rio Roosevelt," was presented at the meeting of the Mt. Savage Parent-Teachers Association, last night in the school auditorium.

The picture depicted life in the wildest jungles of Brazil, in the lands surrounding the Amazon river and the River Doubt. Animal and bird life of this section was especially emphasized. Scenes portraying the Amazon headhunters displayed how primitive man exists today in this region in much the same manner as he did centuries ago.

Fox Hunt Planned

A drive to eliminate foxes in the community is being sponsored by Elmer McKenzie and Les Martin, well-known hunters and sportsmen. The first in a series of fox hunts will be held Sunday, March 10. Citizens interested in the hunt will meet at Poland's gas station at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The trip will cover Savage mountain from Sampson's rock to State Line.

He spent sixteen months in India and China. The boys are the sons of Mrs. Elsie V. Blank and the late John C. Blank.

Will Give Party

A party for the benefit of the Jennings Run Council, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, will be held Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Junior Order hall, Main street.

Tucker County Minister Dies

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, Mar. 7 — The Rev. G. E. Vance, 72, a licensed Methodist minister, died this morning at his home in St. George after an illness of three weeks.

The Rev. Mr. Vance, who had been a circuit rider here for ten years, was a native of Hacker's Valley, Webster county, a son of the late Samuel and Mary Rader Vance.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Alice Cowgar Vance, he is survived by one son, C. H. Vance, Austinville, Va., and two daughters, Mrs. Howard Ashby, St. George, and Miss Ruth Vance, at home.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. in St. George Methodist church by the Rev. Frantz Casto, pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. Ray Rodeheaver. Interment will be in St. George cemetery.

Cunningham Rites

Funeral services for Walter R. Cunningham, Sr., 27, Ridgeley, W. Va., who died Wednesday morning in Memorial hospital, Cumberland, will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Pat Wamsley, Hendricks. Interment will be in Hendricks.

MARSHALL VETERANS PROTEST AMENDING OF HOUSING BILL

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 7. (AP)—The Marshall College Veterans Association today sent a telegram to West Virginia's congressional delegation in Washington demanding that "the veterans housing program be expedited", President Henry S. Kane, of Huntington, a senior at the college announced.

At a meeting of some 300 members of the association today, the group adopted a resolution protesting the action of the House in amending President Truman's Housing bill, and drafting the telegram.

Kane said the telegram, sent to West Virginia's senators and congressmen, read "why has veterans housing legislation been blocked? We want priorities, $6,000 homes, ceilings, subsidies, rental and buying preferences and tighter rent controls. We veterans are angry and demand the emergency housing program be expedited."

The action of the Marshall veterans followed a speech made by Kane in which he described the amending of the proposed legislation as "the result of one of the most vicious political lobbies that ever operated in America."

Hanlin Is Upheld By Commissioners Of Westernport

Chief of Police Accused of Violating Ordinance by Shooting Dogs

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT, March 7 — Mayor Milton McIntyre and the commissioners of Westernport have agreed that the shooting of two dogs Sunday morning on Washington street by Chief of Police Burza Hanlin was the right procedure, after Beau Weise complained the action was "inhuman." He stated that one of the two dogs drowned in George's creek.

Having no net in which to catch the dogs, the officer said he shot them within twenty feet with a shotgun, intending to kill both with one shot. One dog died immediately and the other ran toward the creek. Chief Hanlin stated he shot the second dog and it died before reaching the water.

Another dog in a nearby lot with several others was shot by an unknown person, the officer said.

Weise called attention to a city ordinance, which provides that stray dogs be impounded and a notice posted. If the dogs are not claimed by paying a fine of $5 within twenty-four hours they are destroyed. Chief Hanlin says that none of the three dogs had a dog license on it and the owners have not made any protests about the affair. The officials do not know yet who the owners are.

Commissioner Lewis Engle explained that since the officer had no way of knowing whether the dogs had rabies, it was unsafe to catch them without a net. The city officials state that it has not been the policy of the officers to shoot dogs unnecessarily but to impound them according to law.

Bothwell Rites Set

Services for David Bothwell, 76, retired signal operator of the Western Maryland Railway company here, who died yesterday afternoon at his home near Kolberg's hill, will be held Saturday at the residence at 2:30 p. m., conducted by the Rev. Raymond L. Moore, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, Piedmont W. Va. Interment will be in Philos cemetery.

Mr. Bothwell was born in Scotland and came to this country when he was two years old with his parents, the late William and Marjorie Archibald Bothwell. He was a member of Trinity Methodist church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Grace Bothwell; and two daughters, Mrs. Robert Steward, Hagerstown, and Mrs. Sheriden McKenzie, at home; one brother, William Bothwell, Westernport, and one sister, Mrs. Violet Matthews, Pekin. Two grandchildren also survive.

Sermon Series Opened

The Rev. Derrick Hillary, Victoria, B. C., opened a series of ten illustrated sermons at the Assembly of God church this evening. His topic tonight was "Standard Bearing."

Friday night he will discuss "Old Testament Calvary;" Saturday, "Just Look at Yourself;" and Sunday, "The Church You Cannot Join."

The Rev. Oliver P. Brann, pastor, announces these meetings will be held at 7:30 p. m.

Prayer Service Set

A World Day of Prayer service will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the Piedmont Presbyterian church.

All of the churches of the Tri-Towns have been invited to participate and the service is being sponsored by the women of the churches, according to the Rev. Philip Cory, pastor.

Church Course Planned

A course for members of the W.S.C.S. and Wesleyan Service Guild of Trinity Methodist church will be taught by Mrs. Raymond L. Moore.

The first of the four sessions will be held at the home of Mrs. Vernon Frye, Westernport, next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. The subject of the course is "Cross Over Africa."

The W.S.C.S society hopes to achieve a jurisdictional year's credit for the course. Mrs. Raymond W. Reeves is worship chairman and Mrs. Frank Dayton, touring guide.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Fazenbaker, Baltimore, formerly of Westernport, announce the birth of a daughter in Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, W. Va., today. Mrs. Fazenbaker was the former Dorothy Casteel, R. N.

Mrs. A. E. Milne, R. N., formerly of Westernport, has taken a position at a school for girls at Scarborough, N. Y. Her daughter, Miss Kay Milne, has enrolled at the school for girls at Tarrytown, N.Y.

Parsons Man Is Given Jail Term On Theft Charge

Seven Divorce Cases Are Heard by Tucker County Court

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, March 7 — At the regular term of March court held in Parsons this week three felonies and two misdemeanors were reported by the grand jury and seven divorce cases to date.

In the felonies the grand jury reported were the cases of Jack Simpson, Parsons, who pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering the Parsons Supply store owned by J. Herman Lambert and stealing and carrying away a cash register valued at $100; currency totaling $14, of which $11.05 was recovered; checks totaling $197.06; five cartons of cigarets valued at $6.50 and fifteen pounds of meat valued at $4.50. He was sentenced to the state penitentary for a term of one to ten years with time off for the time he has served in the county jail.

Willis Lewis, Thomas, pleaded guilty to a theft of a suitcase of clothing and was paroled for three years. He is an ex-serviceman with an overseas record and holds an honorable discharge.

Elwood Evans, Leadmine road, an employe of the Davis Coal and Coke Company also pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving. He was paroled by the court for three years and was fined $25 and costs.

Two Men Released

In the case of Sheridan Burns, Hendricks, no indictment was returned by the grand jury and he was released from the custody of the court. He was being held on an alledged charge of rape to an 11-year-old Hendricks girl. John Zinn was also released from the custody of the court after an indictment was not returned against him by the grand jury.

No petit jury will be summoned for this term of court. In the divorce court several divorces have been heard with more to be heard before the close of court this week. Among those already heard include the case of Muriel McDaniel vs. James W. McDaniel whom she married February 25, 1941. The mother was granted the custody of their daughter, Anita Carolyn.

Atha Rae Nestor, Parsons, was granted a divorce and was awarded the custody of her daughter, Vancine Raye.

Receive Divorce

William Slaubaugh was granted an absolute divorce from Jerry Slaubaugh whom he married July 5, 1944.

Dorothea Mae Knecht was granted an absolute divorce from Melvin Knecht whom she married June 2, 1938, and was granted the custody of their child and support of that child.

Dorothea Leigh Cross was granted a divorce from Ellsworth Clay Cross, Parsons, and her maiden name of Dorothea Hartsaw restored to her. They were married April 20, 1943, at Parsons.

Clyde Edward King, Parsons, was granted a divorce from Viola Marie Martin King, Hambleton, and was ordered to pay support to their infant daughter, Anna Lea King. The couple were married January 13, 1945, in Hambleton.

Agatha Croston, Thomas, was granted a divorce from Jewel Croston whom she married September 14, 1934. The father will support their three children, Barbara, Billy and James, and the custody of their children was awarded to the mother.

Albert Lansberry, Davis, was granted a divorce from Catherine Lansberry whom he married August 5, 1942. The father was granted the custody of their infant daughter, Alberta.

School Is Closed

Reardon Cuppett, county superintendent, announced today that the third school of the county having a six month school term has been closed for the year. It was the Brushy Fork school taught by Mrs. Nellie Crossland. Two other schools were reported closed, the Canan school, taught by Fred Yeager, and the Cross school, taught by John Walton.

Sailor Breaks Arm

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mullenaux, Hendricks, have received word that their youngest son, Charles Mullenaux, Jr., seaman first class, stationed in Shanghai, China, recently fractured his left arm while playing football there and is now a patient on the hospital ship, the USS Repose. He is a former member of the football team of Parsons high school.

Brief Mention

Lt. Katheryn Kee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kee, Parsons, is spending a ten-day leave with her parents here. She is with the army nurse corps at station hospital, Camp Campbell, Ky.

The Limestone Farm Women's club will meet Wednesday, March 13, at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Virgil Dumire for its regular meeting with the lesson leader, Mrs. D. C. Adams on the topic "Recreation in the Community." Ralph Rowland, state forest ranger, Parsons, will be the guest speaker and will speak on "Timber as a Crop."

Miss Nada Braun Becomes Bride Of Davis Man

Double Ring Ceremony Is Solemnized in Lutheran Church

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, March 7—Miss Nada Louise Braun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Braun, Cleveland, Ohio, formerly of Davis, became the bride of William Montgomery Miller, son of Mrs. Ruth Miller, Davis, and the late William Miller, on Saturday afternoon.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. J. Bruce Kaufman, pastor, before an altar of tall cathedral candles, large white lilies and greenery. The couple exchanged their vows under an arch decorated with fern and white lilies.

Fifty one years ago, on the same altar, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Braun, grandparents of the bride exchanged their wedding vows in the first wedding to take place in the Lutheran church in Davis. Mr. and Mrs. Braun were in attendance at their granddaughter's wedding Saturday.

Preceding the ceremony a program of organ music was played by Mrs. Marjorie Penrod, who also played the traditional music for the processional and recessional. "Because" was sung by the soloist Miss Nancy Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Penrod.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a two-piece suit of light blue wool with navy blue accessories and completed her attire with a lapel corsage of white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Lee B. Tallman, Detroit, Mich., sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and wore a light brown suit with matching accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Braun wore a navy blue street length dress with fuschia accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Mrs. Miller wore a dress of gold colored wool and a corsage of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the future home of the bride and groom with over seventy-five attending. The rooms were decorated with baskets of large white lilies and bowls of yellow calendulas. The bride's table was centered with a large tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Aides were Mrs. W. L. Braun, Pittsubrgh, Miss Helen Braun, Parkersburg, and Miss Freda Braun, Washington, aunts of the bride and Mrs. Tallman, sister of the bridegroom. Also assisting were Mrs. E. F. Braun, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Aldith Patterson.

The bride is a graduate of Davis high school and of Wilcox College of Commerce, Cleveland, and at the time of her marriage was employed by the army air forces, in Cleveland.

Miller also a graduate of Davis high school, was discharged December 29, 1945, from the armed forces after serving since November 23, 1942. He was sent to the ETO theater on March 8, 1944 where he served as a sergeant of a replacement depot in Ireland, England, France, Belgium and Germany. He holds the ETO ribbon with two battle stars, the Good Conduct ribbon, the American theater ribbon and the Victory medal. He has recently resumed his former duties as assistant postmaster of Davis, the position he held when he entered the service.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: John B. Buskirk, Longacre, W. Va., Mrs. Franklin Smeck, Mrs. Clarence Monk, Reading, Pa., Mrs. Aldith Patterson of Alderson, Miss Patricia Patterson and Miss Mary Bogdonovich both of Morgantown; Miss Nita Ruckle of Baltimore, Md., Charles Braun, Cleveland, and Mrs. Lee B. Tallman, Detroit, Mich.

State Grants Funds For Garrett Library

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 7. (AP)—Governor O'Conor disclosed today that $1,758 had been granted Garrett county for support of a county library after qualifying under the new state library aid act.

The governor asserted the Garrett county commissioners had appropriated $4,000 for library purposes, which is more than the legal requirement of not less than two cents on each $100 of assessed valuation on taxable property in the county.

The chief executive added he would appoint shortly a library board to supervise the county library.

Prayer Service Is Scheduled Today In Hyndman

Churches of Community Expected To Take Part in Program

By LILLIAN HARDEN CRABTREE

HYNDMAN, Pa., March 7—The World's Day of Prayer service will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. in the Evangelical church.

Mrs. Mahlon Evans, of that church, is chairman, and will follow the program that is published by the United Council of Church Women, "The Things That Make for Peace," written by Miss Mabel Shaw, formerly of Mbereshi, Central Africa.

All five churches of the community are expected to participate and among the special selections will be solos by Mrs. Robert Logsdon and Mrs. Don Goodwin, Jr., and a duet by Mrs. James Owen and Mrs. John H. Buffenmyer.

Miss Idella Evans will be pianist for the service.

Miss Shaffer Is Wed

Miss Dorothy Irene Shaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Emerick, became the bride of Charles Mertz Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Taylor, Saxton, Mo., Monday evening.

The Rev. George E. Baughman, pastor of First Methodist church, Cumberland, Md., performed the ceremony at the parsonage. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stottemyer, Cumberland.

Minister Accepts Call by Pendleton County Church

The Rev. Delemo L. Beard Served Three Years as Navy Chaplain

By MYRTLE K. PARK

PETERSBURG, W. Va., March 7—The Rev. Delemo L. Beard has accepted a call by the Franklin, Ruddle, Upper Tract church of Pendleton county and has entered upon his work and will reside at Franklin.

The re-establishment of the pastorial relationship comes after he served three years as chaplain in the United States Navy. His previous pastorate at Franklin was dissolved in 1942 when he was commissioned a lieutenant after completing training at the Chaplain school in Norfolk, Va. During his active duty as a naval chaplain, he served with the Forty-seventh construction battalion in the Solomon Islands, on Guadalcanal and Southern New Georgia in the South Pacific. In February 1944 he was transferred to Parris Island, S. C., and in November of that year was transferred to the Bahia naval base in Brazil. He received the rank of lieutenant commander in July and was made resident chaplain of the Port Chicago Naval Magazine, California. He received his discharge in November 1945.

Dr. Beard is a graduate of Marysville college, Tennessee, and Union Theological seminary, Richmond. He received the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Edinburg, Scotland, in 1932. Prior to his first pastorate in Franklin he served as pastor of the Dayton-Bridgewater churches in Virginia.

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, March 7—Meeting last evening, Frostburg City Lodge No. 88, Knights of Pythias, completed plans for a large class initiation to be held here Wednesday evening, March 13, when the degree team of Cumberland Lodge No. 60 will confer the rank of knight on a class of fifteen candidates.

They are Gordon Hovatter, Milton Crowe, William Prichard, Martin Cosgrove, Harold Filer, Robert Prichard, Ellsworth Filer, Orville Steele, William H. Atkinson, Edward Hollida, Harry Miller, Frank Duncan, William Wiebrecht, Ralph Koontz and William Brode.

Refreshments will be served.

Minstrel Show Planned

A three-act minstrel show, "Dixie," will be presented at the First Methodist church March 12 at 8:15 p. m. by the Youth Fellowship. The performance is open to the public and the proceeds will go toward recreation materials for the youth group.

Raymond Rodda is interlocutor with Richard Rephann, Edward Warehime, Donald Llewellyn, and William Yates as endmen. Phyllis Ritchie has the leading role in a sketch in the second act. The name of this is "Too Many Sweethearts." Supporting Miss Ritchie are Donald Llewellyn, William Yates, Edward Warehime, and Arthur Bond.

Many of the traditional minstrel songs will be used as well as some Gay 90's numbers, patriotic songs, and popular numbers. Specialties are as follows:

Jo Ann Durst singing "Lily Belle"; Donald Llewellyn, "Swanee"; Belle Rice and Bill Bailey, "When Francis Dances With Me"; Richard Rephann and Edward Warehime, "Darktown Strutters' Ball"; Gerry Powers, "St. Louis Blues"; Mary Lou Hawkins and Phyllis Ritchie, "Hush-a-Bye"; William Yates, "Chattanooga Choo Choo"; Anna Nelson and Roberta Elias, "Always"; Raymond Rodda, "Till the End of Time"; Mary Lou Dickey and Helen Lockard, "Swanee River Moon."

Songs by the entire company will include "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "You're a Grand Old Flag," "Shout I Am an American," "Alabamy Bound," "Dixie Land," and "Oh Susanna."

The production is under the direction of Mrs. Betty Hawkins Hodgdon with Pat Warehime as stage manager. Mrs. Thelma Rephann will be at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Coleman, East Loo street, entertained Wednesday afternoon at their home in honor of their son, Ronald, who was observing his tenth birthday. The affair was a birthday surprise party and was attended by eighteen other guests.

McCormick Comments On Rent Control At Ridgeley, W. Va.

Commenting on announcement by the OPA national office in Washington that Ridgeley, in Mineral county, W. Va., had been brought under rent control, Leo H. McCormick, Maryland OPA state director, said today the action would mean much to the many people who work in Cumberland and nearby but live across the Potomac River in West Virginia.

The West Virginia town and that part of Mineral county adjacent to Maryland are, to all intents and purposes, suburbs of Cumberland, where about 90 per cent of Ridgeley's working population is employed, McCormick said. The OPA director added that the order seting up Mineral county as a rental area is largely the result of efforts initiated last August by William H. Morris, member of the Maryland OPA Labor Advisory Committee and also secretary and acting state representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Rent control in Mineral county, which is effective as of March 1, 1946, and establishes a "freeze" date of October 1, 1944, will be administered through the Charleston, W. Va., OPA district office, a part of OPA Region 3.

By CATHERINE O'ROURKE

MT. SAVAGE, March 7—A three-reel motion picture, entitled, "Rio Roosevelt," was presented at the meeting of the Mt. Savage Parent-Teachers Association, last night in the school auditorium.

The picture depicted life in the wildest jungles of Brazil, in the lands surrounding the Amazon river and the River Doubt. Animal and bird life of this section was especially emphasized. Scenes portraying the Amazon headhunters displayed how primitive man exists today in this region in much the same manner as he did centuries ago.

Fox Hunt Planned

A drive to eliminate foxes in the community is being sponsored by Elmer McKenzie and Les Martin, well-known hunters and sportsmen. The first in a series of fox hunts will be held Sunday, March 10. Citizens interested in the hunt will meet at Poland's gas station at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The trip will cover Savage mountain from Sampson's rock to State Line.

Blank Is Promoted

James Austin Blank, husband of Mrs. Thelma Wright Blank, has been promoted to sergeant at Fort Jackson, S. C. His brother, Cpl. Edgar Andy Blank, has recently been made auto mechanic instructor at Fort Eustis, Va. Another brother, Clayton E. Blank, received an honorable discharge from the army after three years of service. He spent sixteen months in India and China. The boys are the sons of Mrs. Elsie V. Blank and the late John C. Blank.

Will Give Party

A party for the benefit of the Jennings Run Council, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, will be held Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Junior Order hall, Main street.

Tucker County Minister Dies

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, Mar. 7 — The Rev. G. E. Vance, 72, a licensed Methodist minister, died this morning at his home in St. George after an illness of three weeks.

The Rev. Mr. Vance, who had been a circuit rider here for ten years, was a native of Hacker's Valley, Webster county, a son of the late Samuel and Mary Rader Vance.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Alice Cowgar Vance, he is survived by one son, C. H. Vance, Austinville, Va., and two daughters, Mrs. Howard Ashby, St. George, and Miss Ruth Vance, at home.

MARSHALL VETERANS PROTEST AMENDING OF HOUSING BILL

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 7. (AP)—The Marshall College Veterans Association today sent a telegram to West Virginia's congressional delegation in Washington demanding that "the veterans housing program be expedited", President Henry S. Kane, of Huntington, a senior at the college announced.

At a meeting of some 300 members of the association today, the group adopted a resolution protesting the action of the House in amending President Truman's Housing bill, and drafting the telegram.

Kane said the telegram, sent to West Virginia's senators and congressmen, read "why has veterans housing legislation been blocked? We want priorities, $6,000 homes, ceilings, subsidies, rental and buying preferences and tighter rent controls. We veterans are angry and demand the emergency housing program be expedited."

The action of the Marshall veterans followed a speech made by Kane in which he described the amending of the proposed legislation as "the result of one of the most vicious political lobbies that ever operated in America."

Hanlin Is Upheld By Commissioners Of Westernport

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT, March 7 — Mayor Milton McIntyre and the commissioners of Westernport have agreed that the shooting of two dogs Sunday morning on Washington street by Chief of Police Burza Hanlin was the right procedure, after Beau Weise complained the action was "inhuman." He stated that one of the two dogs drowned in George's creek.

Having no net in which to catch the dogs, the officer said he shot them within twenty feet with a shotgun, intending to kill both with one shot. One dog died immediately and the other ran toward the creek. Chief Hanlin stated he shot the second dog and it died before reaching the water.

Another dog in a nearby lot with several others was shot by an unknown person, the officer said.

Weise called attention to a city ordinance, which provides that stray dogs be impounded and a notice posted. If the dogs are not claimed by paying a fine of $5 within twenty-four hours they are destroyed. Chief Hanlin says that none of the three dogs had a dog license on it and the owners have not made any protests about the affair. The officials do not know yet who the owners are.

Commissioner Lewis Engle explained that since the officer had no way of knowing whether the dogs had rabies, it was unsafe to catch them without a net. The city officials state that it has not been the policy of the officers to shoot dogs unnecessarily but to impound them according to law.

Bothwell Rites Set

Services for David Bothwell, 76, retired signal operator of the Western Maryland Railway company here, who died yesterday afternoon at his home near Kolberg's hill, will be held Saturday at the residence at 2:30 p. m., conducted by the Rev. Raymond L. Moore, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, Piedmont W. Va. Interment will be in Philos cemetery.

Mr. Bothwell was born in Scotland and came to this country when he was two years old with his parents, the late William and Marjorie Archibald Bothwell. He was a member of Trinity Methodist church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Grace Bothwell; and two daughters, Mrs. Robert Steward, Hagerstown, and Mrs. Sheriden McKenzie, at home; one brother, William Bothwell, Westernport, and one sister, Mrs. Violet Matthews, Pekin. Two grandchildren also survive.

Sermon Series Opened

The Rev. Derrick Hillary, Victoria, B. C., opened a series of ten illustrated sermons at the Assembly of God church this evening. His topic tonight was "Standard Bearing."

Friday night he will discuss "Old Testament Calvary;" Saturday, "Just Look at Yourself;" and Sunday, "The Church You Cannot Join."

The Rev. Oliver P. Brann, pastor, announces these meetings will be held at 7:30 p. m.

Prayer Service Set

A World Day of Prayer service will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the Piedmont Presbyterian church.

All of the churches of the Tri-Towns have been invited to participate and the service is being sponsored by the women of the churches, according to the Rev. Philip Cory, pastor.

Church Course Planned

A course for members of the W.S.C.S. and Wesleyan Service Guild of Trinity Methodist church will be taught by Mrs. Raymond L. Moore.

The first of the four sessions will be held at the home of Mrs. Vernon Frye, Westernport, next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. The subject of the course is "Cross Over Africa."

The W.S.C.S society hopes to achieve a jurisdictional year's credit for the course. Mrs. Raymond W. Reeves is worship chairman and Mrs. Frank Dayton, touring guide.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Fazenbaker, Baltimore, formerly of Westernport, announce the birth of a daughter in Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, W. Va., today. Mrs. Fazenbaker was the former Dorothy Casteel, R. N.

Parsons Man Is Given Jail Term On Theft Charge

Seven Divorce Cases Are Heard by Tucker County Court

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, March 7 — At the regular term of March court held in Parsons this week three felonies and two misdemeanors were reported by the grand jury and seven divorce cases to date.

In the felonies the grand jury reported were the cases of Jack Simpson, Parsons, who pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering the Parsons Supply store owned by J. Herman Lambert and stealing and carrying away a cash register valued at $100; currency totaling $14, of which $11.05 was recovered; checks totaling $197.06; five cartons of cigarets valued at $6.50 and fifteen pounds of meat valued at $4.50. He was sentenced to the state penitentary for a term of one to ten years with time off for the time he has served in the county jail.

Willis Lewis, Thomas, pleaded guilty to a theft of a suitcase of clothing and was paroled for three years. He is an ex-serviceman with an overseas record and holds an honorable discharge.

Elwood Evans, Leadmine road, an employe of the Davis Coal and Coke Company also pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving. He was paroled by the court for three years and was fined $25 and costs.

Two Men Released

In the case of Sheridan Burns, Hendricks, no indictment was returned by the grand jury and he was released from the custody of the court. He was being held on an alledged charge of rape to an 11-year-old Hendricks girl. John Zinn was also released from the custody of the court after an indictment was not returned against him by the grand jury.

No petit jury will be summoned for this term of court. In the divorce court several divorces have been heard with more to be heard before the close of court this week. Among those already heard include the case of Muriel McDaniel vs. James W. McDaniel whom she married February 25, 1941. The mother was granted the custody of their daughter, Anita Carolyn.

Atha Rae Nestor, Parsons, was granted a divorce and was awarded the custody of her daughter, Vancine Raye.

Receive Divorce

William Slaubaugh was granted an absolute divorce from Jerry Slaubaugh whom he married July 5, 1944.

Dorothea Mae Knecht was granted an absolute divorce from Melvin Knecht whom she married June 2, 1938, and was granted the custody of their child and support of that child.

Dorothea Leigh Cross was granted a divorce from Ellsworth Clay Cross, Parsons, and her maiden name of Dorothea Hartsaw restored to her. They were married April 20, 1943, at Parsons.

Clyde Edward King, Parsons, was granted a divorce from Viola Marie Martin King, Hambleton, and was ordered to pay support to their infant daughter, Anna Lea King. The couple were married January 13, 1945, in Hambleton.

Agatha Croston, Thomas, was granted a divorce from Jewel Croston whom she married September 14, 1934. The father will support their three children, Barbara, Billy and James, and the custody of their children was awarded to the mother.

Albert Lansberry, Davis, was granted a divorce from Catherine Lansberry whom he married August 5, 1942. The father was granted the custody of their infant daughter, Alberta.

School Is Closed

Reardon Cuppett, county superintendent, announced today that the third school of the county having a six month school term has been closed for the year. It was the Brushy Fork school taught by Mrs. Nellie Crossland. Two other schools were reported closed, the Canan school, taught by Fred Yeager, and the Cross school, taught by John Walton.

Sailor Breaks Arm

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mullenaux, Hendricks, have received word that their youngest son, Charles Mullenaux, Jr., seaman first class, stationed in Shanghai, China, recently fractured his left arm while playing football there and is now a patient on the hospital ship, the USS Repose. He is a former member of the football team of Parsons high school.

Miss Nada Braun Becomes Bride Of Davis Man

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, March 7—Miss Nada Louise Braun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Braun, Cleveland, Ohio, formerly of Davis, became the bride of William Montgomery Miller, son of Mrs. Ruth Miller, Davis, and the late William Miller, on Saturday afternoon.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. J. Bruce Kaufman, pastor, before an altar of tall cathedral candles, large white lilies and greenery. The couple exchanged their vows under an arch decorated with fern and white lilies.

Fifty one years ago, on the same altar, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Braun, grandparents of the bride exchanged their wedding vows in the first wedding to take place in the Lutheran church in Davis. Mr. and Mrs. Braun were in attendance at their granddaughter's wedding Saturday.

Preceding the ceremony a program of organ music was played by Mrs. Marjorie Penrod, who also played the traditional music for the processional and recessional. "Because" was sung by the soloist Miss Nancy Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Penrod.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a two-piece suit of light blue wool with navy blue accessories and completed her attire with a lapel corsage of white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Lee B. Tallman, Detroit, Mich., sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and wore a light brown suit with matching accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Braun wore a navy blue street length dress with fuschia accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Mrs. Miller wore a dress of gold colored wool and a corsage of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the future home of the bride and groom with over seventy-five attending. The rooms were decorated with baskets of large white lilies and bowls of yellow calendulas. The bride's table was centered with a large tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Aides were Mrs. W. L. Braun, Pittsubrgh, Miss Helen Braun, Parkersburg, and Miss Freda Braun, Washington, aunts of the bride and Mrs. Tallman, sister of the bridegroom. Also assisting were Mrs. E. F. Braun, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Aldith Patterson.

The bride is a graduate of Davis high school and of Wilcox College of Commerce, Cleveland, and at the time of her marriage was employed by the army air forces, in Cleveland.

Miller also a graduate of Davis high school, was discharged December 29, 1945, from the armed forces after serving since November 23, 1942. He was sent to the ETO theater on March 8, 1944 where he served as a sergeant of a replacement depot in Ireland, England, France, Belgium and Germany. He holds the ETO ribbon with two battle stars, the Good Conduct ribbon, the American theater ribbon and the Victory medal. He has recently resumed his former duties as assistant postmaster of Davis, the position he held when he entered the service.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: John B. Buskirk, Longacre, W. Va., Mrs. Franklin Smeck, Mrs. Clarence Monk, Reading, Pa., Mrs. Aldith Patterson of Alderson, Miss Patricia Patterson and Miss Mary Bogdonovich both of Morgantown; Miss Nita Ruckle of Baltimore, Md., Charles Braun, Cleveland, and Mrs. Lee B. Tallman, Detroit, Mich.

State Grants Funds For Garrett Library

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 7. (AP)—Governor O'Conor disclosed today that $1,758 had been granted Garrett county for support of a county library after qualifying under the new state library aid act.

The governor asserted the Garrett county commissioners had appropriated $4,000 for library purposes, which is more than the legal requirement of not less than two cents on each $100 of assessed valuation on taxable property in the county.

The chief executive added he would appoint shortly a library board to supervise the county library.

Prayer Service Is Scheduled Today In Hyndman

Churches of Community Expected To Take Part in Program

By LILLIAN HARDEN CRABTREE

HYNDMAN, Pa., March 7—The World's Day of Prayer service will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. in the Evangelical church.

Mrs. Mahlon Evans, of that church, is chairman, and will follow the program that is published by the United Council of Church Women, "The Things That Make for Peace," written by Miss Mabel Shaw, formerly of Mbereshi, Central Africa.

All five churches of the community are expected to participate and among the special selections will be solos by Mrs. Robert Logsdon and Mrs. Don Goodwin, Jr., and a duet by Mrs. James Owen and Mrs. John H. Buffenmyer.

Miss Idella Evans will be pianist for the service.

Miss Shaffer Is Wed

Miss Dorothy Irene Shaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Emerick, became the bride of Charles Mertz Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Taylor, Saxton, Mo., Monday evening.

The Rev. George E. Baughman, pastor of First Methodist church, Cumberland, Md., performed the ceremony at the parsonage. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stottemyer, Cumberland.

Minister Accepts Call by Pendleton County Church

The Rev. Delemo L. Beard Served Three Years as Navy Chaplain

By MYRTLE K. PARK

PETERSBURG, W. Va., March 7—The Rev. Delemo L. Beard has accepted a call by the Franklin, Ruddle, Upper Tract church of Pendleton county and has entered upon his work and will reside at Franklin.

The re-establishment of the pastorial relationship comes after he served three years as chaplain in the United States Navy. His previous pastorate at Franklin was dissolved in 1942 when he was commissioned a lieutenant after completing training at the Chaplain school in Norfolk, Va. During his active duty as a naval chaplain, he served with the Forty-seventh construction battalion in the Solomon Islands, on Guadalcanal and Southern New Georgia in the South Pacific. In February 1944 he was transferred to Parris Island, S. C., and in November of that year was transferred to the Bahia naval base in Brazil. He received the rank of lieutenant commander in July and was made resident chaplain of the Port Chicago Naval Magazine, California. He received his discharge in November 1945.

Dr. Beard is a graduate of Marysville college, Tennessee, and Union Theological seminary, Richmond. He received the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Edinburg, Scotland, in 1932. Prior to his first pastorate in Franklin he served as pastor of the Dayton-Bridgewater churches in Virginia.

Personal Items

Cpl. Ray Smith, Fort Meade, Md., is here visiting his wife, son and mother, Mrs. Sallie Smith, for a few days.

NLRB Dismisses Request for Vote At Paper Mills

Rules AFL Strength Is Not Sufficient To Warrant Election

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board announced today it had dismissed a petition filed by the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers (AFL) for an election by unions by employes of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company which now has a contract with the CIO.

The company has plants at Covington, Va., Williamsburg, Pa., and Luke, Md.

The CIO union, the Paper Workers Organizing Committee, won an election among the employes involved on August 29, 1944, the NLRB finding reported. A contract was signed between the CIO and the company, including a maintenance of membership agreement.

The finding said that a new contract between the CIO and company was initialled Aug. 20, 1945. Maintenance of membership was continued.

The NLRB found that a provision in the new contract permitted employes to escape from the CIO union if they so desired "for a period of fifteen days shortly before the Paper Mill Workers' request for recognition.

"Thus there was no requirement in effect which might have deterred employes from signing cards of the Paper Mill Workers. Under these circumstances, we are of the opinion that the Paper Mill Workers has failed to make a sufficient showing of interest to warrant an election upon its petition."

The Paper Mill Workers produced, the NLRB said, cards of less than eighteen per cent of the employes at any of the three plants.

Two Building Permits Are Granted Here

Two building permits were granted yesterday in the city engineer's office.

Mrs. Evers E. Smith secured a permit for her husband to build a garage at the rear of 1104 Michigan avenue, at an estimated cost of $200. The one-story structure, which will measure 14 by 20 feet, will have a concrete foundation, walls of concrete block, and a composition roof. Work will be done by the owner.

Mrs. Eva M. Blake, 9 North Lee street, was granted a permit to build a one-room addition to the first floor at the rear of her home. Cost is estimated at $500.

The addition, to measure 15 by 20 feet, will have a concrete block foundation, frame walls covered with insulbrick, and a composition roof. Work will be done by Jess Grabenstein.

Local Man Injured In Vehicle Crash

John Twigg, 32, Broadway, was being treated in Memorial hospital late last evening for injuries suffered when the motorcycle he was operating crashed at the intersection of Boone street and Virginia avenue at 11:35 p. m., Detective Edwin R. Lilya reported.

Detective Lila, who investigated with Detective Thomas J. See, said the injuried man was suffering from a deep cut over an eye and lacerations of the face. His injuries were not considered serious.

The local man was taken to the hospital by L. E. Rockwell, Short Gap, Detective Lilya said. The officers said no other vehicle was involved and Twigg was alone when the accident occurred.

work on the traffic problem. I'll probably have considerably more to say about this question later," he concluded.

When asked "Do you favor the plan which has been adopted for expansion of the city water system?" Davis replied as follows:

Favors Auxiliary Pipe Line

"If you mean the project of building or installing an auxiliary water line from the reservoirs in Pennsylvania to Cumberland, I do favor the plan. However, I believe the work should be done right and the line made of sufficient size, so that another will not be needed at a later date. Since a considerable amount of pipe and material has already been purchased by the city for the project, it is not reasonable that we should scrap it now. But I believe a larger line would have been more practicable and more economical in the longer run. Cumberland is a growing city, and water is perhaps as an important factor in a city's growth as anything else. You will remember that Dr. Thomas W. Koon was roundly criticised by many people for proposing and proceeding with the construction of Koon dam. Realizing the importance of the dam and the far-sightedness that made it possible, I favored it and worked for it at the time.

"As you know, I am a plumber by trade," he continued, "and this water supply business is right down my alley. You can't work at a trade for as many years as I have, and not learn a little something. And because it was important that I study the development and plans and progress of the city's water system, over a period of time, I have kept abreast of it. We have one of the best water systems and water supplies to be found anywhere. But it isn't worth anything unless it is made available to the individual consumer and to the industries that need water for production and expansion. So my answer to this question is, 'yes.' I favor any plan which is practical, that will keep our water system as good as it is now, and will make an adequate supply available for those who need it, and will make further growth and business and industrial expansion possible," he said.

Local News in Brief

The Fort Hill high school band under the direction of Frank M. Troy presented a concert in the school auditorium before the entire student body yesterday morning. Opening exercises were led by Harold Bishop. Eleanor Pinault read a passage from the Scripture.

Twenty-five candidates were initiated at last night's semi-monthly meeting of the Loyal Order of the Moose Lodge, Governor Frank Davis announced. Servicemen in the group were each given the organization's service recognition pin.

Mrs. Amanda B. Wertz yesterday docketed suit for an absolute divorce in circuit court from Ransom C. Wertz. According to the petition filed by Julius E. Schindler, they were married in Cumberland in 1929 and separated in 1944. Abandonment is charged. The wife also requests that the court restore her maiden name of Amanda Bridges.

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, yesterday started intensive work on next year's public school budget which will be completed by April. Superintendent Kopp explained that preparing a budget is really an all the year around proposition but that the job of drafting the budget is generally done in March. The superintendent anticipates a larger teaching staff for next year, he said yesterday.

East Side Fire Company answered a false alarm yesterday morning at 1:35 o'clock at the corner of Valley and Columbia streets.

Local OPA officials said yesterday that spare Stamp No. 9 in Ration Book No. 4 will be good for five pounds of sugar Monday. Stamp No. 39 is good for five pounds until April 30.

Condition of Mrs. Statler Is Reported Good After Birth of Twins

Mrs. Josephine Statler, 37, wife of Franklin Statler, Locust Grove, was reported in "good condition" last night at Memorial hospital where she was taken in a State Police ambulance about 2 a. m. yesterday on an emergency call.

Sgt. Thomas M. Hignutt and Trooper Harry Holsinger were first called to the Statler home about 12:30 a. m. When they arrived Mrs. Statler said she needed a physician. It was impossible to locate a physician immediately and the officers left.

A second call was received at 1:45 a. m. and when the officers arrived they found Mrs. Statler had given birth to twins. The birth was premature by several months and the officers were told that Mrs. Statler had fallen several days ago. The twins died at birth, Sgt. Hignutt said. Mrs. Statler's husband was the only person at the home, except two other children, when the births occurred.

Plans for Water Line Ready Soon, Mayor Says

Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday he has learned from Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, that plans for an auxiliary water line will be completed within a month, so that bids can be asked on the project.

Rizer is now in Roanoke, Va., inspecting a new type of concrete pipe manufactured by a company there, with regard to possible use of the pipe in the water line, Mayor Post said.

The city engineer was accompanied by his special assistant, William H. Marean; Water Commissioner William J. Edwards; and Charles J. Bruce, water superintendent. They plan to return Saturday.

Celanese Filtration Unit Elects Officers

William Price has been elected union chairman of the filtration department of the Celanese plant, according to the official ballot posted on the bulletin board at Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, union hall.

Fred Williams was named secretary. Members of the committee for "C" shift will be Jesse Barkley, Wilbert Bittner, Walter Hymes, Harold Magruder, Walter Mahaney, James Nolan and Robert Taylor.

Lonaconing Plant Is Subject of Conference

The reopening of the General Textile Mills plant at Lonaconing will be discussed tomorrow in New York by Robert Frieder, president of the firm and other officials, with James A. Dundon, regional director, and Joseph J. Barley, business manager, of Local 1874, TWUA. Barley said matters to be considered include the wage scale, back pay ordered by WLB and the hiring policy.

Two Births Reported In Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coakley, 55 Thomas street, announce the birth of a daughter in Memorial hospital yesterday morning.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Hamilton, Route 4, Irons Mountain, in Memorial hospital yesterday morning.

The miniature sawmill used in yesterday's discussions, the only one in the state, was constructed by B. M. Duncan, Baltimore, and is a nine-foot working model designed on the pattern of one-quarter inch to the foot. The model has all fixtures and safety devices found on full-size sawmills with the exception of an edger.

Kaylor said that the miniature sawmill has been of considerable worth in illustrating lumbering practices to classes made up of forestry personnel in every section of the state.

Yesterday's meeting here was one of a series now being conducted throughout the state on sound sawmill practices.

LONACONING, March 7—The World Day of Prayer will be celebrated Friday evening with a Union service in the Methodist church.

The women's groups of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches will have charge of the service.

The public is welcomed to this special service which will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Brief Mention

The officers of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church will be installed at the Sunday evening service at 7:30 o'clock.

The special meeting of the Alvin C. Neat Post No. 5280, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Lonaconing, posted for Thursday evening has been cancelled. Instead, the veterans will meet with the mayor, John H. Evans, and the town council, at a special meeting Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the council chamber, Railroad street.

DEATHS

WILLIAM RICE RITES

Funeral services for William Grant Rice, 75, Valley road at State Line, Pa., who died Tuesday at his home, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Centenary Methodist church.

The Rev. George E. Baughman, pastor of First Methodist church, officiated and interment was in Zion Memorial cemetery.

Pallbearers were Clinton Hardman, Charles Brotemarkle, Henry Nave, Charles Drake, A. M. McElfish and Elza Steele.

MRS. MARGARET FOREMAN

Mrs. Margaret Snyder Foreman, 87, widow of James Foreman, 432 North Centre street, died yesterday afternoon at 5:50 o'clock after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Foreman was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic church. She was a native of this city.

Surviving are three sons, Elwood Foreman, Washington, D. C.; Raymond, Baltimore, and Eugene Foreman, this city; one daughter, Mrs. Loretta Browning, Akron, Ohio, eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The body will remain at the Hafer funeral home.

IAMES RITES

Funeral services for Theodore Sanford Iames, 61, 628 Frederick street, who died Monday were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Kingsley Methodist church. The Rev. Hirl A. Kester, pastor of the church, officiated and burial was in Greenmount cemetery.

Pallbearers were Asa F. Simmons, Edward Keller, Julius Linaburg, John Creegan, Carl B. Perdew and Edward J. Kammsuf.

ROBERT H. HARTSOCK

Robert H. Hartsock, 41, a former resident of this city, died suddenly yesterday morning in Pennsylvania state hospital, Allentown, Pa.

He was a native of this city, a son of the late Howard and Elizabeth Weber Hartsock. He had been employed at the Bethlehem Steel Company mill at Allentown.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Doris Zimmerman, Baltimore; two sons, Robert L., Washington, D. C., and William Hartsock, this city; one sister, Mrs. Lloyd Cozad, this city, and two brothers, William F. Hartsock, Miami, Fla., and Virgil Hartsock, this city.

The body will arrive here Saturday and will be taken to the Kight funeral home here.

Local News in Brief

The Fort Hill high school band under the direction of Frank M. Troy presented a concert in the school auditorium before the entire student body yesterday morning. Opening exercises were led by Harold Bishop. Eleanor Pinault read a passage from the Scripture.

Twenty-five candidates were initiated at last night's semi-monthly meeting of the Loyal Order of the Moose Lodge, Governor Frank Davis announced. Servicemen in the group were each given the organization's service recognition pin.

Mrs. Amanda B. Wertz yesterday docketed suit for an absolute divorce in circuit court from Ransom C. Wertz. According to the petition filed by Julius E. Schindler, they were married in Cumberland in 1929 and separated in 1944. Abandonment is charged. The wife also requests that the court restore her maiden name of Amanda Bridges.

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, yesterday started intensive work on next year's public school budget which will be completed by April. Superintendent Kopp explained that preparing a budget is really an all the year around proposition but that the job of drafting the budget is generally done in March. The superintendent anticipates a larger teaching staff for next year, he said yesterday.

East Side Fire Company answered a false alarm yesterday morning at 1:35 o'clock at the corner of Valley and Columbia streets.

Local OPA officials said yesterday that spare Stamp No. 9 in Ration Book No. 4 will be good for five pounds of sugar Monday. Stamp No. 39 is good for five pounds until April 30.

Condition of Mrs. Statler Is Reported Good After Birth of Twins

Mrs. Josephine Statler, 37, wife of Franklin Statler, Locust Grove, was reported in "good condition" last night at Memorial hospital where she was taken in a State Police ambulance about 2 a. m. yesterday on an emergency call.

Sgt. Thomas M. Hignutt and Trooper Harry Holsinger were first called to the Statler home about 12:30 a. m. When they arrived Mrs. Statler said she needed a physician. It was impossible to locate a physician immediately and the officers left.

A second call was received at 1:45 a. m. and when the officers arrived they found Mrs. Statler had given birth to twins. The birth was premature by several months and the officers were told that Mrs. Statler had fallen several days ago. The twins died at birth, Sgt. Hignutt said. Mrs. Statler's husband was the only person at the home, except two other children, when the births occurred.

Plans for Water Line Ready Soon, Mayor Says

Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday he has learned from Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, that plans for an auxiliary water line will be completed within a month, so that bids can be asked on the project.

Rizer is now in Roanoke, Va., inspecting a new type of concrete pipe manufactured by a company there, with regard to possible use of the pipe in the water line, Mayor Post said.

The city engineer was accompanied by his special assistant, William H. Marean; Water Commissioner William J. Edwards; and Charles J. Bruce, water superintendent. They plan to return Saturday.

Celanese Filtration Unit Elects Officers

William Price has been elected union chairman of the filtration department of the Celanese plant, according to the official ballot posted on the bulletin board at Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, union hall.

Fred Williams was named secretary. Members of the committee for "C" shift will be Jesse Barkley, Wilbert Bittner, Walter Hymes, Harold Magruder, Walter Mahaney, James Nolan and Robert Taylor.

Lonaconing Plant Is Subject of Conference

The reopening of the General Textile Mills plant at Lonaconing will be discussed tomorrow in New York by Robert Frieder, president of the firm and other officials, with James A. Dundon, regional director, and Joseph J. Barley, business manager, of Local 1874, TWUA. Barley said matters to be considered include the wage scale, back pay ordered by WLB and the hiring policy.

Two Births Reported In Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coakley, 55 Thomas street, announce the birth of a daughter in Memorial hospital yesterday morning.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Hamilton, Route 4, Irons Mountain, in Memorial hospital yesterday morning.

The miniature sawmill used in yesterday's discussions, the only one in the state, was constructed by B. M. Duncan, Baltimore, and is a nine-foot working model designed on the pattern of one-quarter inch to the foot. The model has all fixtures and safety devices found on full-size sawmills with the exception of an edger.

Kaylor said that the miniature sawmill has been of considerable worth in illustrating lumbering practices to classes made up of forestry personnel in every section of the state.

Yesterday's meeting here was one of a series now being conducted throughout the state on sound sawmill practices.

Police Investigate Vandalism at Home On Washington Street

Police were notified Wednesday that the home of Edgar Dawson, 212 Washington street, had been broken into within the last ten days. The intruders, police were told, gained entrance by breaking a glass in a kitchen window and opening the catch. The home was ransacked, police were told, from top to bottom.

J. M. Taylor, 822 Greene street, also reported that a number of articles have been stolen from the garage of his home recently. He listed two shovels, spade, two picks and an ice scraper as missing.

A third case of breaking and entering was reported in the bowling alleys of SS. Peter and Paul which, police were told, was broken into between Tuesday evening and yesterday morning.

Leonard Mattingly Is on Way Home

WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY IN JAPAN — Pfc. Leonard F. Mattingly a Cumberland, Md., paratrooper with the Eleventh airborne division is on his way home. Mattingly's stateside arrival will depend on the shipping facilities and the speed at which separation center can turn him out, but he has been relieved from this division and transferred to a replacement depot.

Mattingly was inducted into the army in February, 1945 and joined the Eleventh airborne in November, 1945. Leonard is entitled to wear the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon and the Victory medal.

His parents live at 529 Riehl avenue, Cumberland, Md.

Allegany County 4-H Boys Attend Meeting

Fourteen Allegany county 4-H Boys' Clubs this week are participating in National Club Week and have an exhibit at the Sears Roebuck store on Baltimore street and will conduct their annual roundup March 16 at Fort Hill high school.

The window demonstration at the Sears Roebuck store includes a frame of bees donated by James Lindner, Shades Lane, and half a ham submitted by James and Edward Greise, Mason road.

Coach Eugene Hopkins, Fort Hill high, will have charge of the annual roundup March 16 when 150 boys are expected to participate in a full program of games and athletic contests.

LOSE UGLY POUNDS FAST WITHOUT HUNGER MISERY!

Tremett Tastes As Good As Malted Milk. Helps Prevent Hunger-Pangs While Reducing!

Most people who determine to take off unsightly poundage—and keep it off—find it next to impossible to resist fattening foods long enough to insure results. But when Tremett, the amazing food supplement, is taken according to directions, the urge to "cheat" on reducing diets is no longer a temptation. The suffering and misery of reducing is banished! For Tremett helps keep you satisfied and filled—and contains the necessary minerals and vitamins to normally sustain those on restricted diets. And Tremett tastes as good as a soda fountain drink! It's actually delicious!

Results — Or Money Back In Full!

Tremett must give you the results you seek—easier, more pleasantly—and within 30 days—or your money will be refunded in full. There is only one genuine Tremett. Accept no "just as good" substitute.

Doctor's Wife Loses Nearly Five Pounds

"Being a doctor's wife I could hardly believe Tremett could do all you claim. Tried one bottle and lost nearly five pounds in a week." Mrs. H. L., Florida.

Reduces From size 42 to size 20

"Before taking Tremett my niece wore size 42 dress. Now she wears size 20 and even that is too large. She reduced her waist five or six inches and lost weight." Mrs. O. M., Ohio.

Friends See Results

"My friends have seen the results of my taking Tremett. Now they want it, too. I wouldn't be without such a beneficial product." Mrs. R. B., California.

THEY USED TO CALL HER FATTY

Recommended Tremett to 25 Friends

"I have been taking Tremett for two months with wonderful results. I have sold 25 other persons on this amazing product." Miss N. P., Louisiana.

LOSE UGLY POUNDS FAST WITHOUT HUNGER MISERY!

Tremett Tastes As Good As Malted Milk. Helps Prevent Hunger-Pangs While Reducing!

Most people who determine to take off unsightly poundage—and keep it off—find it next to impossible to resist fattening foods long enough to insure results. But when Tremett, the amazing food supplement, is taken according to directions, the urge to "cheat" on reducing diets is no longer a temptation. The suffering and misery of reducing is banished! For Tremett helps keep you satisfied and filled—and contains the necessary minerals and vitamins to normally sustain those on restricted diets. And Tremett tastes as good as a soda fountain drink! It's actually delicious!

Results — Or Money Back In Full!

Tremett must give you the results you seek—easier, more pleasantly—and within 30 days—or your money will be refunded in full. There is only one genuine Tremett. Accept no "just as good" substitute.

Doctor's Wife Loses Nearly Five Pounds

"Being a doctor's wife I could hardly believe Tremett could do all you claim. Tried one bottle and lost nearly five pounds in a week." Mrs. H. L., Florida.

Reduces From size 42 to size 20

"Before taking Tremett my niece wore size 42 dress. Now she wears size 20 and even that is too large. She reduced her waist five or six inches and lost weight." Mrs. O. M., Ohio.

Friends See Results

"My friends have seen the results of my taking Tremett. Now they want it, too. I wouldn't be without such a beneficial product." Mrs. R. B., California.

THEY USED TO CALL HER FATTY

Recommended Tremett to 25 Friends

Stocks Negotiate Creeping Rally On Relatively Small Volume

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP) — The stock market negotiated another creeping rally today on a relatively small volume.

"Thinness" ruled the proceedings from the start. While scattered losers were in evidence at the close, plus marks of fractions to seven points predominated. The ticker tape frequently halted. Transfers of 900,000 shares compared with 890,000 Wednesday.

Better performers were liquors, rails, rubbers, amusements, aircrafts, motors, mail orders as assorted utilities. Steels were narrow.

Hiram Walker was up seven points on 1,000 shares, Peoples Gas 5¼ on 600 and Douglas Aircraft 4 on 2,400. Lesser gainers included Schenley, National Distillers, Distillers Corp., Santa Fe, Chesapeake & Ohio, M-K-T comman and preferred, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Paramount Pictures, Twentieth Century-Fox, Boeing, Chrysler, Budd Wheel, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, International Telephone, North American, General Electric, Philip Morris, International Harvester, Anaconda, American Woolen and Barnsdall Oil.

Among decliners were Western Union "A", Westinghouse, J. C. Penney, Caterpillar Tractor and American Smelting.

Railway bonds stiffened. At Chicago wheat, rye and oats were unchanged to off ½, ⅞ and 1¾ cents a bushel, respectively. Cotton added forty-five cents to $1.10 a bale.

Secondary rails led a modest upturn in the bond market with advances of fractions to more than two points.

Total sales of $4,250,000 compared with $4,310,000 Wednesday.

U. S. Government bonds on the stock exchange were narrow and mixed.

How To Hold
FALSE TEETH
More Firmly In Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wabbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store. —Advertisement

War is Never Over for the RED CROSS

They need your Red Cross today—and for many tomorrows!

THEY lie in hospitals, thousands of America's finest, sick, blinded, cruelly maimed in the fight for our freedom. Who is to write their letters, hear their troubles, answer when they call for "Mom"? Mom can't be there. But your Red Cross can, and must be there.

Many thousands more young Americans are still overseas. They, too, count on the Red Cross for comfort and cheer in the long, weary months of waiting to come home to you.

And whenever, wherever disaster strikes here in America—fire, flood, tornado, famine—your Red Cross must be ready with aid for the victims. It must feed and shelter those left hungry and homeless, and when the first shock of emergency is over, take up the long, arduous work of rehabilitation.

Yes, there's a big job still to be done. Is it too big? Not for the Red Cross. Not for you—because you are the Red Cross.

Give generously. Give now. Give a little more than you think you can afford. Remember this is your chance to say, "Thanks! Thanks, Soldier, for all you've done!"

YOUR Red Cross MUST CARRY ON . . . GIVE!

$500 for One Slip

NEW YORK (AP)—Lee Welfare, 48, apartment house superintendent, had been arrested and convicted eight times on gambling charges, so when he was brought up on a charge of possessing one—just one—policy slip and pleaded guilty, Magistrate Robert F. Mahoney fined him $500 with an alternative of six months in jail.

War is Never Over for the RED CROSS

They need your Red Cross today—and for many tomorrows!

THEY lie in hospitals, thousands of America's finest, sick, blinded, cruelly maimed in the fight for our freedom. Who is to write their letters, hear their troubles, answer when they call for "Mom"? Mom can't be there. But your Red Cross can, and must be there.

Many thousands more young Americans are still overseas. They, too, count on the Red Cross for comfort and cheer in the long, weary months of waiting to come home to you.

And whenever, wherever disaster strikes here in America—fire, flood, tornado, famine—your Red Cross must be ready with aid for the victims. It must feed and shelter those left hungry and homeless, and when the first shock of emergency is over, take up the long, arduous work of rehabilitation.

Yes, there's a big job still to be done. Is it too big? Not for the Red Cross. Not for you—because you are the Red Cross.

Give generously. Give now. Give a little more than you think you can afford. Remember this is your chance to say, "Thanks! Thanks, Soldier, for all you've done!"

YOUR Red Cross MUST CARRY ON . . . GIVE!

FRIDAY, MARCH 8

Low Tide: "Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, O Lord", Psalm 130:1. Read Psalm 130; I Kings 19:1-4; or Luke 18:10-14.

Elijah under his juniper tree, the publican in the temple, and the Psalmist in his shadowed station were all alike in their despondencies. They were like a salt water marsh at low tide, drained of all that once filled and brightened them.

Dr. Atkins

But low tide in the marshes is an invitation to the waiting ocean to refill their channels. Low tide in our spirits may become a waiting for new forces and fulness of life. When we are emptied of pride and conceit there is room for self-examinations and brave renewed endeavors and an appeal to God out of the depths. These are both healing and power in our moments of humility. The redemptive and reforming movement in history have always dated from periods of difficulty and depression. Christianity itself began in a world (like our) sunk in evil and hopelessness. Man's extremity is God's opportunity. Then as we seek His help, God's greatness floods our incompletenesses and surrounds our restlessness with his rest, because all the channels of our souls are open.

Prayer: O Thou, who being always mindful of Thy children, are nearest to those who need Thee most, grant that, being in any low estate, we may not give way to discouragement. May our needs become through our seeking, the channels. Thy mercy and strength and so may the tides turn again for us. In the Master's Name. Amen.

Polish Peasant Leader Upholds Press Freedom

WARSAW—(AP) — Vice-Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, head of the Polish Peasant party, is against the government's nationalization of printing shops.

"With the nation's press in the hands of the government, there can be no freedom of the press," he said, setting forth party policy.

He asked why the provisional government should "curtail both bread and freedom." The party opposes compensation for confiscated property, he explained, because this will drain off money the people need for food.

In Sock Shopping, It's Brown for Whyte

YORKTOWN, Sask.—(AP) — Alf Brown of nearby Willowbrook opened his general store for business May 3, 1943, and his first customer was Jimmy Whyte, who bought a pair of socks.

After thirty-two years in business, Brown sold out recently but as he was locking up for the last time a customer rapped on the door.

Yes, it was Jimmy Whyte—and he was looking for a pair of socks.

FRIDAY, MARCH 8

Low Tide: "Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, O Lord", Psalm 130:1. Read Psalm 130; I Kings 19:1-4; or Luke 18:10-14.

Elijah under his juniper tree, the publican in the temple, and the Psalmist in his shadowed station were all alike in their despondencies. They were like a salt water marsh at low tide, drained of all that once filled and brightened them.

Dr. Atkins

But low tide in the marshes is an invitation to the waiting ocean to refill their channels. Low tide in our spirits may become a waiting for new forces and fulness of life. When we are emptied of pride and conceit there is room for self-examinations and brave renewed endeavors and an appeal to God out of the depths. These are both healing and power in our moments of humility. The redemptive and reforming movement in history have always dated from periods of difficulty and depression. Christianity itself began in a world (like our) sunk in evil and hopelessness. Man's extremity is God's opportunity. Then as we seek His help, God's greatness floods our incompletenesses and surrounds our restlessness with his rest, because all the channels of our souls are open.

Prayer: O Thou, who being always mindful of Thy children, are nearest to those who need Thee most, grant that, being in any low estate, we may not give way to discouragement. May our needs become through our seeking, the channels. Thy mercy and strength and so may the tides turn again for us. In the Master's Name. Amen.

"With the nation's press in the hands of the government, there can be no freedom of the press," he said, setting forth party policy.

He asked why the provisional government should "curtail both bread and freedom." The party opposes compensation for confiscated property, he explained, because this will drain off money the people need for food.

WHY WON'T WOMEN STAY PUT?

"Why can'tya be satisfied with a quiet evening at home like me? Why do you women always wanna go gadding the minute supper's over—nagging at a man to take them to a movie or a night spot? Don'tcha ever appreciate a nice, restful home and a few quiet hours away from all that grabbing and gobbling, the way husbands do? But no! All you women think of is galivanting somewhere!"

Sound familiar? It should. Most of us were raised on that nightly dialogue between Dad and Mom and chances are, are regaling our youngsters with the same old corny gripe.

For men have been wondering why women don't stay put since time began, and you'll hear their wail increasing in frequency and bitterness during these tumultuous postwar days.

It was bad enough back in 1900 for Mom to wreck Dad's comfort by expecting a little evening relaxation. But nowadays millions of moms and daughters are actually demanding as full and free a working program as any man and stoutly refusing to admit that housekeeping is the one and only divinely ordained women's sphere.

Could anything be more unreasonable? Yes, a lot of things could be. In fact I doubt if jobs for women are any more unreasonable than those for men or more apt to send the human race to the dogs as the majority of males prophesy. To the contrary I expect that, given time, this fuller working freedom for women is going to result in far happier homes, more harmonious families and infinitely more wholesome and congenial marriage.

Getting back to our original question—"Why won't women stay put?"—the answer is perfectly obvious to anything but male prejudice. Women won't stay put for exactly the same reason that men wouldn't stay put if they had to work under identical circumstances. Force a man to stay within the same four walls twenty-four hours per day and he'd speedily develop bright purple fits, even in the most cherished home and with the most beloved family. That 1900 mom didn't expect a little change come nightfall because she was an exasperating, cantankerous, neurotic and thoroughly cussed human being. She desired that change for exactly the same reason that a man will vary his routine by swapping a gob of gossip or a fictitious golf score with the fellow in the next office.

Human beings are gregarious animals. They were never intended to stay cooped in one spot doing one chore. They need to move around mentally as well as physically.

Why won't women stay put? That's why and if any man doesn't believe me just let him try staying with a teething baby and a burning stew for seventy-two hours and no detours. That will l'arn him!

Now as to the larger issues—this horrifying idea of women working outside their homes and even insisting on retaining their jobs when their lords and masters are looking for an industrial niche of their own. Well, why shouldn't women retain their jobs or get new ones if they like them better? Regardless of the domestic need for their paychecks, which nearly always exists, the woman herself needs that job with its appendant diversity of experiences quite as much as the man needs his.

Moreover, why should the man consider that he has priority rights to most current jobs? As a matter of fact the machine age is actually based on jobs which men glaumed wholesale out of the home. Baking, sewing, laundry work, cleaning—all those jobs were once notably feminine. And while their appropriation has added enormously to masculine profit it has done very serious things to the home.

The average smart young American bride has barely enough manual labor in her honeymoon apartment to keep a gnat busy. What is she to do with her spare time? Take up shoplifting? Is that preferable to operating a drill press? Or being a nurses' aide? Or has the healthy and super courageous male a better suggestion to offer?

Having taken our bake ovens away and snitched our sewing machines, messieurs, where de we gals go from here? I don't know. But of one thing you may rest assured—it won't be to the dogs. Working wives are still women and women, take them by and large, have always been fairly reliable outfits and practically indispensable to the sterner sex even though it does scream to heaven and chew its nails at the sight of their social security cards.

Swiss Fix Trains

BERN (AP)—Part of France's battered rolling stock is being repaired in Switzerland. Swiss Federal Railways spokesmen said twenty-four damaged locomotives and 830 boxcars had been turned over to Swiss repairmen and it was planned to overhaul 5,000 additional cars, 250 a month.

Polish Divorces Available at a Price

WARSAW (AP)—For the first time in 1,000 years, Poles now may obtain divorces—if they have enough money.

The newspaper Dziennik Ludowy says that under Poland's new marriage law, which requires ceremonies to be performed by civil registrars and sets up twelve grounds for divorce, the lowest advance payment to obtain a divorce is 3,000 zlotys (about $30), and the average Pole doesn't earn that much in a month.

St. Patrick's Day Party

EAT THESE PLACECARDS . . . made in the kitchen.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Here's an idea for your St. Patrick's day party that we got from a real artist-in-the-kitchen, Mrs. John L. Hornbach, of Grand Rapids, Michigan. She dreams up charming little cooky figures for every season of the year. It's a home industry, but the cookies are mailed all over the country for parties and festivals.

In your own kitchen you can come pretty close to duplicating Mrs. Hornbach's artistry. All you need is a batch of cooky dough, a paper pattern (cut from a doll pattern book or fancy greeting cards, or what-have-you) and a little bowl of frosting. Don't be too ambitious to begin with. Plan to make only some cooky placecards the first time. Your original batch may not be as professional-looking as those made by Mrs. Hornbach, but they'll be mighty attractive anyway. Use the remaining dough for plain cookies to serve with sliced fruit or ice cream for the party dessert.

Cut-Out Molasses Cookies

½ cup fortified margarine
¼ cup sugar
¾ cup old-fashioned molasses
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg, well beaten
2½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon anise powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt

Cream together margarine and sugar. Add molasses gradually, then vanilla and egg. Sift together the dry ingredients and stir in a little at a time to make a stiff but not dry dough. Mix until well blended. Wrap in waxed paper and chill for an hour. Roll thin on a lightly floured board. Cut into fancy shapes with a cooky cutter or with a paper pattern and a sharp-pointed paring knife to follow the pattern. Bake on ungreased cooky sheet in 350 degree oven eight to ten minutes. Cool and frost as desired. (Note the ungreased cooky sheet—used in order to prevent spreading of cookies during baking, and be sure to take time for chilling the dough. It is much easier to handle that way.)

Fancy Frosting

Note first that frosting takes sugar! That is one reason why we suggest that you ornament only the placecard cookies. Serve the others plain, or frosted with simple Water Icing.

Sugar Icing

Sugar Icing
½ cup confectioner's sugar
1 egg white
1 drop lemon juice

Sift sugar. Add egg white and lemon juice and work until very smooth.

Separate into three little batches (in baking cups) and add green coloring to one portion; pink coloring to a second. Leave the third portion white.

Chocolate

Chocolate
2-3 square sweet chocolate
Dash of anise powder

Melt chocolate and mix well with anise.

Small currants, candy dragees, red cinnamon drops and small nutmeats should be on hand to use for buttons, embroidery or bouquets.

When it comes to the actual frosting you play the artist. Apply colored frosting with a small knife. Add melted chocolate with the tip of a knife or the tip of a toothpick.

Seek Missing Girl

Police have been asked to search for Phyllis K. Bice, 17, Hollidaysburg, Pa., who authorities were told was last seen in Altoona, Pa. The girl is five feet, four inches tall, weights about 100 pounds, is blonde and has blue eyes. Pennsylvania authorities said the girl may have come to this city, police said.

Tax Office To Stay Open on Saturday, Stakem Announces

The local office of Internal Revenue bureau, will remain open Saturday, all day, to assist tax payers to file income tax returns, Richard J. Stakem, division chief said yesterday.

About 600 persons have been filing returns or obtaining help in completing forms at the office each day, Stakem said. March 15, is the deadline for filing, and the office will not remain open on that day until midnight, as has been done in the past.

There are six deputy collectors and clerks on duty, and the crowds that come daily to file returns are being handled quickly and efficiently.

Most tax payers are using form W-2 in making out returns, Stakem said, and this short form saves time. About 6,000 W-2 forms have been filed here and Stakem estimates that about 8,000 to 10,000 persons have filed returns. Last year, the total returns filed was about 13,000.

Divorce Is Granted

Denzel Udell Kidwell, of 356 Houston street, Washington, Pa., has been granted a divorce from Mrs. Wilda Viola Kidwell, of Westernport, in a decree signed in Washington county (Pennsylvania) court on grounds of desertion. They were married July 15, 1942, in Cumberland and lived together until August 19, 1943.

Mrs. Kidwell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arnold and has a young daughter, Barbara Ellen Kidwell, who lives with her in Westernport.

St. Patrick's Day Party

EAT THESE PLACECARDS . . . made in the kitchen.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Here's an idea for your St. Patrick's day party that we got from a real artist-in-the-kitchen. Mrs. John L. Hornbach, of Grand Rapids, Michigan. She dreams up charming little cooky figures for every season of the year. It's a home industry, but the cookies are mailed all over the country for parties and festivals.

In your own kitchen you can come pretty close to duplicating Mrs. Hornbach's artistry. All you need is a batch of cooky dough, a paper pattern (cut from a doll pattern book or fancy greeting cards, or what-have-you) and a little bowl of frosting. Don't be too ambitious to begin with. Plan to make only some cooky placecards the first time. Your original batch may not be as professional-looking as those made by Mrs. Hornbach, but they'll be mighty attractive anyway. Use the remaining dough for plain cookies to serve with sliced fruit or ice cream for the party dessert.

Cut-Out Molasses Cookies

½ cup fortified margarine
¼ cup sugar
¾ cup old-fashioned molasses
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg, well beaten
2½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon anise powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt

Cream together margarine and sugar. Add molasses gradually, then vanilla and egg. Sift together the dry ingredients and stir in a little at a time to make a stiff but not dry dough. Mix until well blended. Wrap in waxed paper and chill for an hour. Roll thin on a lightly floured board. Cut into fancy shapes with a cooky cutter or with a paper pattern and a sharp-pointed paring knife to follow the pattern. Bake on ungreased cooky sheet in 350 degree oven eight to ten minutes. Cool and frost as desired. (Note the ungreased cooky sheet—used in order to prevent spreading of cookies during baking, and be sure to take time for chilling the dough. It is much easier to handle that way.)

Fancy Frosting

Note first that frosting takes sugar! That is one reason why we suggest that you ornament only the placecard cookies. Serve the others plain, or frosted with simple Water Icing.

Sugar Icing

Sugar Icing
½ cup confectioner's sugar
1 egg white
1 drop lemon juice

Sift sugar. Add egg white and lemon juice and work until very smooth.

Separate into three little batches (in baking cups) and add green coloring to one portion; pink coloring to a second. Leave the third portion white.

Chocolate

Chocolate
2-3 square sweet chocolate
Dash of anise powder

Melt chocolate and mix well with anise.

Small currants, candy dragees, red cinnamon drops and small nutmeats should be on hand to use for buttons, embroidery or bouquets.

When it comes to the actual frosting you play the artist. Apply colored frosting with a small knife. Add melted chocolate with the tip of a knife or the tip of a toothpick.

Seek Missing Girl

Police have been asked to search for Phyllis K. Bice, 17, Hollidaysburg, Pa., who authorities were told was last seen in Altoona, Pa. The girl is five feet, four inches tall, weights about 100 pounds, is blonde and has blue eyes. Pennsylvania authorities said the girl may have come to this city, police said.

Tax Office To Stay Open on Saturday, Stakem Announces

The local office of Internal Revenue bureau, will remain open Saturday, all day, to assist tax payers to file income tax returns, Richard J. Stakem, division chief said yesterday.

About 600 persons have been filing returns or obtaining help in completing forms at the office each day, Stakem said. March 15, is the deadline for filing, and the office will not remain open on that day until midnight, as has been done in the past.

There are six deputy collectors and clerks on duty, and the crowds that come daily to file returns are being handled quickly and efficiently.

Most tax payers are using form W-2 in making out returns, Stakem said, and this short form saves time. About 6,000 W-2 forms have been filed here and Stakem estimates that about 8,000 to 10,000 persons have filed returns. Last year, the total returns filed was about 13,000.

Divorce Is Granted

Denzel Udell Kidwell, of 356 Houston street, Washington, Pa., has been granted a divorce from Mrs. Wilda Viola Kidwell, of Westernport, in a decree signed in Washington county (Pennsylvania) court on grounds of desertion. They were married July 15, 1942, in Cumberland and lived together until August 19, 1943.

Mrs. Kidwell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arnold and has a young daughter, Barbara Ellen Kidwell, who lives with her in Westernport.

Keyser, Parsons Tournaments Open Today

Winners Will Qualify For Region No. 4 Games

Elk Garden-Fort Ashby Open Keyser Tourney; Franklin - Circleville Tangle at Parsons

Sectional basketball tournaments will get under way today at Potomac State School, Keyser, and Parsons high school in Tucker county, to determine the teams that will compete for the Region No. 4 championship in games to be played in Keyser on March 15 and 16.

Winners of the Shepherd College and Kingwood high school tournaments will also compete in the Keyser games next week and the victor will represent Region No. 4 in the annual West Virginia championship tourney in Morgantown.

Records Are Indicated

Pairings for the Keyser sectional contests today are: (records are indicated in parenthesis)

Elk Garden (18-4) vs. Fort Ashby (9-11), 1 p. m.
Keyser (16-6) vs. Capon Bridge (0-10), 2:30 p. m.
Ridgeley (13-8) vs. Romney (3-15), 4 p. m.
Piedmont (17-4) vs. Fort Ashby-Elk Garden winner, 8 p. m.
Keyser vs. Capon Bridge-Romney winner, 9:30 p. m.

The third place game is set for 7:30 p. m., and the championship contest at 9 p. m. tomorrow.

"Eck" Miers, of Keyser, and Clifton Van Roby, of Cumberland, will do the officiating.

The Parsons sectional tournament opening round games will be staged today with "Chuck" Weihl, of Weston; "Bud" Shelton, of Elkins, and Arthur Quattro, of Thomas as the officials.

Pairings for today's games with records of teams indicated in parenthesis, are:

Franklin (4-6) vs. Circleville (4-4), 1:30 p. m.
Davis (13-8) vs. Petersburg (4-11), 1 p. m.
Moorefield (16-5) vs. Parsons (10-10), 1 p. m.
Thomas (13-8) vs. Bayard (1-11), 9 p. m.

Semi-finals are set for 1:30 and 3 p. m., Saturday, the third place game at 7:30 p. m., and the championship contest at 9 p. m. Consolation contests will be staged Saturday at 9 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.

Circleville's list of eligible players was received in Parsons this week and includes W. Allen, H. Bennett, R. Bennett, P. Arbogast, B. Cooke, M. Cooke, D. Mitchell, A. Smith, E. Ruddle and W. Teter.

Topnotchers Listed

A three-cornered battle for championship honors among Piedmont, Keyser and Ridgeley is expected in the tourney at Keyser while Davis, Moorefield and Thomas loom as the best bets in the meet at Parsons.

Garbark To Manage Legion's Interstate Baseball Tossers

Art Garbark has been appointed manager of the baseball team of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, of the newly formed Interstate League.

He is a brother of Mike and Bob Garbark, major league catchers, and played with the Colts in the Pen-Mar League in 1944.

The Legion has named Frank Zahradka and Norman Gerdeman to handle the junior baseball team. The former assisted the late W. Earl Brooks, manager of the Legion junior nine that won the "little world series" for Cumberland at Chicago in 1934. Boys 17 years and under are eligible to play with the Legion junior nine.

Madden McGinn has been appointed to manage the Legion's 1946 softball team.

Dixie Pro Grid League Includes Six Teams

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Dixie Professional Football League will operate during the coming season with six teams, including Richmond, Norfolk, Newport News and Portsmouth in Virginia and Charlotte and Greensboro in North Carolina.

Judge William H. Nickels, Jr., of Richmond has been re-elected league president, and George R. Hutchins, general manager of Portsmouth, has been elected secretary-treasurer. Hank Wolfe of Richmond is league statistician.

City College Upsets N.Y.U. Quintet, 49-44

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—City College's underdog basketball team turned in one of the most amazing cage upsets of the year by defeating the highly regarded New York university five, 49-44, tonight in the nightcap of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden, before a crowd of 18,374.

In the first game St. John's university, defeated St. Francis college, Brooklyn, 48-39.

Mathias Upsets Paw Paw Cagers In Tournament

Wardensville High Loses; Rowlesburg Advances at Kingwood

Mathias high school, of Hardy county, provided a big surprise in the Shepherdstown regional basketball tournament last night by eliminating the Paw Paw high school Mountaineers by the score of 52 to 44 and thereby gaining the right to play Charles Town in the semi-final round tonight at 9 o'clock on the Shepherd college court.

In the other semi-final game tonight Shepherdstown high school will play Harper's Ferry at 7:30 o'clock. Shepherdstown advanced by spilling Martinsburg on Wednesday night by the score of 28 to 25 in another tourney upset. Charles Town escorted Berkeley Springs high out of the tourney by winning to the tune of 52 to 31 in the opening round and vanquishing Wardensville high school tonight, 44 to 26. Harper's Ferry gained a place in the semi-finals by turning back Hedgesville, 28-17.

The winner of Saturday night's championship game, scheduled for 8 o'clock, will compete in the Region No. 4 tournament in Keyser on March 15 and 16.

Rowlesburg high school's River Lions will play Kingwood at 8 p. m., and Aurora will oppose Terra Alta at 9 o'clock in the semi-finals of the tournament at Kingwood high school tonight.

Finals are set for Saturday night at 9 o'clock and the winning team will earn the right to compete in the Region No. 4 tourney in Keyser next week.

Three contests were played last night in the Kingwood tourney at which Don Eicher and "Buck" Killen are officiating. Aurora eliminated Arthurdale, 29-20, Kingwood downed Tunnelton, 38-28 and Terra Alta walloped Newburg, 50-32.

In Wednesday night games Tunnelton took Masontown, 26-21, Rowlesburg won over Fellowsville, 52-39, and Newburg eliminated Bruceton, 39-24.

Davis Is Answer To Many Prayers

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va.—(AP)—Andy Gustafson, Army's backfield coach, tells this one—

It seems Glen Davis, one of Army's two All-America backs, got a letter from one of his female football fans which, in part, said:

"I pray for you every Sunday morning."

Davis showed the letter to Doc Blanchard, the other Army All-America back, who casually remarked after scanning the page:

"You'd better write her and tell her to pray for you on Saturday afternoons—that's when you need it the most."

Roth Scores Ka o

PITTSBURGH, March 7 (AP)—Charley Roth, 189, Akron, scored a technical knockout over Art Morrow, 197, Cleveland in the seventh frame of a 10-round main bout at Aragon Gardens tonight.

Roth floored Morrow for a nine count in the seventh and then draped him over the ropes with another blow, after which Referee Mike Hogan stopped the bout at 2:30.

Snead and Byrd, Nelson, McSpaden Win in Tourney

Hogan-Demaret, Wood-Pena, Mangrum-Little Cop Four-Ball Matches

By WILBUR JENNINGS

MIAMI, Fla., March 7 (AP)—The two Sammies — Snead, ex-Virginia hillbilly, and Byrd, the ex-New York Yankee, served notice that they were out to win Miami's $7,500 international four-ball golf tournament today when they burned up the fairways to eliminate Clayton Heafner, of Charlotte, N. C., and Jimmy Thomson, of New York, 8 and 6, in a first round match.

The "gold dust" twins — Byron Nelson, of Toledo, O., and Harold (Jug) McSpaden, of Sanford, Me., won a difficult 2-up victory over the veterans Willie Klein, of Miami Beach, and Willie Goggin, of White Plains, N. Y.

Little Benny Hogan, of Hershey, Pa., and Jimmy Demaret, of Houston, Tex., one of the four seeded teams, defeated George Schneiter, of Salt Lake City, and Herman Barron, White Plains, N. Y., 3 and 2. Schneiter and Barron held a one-up lead at the end of the first 18 holes, with a best ball of 64 to a 65 for Hogan and Demaret.

Hogan and Demaret evened the match on the twentieth and went two-up on the twenty-fourth. They lost the twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth holes to even matters again, but won the thirtieth, thirty-second and thirty-fourth to close out the match.

Picard, Laffoon Lose

The seeded team of Henry Picard, Cleveland, O., and Ky Laffoon, of Orlando, Fla., went down to defeat before Chick Rutan, of Birmingham, Mich., and Claude Harmon, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., by a 1-up score.

Snead alone fired a seven under par 63 on the first eighteen holes as he and Byrd took a 3-up lead.

The ex-gob collected five birdies and one eagle on the par 70, 6,320-yard Miami Springs course. His eagle came on the 500-yard par five fifth hole when he chipped in from 50 feet. Heafner and Thomson had a best ball of 66 on the first 18.

Nelson and McSpaden turned the first 18 three up and held the same lead at the end of 27. The "twins" had a best ball of 65 for the first 18 with Nelson getting an eagle three on the fifth hole when he chipped in from 40 feet. Klein and Goggin turned in a 68 best ball.

Mangrum, Little Win

Lloyd Mangrum, of Los Angeles, paired with Lawson Little, of San Francisco, to defeat Leonard Dodson of Kansas City, Mo., and Jim Ferrier, of Chicago 1-up in 36 holes.

The veteran Craig Wood, of New York City, and beret-wearing Tony Penna, of Dayton, O., won the day's toughest match, 1-up, when Jimmy Hines, of Miami, and Ed Oliver, of Wilmington, Del., battled them to the 38th hole.

Chandler Harper, of Portsmouth, Va., and Herman Kaiser, Akron, O., who won the four-ball in 1942, eliminated E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., and Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., 4 and 3.

Vic Ghezzi, Knoxville, Tenn., and Bob Hamilton, Chicago, defeated Dick Metz, Kansas City, Kan., and Denny Shute, Akron, O., 1-up.

Thomas Takes Final At Circleville High

THOMAS, W. Va., March 7—Thomas high school concluded its regular basketball schedule by defeating Circleville high school on the latter's court this week by the score of 42 to 32.

Circleville battled the visitors on practically even terms for three periods then faded in the final quarter when Thomas racked up 13 points.

Ed Sedmock collected 14 points for the winners while Bennett garnered twelve for Circleville.

Thomas won 13 games and lost 8 during the season. The lineups:

Beall, Allegany Close Cage Season

Beall high school's basketball team will ring down the curtain on its 1945-46 season tonight when it plays the Alumni quintet on the Beall court at 8 o'clock. Beall has won 10 games and lost 11 and needs another victory to finish the season in the .500 class.

Allegany will conclude its season by playing Westmont high school in Johnstown, Pa., tonight.

BASEBALL BRIEFS

Phil Wants $12,500

PENETANGUISHENE, Ont., March 7 (AP) — Pitcher Phil Marchildon, back in shape after a German prison camp ordeal, said today he had not signed a contract with Philadelphia Athletics of the American Baseball League.

A hurler with the A's until he enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force early in the year, Marchildon said he had received a reply from Manager Connie Mack to his request for a salary of $12,500 but wouldn't disclose its contents. It was said to have been an offer of between $6,000 and $8,500. He received $5,000 in his last season with the A's.

"I heard a report today," said Phil, "that I am being fined $50 for every day I am missing from the training field, and also that I had signed a contract. I do not see now I can be fined when I have not signed any contract."

HANK CAN'T BE COAXED

LAKELAND, Fla., March 7 (AP) — Big Hank Greenberg can't be coaxed away from the Detroit Tigers by a sheaf of Mexican pesos, he declared today.

Informed that President Jorge Pasquel of the Mexican league wants him to hang his sombrero south of the border next year, Hank issued a Greenberg snort.

"I never heard of the guy," he commented. "And I haven't heard anything from him. What's more, I'm not interested."

WYROSTEK REPORTS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 7 (AP) — Johnny Wyrostek, the big outfielder who played with Columbus in the American Association, made his belated appearance today at the Philadelphia Phillies' spring training site.

Wyrostek will have to compete with Lou Novikoff, Jim Wasdell and Vance Dinges for the Phils' left field assignment.

TIGERS BEAT NATS

LAKELAND, Fla., March 7 (AP)—The World Champion Detroit Tigers opened their Florida exhibition schedule today with a 4 to 3 victory over the Washington Senators.

The Tigers, using 16 men, collected 11 hits off three Washington pitchers, scoring twice off Sid Hudson in the third and twice more off Vern Curtis in the fifth. Dick Wakefield, Bill Hitchcock, Murray Franklin and Rookie Shortstop Connie Berry of the Tigers each made two hits.

All three Washington runs were unearned. The score:

WASHINGTON .....102 000 000—3 4 1
DETROIT .....002 020 00x—4 11 2
Hudson, Curtis (4), Scarborough (7) and Evans; Trucks, Uhle (4), Hutchinson (6) and Swift, Riebe (5).

NO OFFER MADE FELLER

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 7 (AP)—Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians fireball pitcher, today classed as "strictly a rumor" a report that he had been offered $100,000 a year for three years to jump to the Mexican league.

President Jorge Pasquel of the so-called "outlaw" league made the announcement in Mexico City today.

Feller said flatly that "no one has approached me with any such offer."

ST. LOUIS BROWNS LOSE

ANAHEIM, Calif., March 7 (AP)—Three pitchers used by Manager Bill Skiff of Seattle gave up only six hits as the Rainers trimmed the St. Louis Browns 9-2 in an exhibition baseball game today.

SEATTLE .....100 105 002—9 12 0
ST. LOUIS .....000 000 011—2 6 2
Jonas, Hutchinson, Conover and Sueme, Finley; Hollingsworth, Muncrief, Milnar, Shirley and Martin.

PHILS TRIM BRAVES

At Miami Beach, Fla.—

BOSTON (NL) .....010 001 030—5 8 2
PHILADELPHIA (NL) .001 010 301—6 8 2
Treichel, Reid (8) and Brady, Hofferth (6); Hughes, Ripple (4), Shanz (7), Karl (9) and Seminick, Peterman.

BOB CARPENTER SIGNS

MIAMI, March 7 (AP)—Bob Carpenter, husky right-handed pitcher who has been in the army since the close of the 1942 season, signed a New York Giant contract for 1946 today. Terms were not disclosed.

Carpenter appeared in 28 games in 1942, winning 11 and losing 10. He reported to the club Sunday although Manager Mel Ott did not expect him to receive a discharge until mid-summer.

"Jerry" Malloy Is Times-News Dinner Speaker

Allegany's Champs Will Be Guests of Honor on March 19

Allegany high school's city championship basketball team will be honored at the third annual Times-News basketball dinner to be held Tuesday, March 19, at 6:30 p. m., in the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Members of the three city squads --Allegany, LaSalle and Fort Hill— will be guests at the dinner, the group also including the coaches, managers, principals and athletic directors of the schools.

Gerald "Jerry" Malloy, the noted basketball official from Hoboken, N. J., will be the guest speaker. Malloy has appeared here before but this will mark his first time in Cumberland in the role of speaker. The popular New Jersey official handled the LaSalle-St. Mary's, Clarksburg, game here early in the current season.

Malloy's traveling companion for the local affair probably will be Pat Kennedy, who has handled the top college games in Madison Square Garden this year.

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Irwin Alterson, Naval trainee, paced the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League in scoring for the second straight year. He made 129 points in nine league games. In 17 games with the Big Red this season he made 264 tallies.

Football Already!

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—There are plenty of sore backs and stiff muscles around the William and Mary campus these days. Head Coach R. N. (Rube) McCray has more than 40 candidates for the 1946 Indian football team working out daily during six weeks of spring grid drills.

417 Wins in 25 Years

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Jack Barry, shortstop of Connie Mack's $100,000 infield and later manager of the Boston Red Sox, has led Holy Cross to 417 victories while losing 78 times for a percentage of .842. He is coaching the Crusader nine for the twenty-sixth season and never had a losing campaign.

I wish to thank the citizens of Cumberland for the very fine support which you gave to me in City Primary Election. I will not forget your kindness, nor will I violate the confidence you have reposed in me.

Winners Will Qualify For Region No. 4 Games

Elk Garden-Fort Ashby Open Keyser Tourney; Franklin - Circleville Tangle at Parsons

Sectional basketball tournaments will get under way today at Potomac State School, Keyser, and Parsons high school in Tucker county, to determine the teams that will compete for the Region No. 4 championship in games to be played in Keyser on March 15 and 16.

Winners of the Shepherd College and Kingwood high school tournaments will also compete in the Keyser games next week and the victor will represent Region No. 4 in the annual West Virginia championship tourney in Morgantown.

Records Are Indicated

Pairings for the Keyser sectional contests today are: (records are indicated in parenthesis)

Elk Garden (18-4) vs. Fort Ashby (9-11), 1 p. m.
Keyser (16-6) vs. Capon Bridge (6-10), 2:30 p. m.
Ridgeley (13-8) vs. Romney (3-15), 4 p. m.
Piedmont (17-4) vs. Fort Ashby-Elk Garden winner, 8 p. m.
Keyser vs. Capon Bridge-Romney winner, 9:30 p. m.

The third place game is set for 7:30 p. m., and the championship contest at 9 p. m. tomorrow.

"Eck" Miers, of Keyser, and Clifton Van Roby, of Cumberland, will do the officiating.

The Parsons sectional tournament opening round games will be staged today with "Chuck" Weihl, of Weston; "Bud" Shelton, of Elkins, and Arthur Quattro, of Thomas as the officials.

Pairings for today's games with records of teams indicated in parenthesis, are:

Franklin (4-9) vs. Circleville (4-4), 1:30 p. m.
Davis (13-8) vs. Petersburg (4-11), 4 p. m.
Moorefield (16-5) vs. Parsons (10-10), 7 p. m.
Thomas (12-8) vs. Bayard (1-11), 9 p. m.

Semi-finals are set for 1:30 and 3 p. m., Saturday, the third place game at 7:30 p. m., and the championship contest at 9 p. m. Consolation contests will be staged Saturday at 9 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.

Circleville's list of eligible players was received in Parsons this week and includes W. Allen, H. Bennett, R. Bennett, P. Arbogast, B. Cooke, M. Cooke, D. Mitchell, A. Smith, E. Ruddle and W. Teter.

Topnotchers Listed

A three-cornered battle for championship honors among Piedmont, Keyser and Ridgeley is expected in the tourney at Keyser while Davis, Moorefield and Thomas loom as the best bets in the meet at Parsons.

Garbark To Manage Legion's Interstate Baseball Tossers

Art Garbark has been appointed manager of the baseball team of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, of the newly formed Interstate League.

He is a brother of Mike and Bob Garbark, major league catchers, and played with the Colts in the Pen-Mar League in 1944.

The Legion has named Frank Zahradka and Norman Gerdeman to handle the junior baseball team. The former assisted the late W. Earl Brooks, manager of the Legion junior nine that won the "little world series" for Cumberland at Chicago in 1934. Boys 17 years and under are eligible to play with the Legion junior nine.

Madden McGinn has been appointed to manage the Legion's 1946 softball team.

Dixie Pro Grid League Includes Six Teams

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Dixie Professional Football League will operate during the coming season with six teams, including Richmond, Norfolk, Newport News and Portsmouth in Virginia and Charlotte and Greensboro in North Carolina.

Judge William H. Nickels, Jr., of Richmond has been re-elected league president, and George R. Hutchins, general manager of Portsmouth, has been elected secretary-treasurer. Hank Wolfe of Richmond is league statistician.

City College Upsets N.Y.U. Quintet, 49-44

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—City College's underdog basketball team turned in one of the most amazing cage upsets of the year by defeating the highly regarded New York university five, 49-44, tonight in the nightcap of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden, before a crowd of 18,374.

In the first game St. John's university, defeated St. Francis college, Brooklyn, 48-39.

Wardensville High Loses; Rowlesburg Advances at Kingwood

Mathias high school, of Hardy county, provided a big surprise in the Shepherdstown regional basketball tournament last night by eliminating the Paw Paw high school Mountaineers by the score of 52 to 44 and thereby gaining the right to play Charles Town in the semi-final round tonight at 9 o'clock on the Shepherd college court.

In the other semi-final game tonight Shepherdstown high school will play Harper's Ferry at 7:30 o'clock. Shepherdstown advanced by spilling Martinsburg on Wednesday night by the score of 28 to 25 in another tourney upset. Charles Town escorted Berkeley Springs high out of the tourney by winning to the tune of 52 to 31 in the opening round and vanquishing Wardensville high school tonight, 44 to 26. Harper's Ferry gained a place in the semi-finals by turning back Hedgesville, 28-17.

The winner of Saturday night's championship game, scheduled for 8 o'clock, will compete in the Region No. 4 tournament in Keyser on March 15 and 16.

Rowlesburg high school's River Lions will play Kingwood at 8 p. m., and Aurora will oppose Terra Alta at 9 o'clock in the semi-finals of the tournament at Kingwood high school tonight.

Finals are set for Saturday night at 9 o'clock and the winning team will earn the right to compete in the Region No. 4 tourney in Keyser next week.

Three contests were played last night in the Kingwood tourney at which Don Eicher and "Buck" Killen are officiating. Aurora eliminated Arthurdale, 29-20, Kingwood downed Tunnelton, 38-28 and Terra Alta walloped Newburg, 50-32.

In Wednesday night games Tunnelton took Masontown, 26-21, Rowlesburg won over Fellowsville, 52-39, and Newburg eliminated Bruceton, 39-24.

Davis Is Answer To Many Prayers

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va.—(AP)—Andy Gustafson, Army's backfield coach, tells this one—

It seems Glen Davis, one of Army's two All-America backs, got a letter from one of his female football fans which, in part, said:

"I pray for you every Sunday morning."

Davis showed the letter to Doc Blanchard, the other Army All-America back, who casually remarked after scanning the page:

"You'd better write her and tell her to pray for you on Saturday afternoons—that's when you need it the most."

Roth Scores Ka o

PITTSBURGH, March 7 (AP)—Charley Roth, 189, Akron, scored a technical knockout over Art Morrow, 197, Cleveland in the seventh frame of a 10-round main bout at Aragon Gardens tonight.

Roth floored Morrow for a nine count in the seventh and then draped him over the ropes with another blow, after which Referee Mike Hogan stopped the bout at 2:30.

Snead and Byrd, Nelson, McSpaden Win in Tourney

Hogan-Demaret, Wood-Pena, Mangrum-Little Cop Four-Ball Matches

By WILBUR JENNINGS

MIAMI, Fla., March 7 (AP)—The two Sammies — Snead, ex-Virginia hillbilly, and Byrd, the ex-New York Yankee, served notice that they were out to win Miami's $7,500 international four-ball golf tournament today when they burned up the fairways to eliminate Clayton Heafner, of Charlotte, N. C., and Jimmy Thomson, of New York, 8 and 6, in a first round match.

The "gold dust" twins — Byron Nelson, of Toledo, O., and Harold (Jug) McSpaden, of Sanford, Me., won a difficult 2-up victory over the veterans Willie Klein, of Miami Beach, and Willie Goggin, of White Plains, N. Y.

Little Benny Hogan, of Hershey, Pa., and Jimmy Demaret, of Houston, Tex., one of the four seeded teams, defeated George Schneiter, of Salt Lake City, and Herman Barron, White Plains, N. Y., 3 and 2. Schneiter and Barron held a one-up lead at the end of the first 18 holes, with a best ball of 64 to a 65 for Hogan and Demaret.

Hogan and Demaret evened the match on the twentieth and went two-up on the twenty-fourth. They lost the twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth holes to even matters again, but won the thirtieth, thirty-second and thirty-fourth to close out the match.

Picard, Laffoon Lose

The seeded team of Henry Picard, Cleveland, O., and Ky Laffoon, of Orlando, Fla., went down to defeat before Chick Rutan, of Birmingham, Mich., and Claude Harmon, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., by a 1-up score.

Snead alone fired a seven under par 63 on the first eighteen holes as he and Byrd took a 3-up lead.

The ex-gob collected five birdies and one eagle on the par 70, 6,320-yard Miami Springs course. His eagle came on the 500-yard par five fifth hole when he chipped in from 50 feet. Heafner and Thomson had a best ball of 66 on the first 18.

Nelson and McSpaden turned the first 18 three up and held the same lead at the end of 27. The "twins" had a best ball of 65 for the first 18 with Nelson getting an eagle three on the fifth hole when he chipped in from 40 feet. Klein and Goggin turned in a 68 best ball.

Mangrum, Little Win

Lloyd Mangrum, of Los Angeles, paired with Lawson Little, of San Francisco, to defeat Leonard Dodson of Kansas City, Mo., and Jim Ferrier, of Chicago 1-up in 36 holes.

The veteran Craig Wood, of New York City, and beret-wearing Tony Penna, of Dayton, O., won the day's toughest match, 1-up, when Jimmy Hines, of Miami, and Ed Oliver, of Wilmington, Del., battled them to the 38th hole.

Chandler Harper, of Portsmouth, Va., and Herman Kaiser, Akron, O., who won the four-ball in 1942, eliminated E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., and Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., 4 and 3.

Vic Ghezzi, Knoxville, Tenn., and Bob Hamilton, Chicago, defeated Dick Metz, Kansas City, Kan., and Denny Shute, Akron, O., 1-up.

Thomas Takes Final At Circleville High

THOMAS, W. Va., March 7—Thomas high school concluded its regular basketball schedule by defeating Circleville high school on the latter's court this week by the score of 42 to 32.

Circleville battled the visitors on practically even terms for three periods then faded in the final quarter when Thomas racked up 13 points.

Ed Sedmock collected 14 points for the winners while Bennett garnered twelve for Circleville.

Thomas won 13 games and lost 8 during the season. The lineups:

Beall, Allegany Close Cage Season

Beall high school's basketball team will ring down the curtain on its 1945-46 season tonight when it plays the Alumni quintet on the Beall court at 8 o'clock. Beall has won 10 games and lost 11 and needs another victory to finish the season in the .500 class.

Allegany will conclude its season by playing Westmont high school in Johnstown, Pa., tonight.

BASEBALL BRIEFS

Phil Wants $12,500

PENETANGUISHENE, Ont., March 7 (AP) — Pitcher Phil Marchildon, back in shape after a German prison camp ordeal, said today he had not signed a contract with Philadelphia Athletics of the American Baseball League.

A hurler with the A's until he enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force early in the year, Marchildon said he had received a reply from Manager Connie Mack to his request for a salary of $12,500 but wouldn't disclose its contents. It was said to have been an offer of between $6,000 and $8,500. He received $5,000 in his last season with the A's.

"I heard a report today," said Phil, "that I am being fined $50 for every day I am missing from the training field, and also that I had signed a contract. I do not see now I can be fined when I have not signed any contract."

HANK CAN'T BE COAXED

LAKELAND, Fla., March 7 (AP) — Big Hank Greenberg can't be coaxed away from the Detroit Tigers by a sheaf of Mexican pesos, he declared today.

Informed that President Jorge Pasquel of the Mexican league wants him to hang his sombrero south of the border next year, Hank issued a Greenberg snort.

"I never heard of the guy," he commented. "And I haven't heard anything from him. What's more, I'm not interested."

WYROSTEK REPORTS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 7 (AP) — Johnny Wyrostek, the big outfielder who played with Columbus in the American Association, made his belated appearance today at the Philadelphia Phillies' spring training site.

Wyrostek will have to compete with Lou Novikoff, Jim Wasdell and Vance Dinges for the Phils' left field assignment.

TIGERS BEAT NATS

LAKELAND, Fla., March 7 (AP)—The World Champion Detroit Tigers opened their Florida exhibition schedule today with a 4 to 3 victory over the Washington Senators.

The Tigers, using 16 men, collected 11 hits off three Washington pitchers, scoring twice off Sid Hudson in the third and twice more off Vern Curtis in the fifth. Dick Wakefield, Bill Hitchcock, Murray Franklin and Rookie Shortstop Connie Berry of the Tigers each made two hits.

All three Washington runs were unearned. The score:

WASHINGTON .....102 000 000—3 4 1
DETROIT .....002 020 00x—4 11 2

Hudson, Curtis (4), Scarborough (7) and Evans; Trucks, Uhle (4), Hutchinson (6) and Swift, Riebe (5).

NO OFFER MADE FELLER

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 7 (AP)—Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians fireball pitcher, today classed as "strictly a rumor" a report that he had been offered $100,000 a year for three years to jump to the Mexican league.

President Jorge Pasquel of the so-called "outlaw" league made the announcement in Mexico City today.

Feller said flatly that "no one has approached me with any such offer."

ST. LOUIS BROWNS LOSE

ANAHEIM, Calif., March 7 (AP)—Three pitchers used by Manager Bill Skiff of Seattle gave up only six hits as the Rainers trimmed the St. Louis Browns 9-2 in an exhibition baseball game today.

SEATTLE .....100 105 002—9 12 0
ST. LOUIS .....000 000 011—2 6 2

Jonas, Hutchinson, Conover and Sueme, Finley; Holingsworth, Muncrief, Milnar, Shirley and Martin.

PHILS TRIM BRAVES

At Miami Beach, Fla.—

BOSTON (NL) .....010 001 030—5 8 2
PHILADELPHIA (NL) .001 010 301—6 8 2

Treichel, Reid (8) and Brady, Hofferth (6); Hughes, Rippie (4), Shanz (7), Karl (9) and Seminick, Peterman.

BOB CARPENTER SIGNS

MIAMI, March 7 (AP)—Bob Carpenter, husky right-handed pitcher who has been in the army since the close of the 1942 season, signed a New York Giant contract for 1946 today. Terms were not disclosed.

Carpenter appeared in 28 games in 1942, winning 11 and losing 10. He reported to the club Sunday although Manager Mel Ott did not expect him to receive a discharge until mid-summer.

"Jerry" Malloy Is Times-News Dinner Speaker

Allegany's Champs Will Be Guests of Honor on March 19

Allegany high school's city championship basketball team will be honored at the third annual Times-News basketball dinner to be held Tuesday, March 19, at 6:30 p. m., in the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Members of the three city squads --Allegany, LaSalle and Fort Hill— will be guests at the dinner, the group also including the coaches, managers, principals and athletic directors of the schools.

Gerald "Jerry" Malloy, the noted basketball official from Hoboken, N. J., will be the guest speaker. Malloy has appeared here before but this will mark his first time in Cumberland in the role of speaker. The popular New Jersey official handled the LaSalle-St. Mary's, Clarksburg, game here early in the current season.

Malloy's traveling companion for the local affair probably will be Pat Kennedy, who has handled the top college games in Madison Square Garden this year.

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Irwin Alterson, Naval trainee, paced the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League in scoring for the second straight year. He made 129 points in nine league games. In 17 games with the Big Red this season he made 264 tallies.

Football Already!

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—There are plenty of sore backs and stiff muscles around the William and Mary campus these days. Head Coach R. N. (Rube) McCray has more than 40 candidates for the 1946 Indian football team working out daily during six weeks of spring grid drills.

417 Wins in 25 Years

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Jack Barry, shortstop of Connie Mack's $100,000 infield and later manager of the Boston Red Sox, has led Holy Cross to 417 victories while losing 78 times for a percentage of .842. He is coaching the Crusader nine for the twenty-sixth season and never had a losing campaign.

I wish to thank the citizens of Cumberland for the very fine support which you gave to me in City Primary Election. I will not forget your kindness, nor will I violate the confidence you have reposed in me.

NRA Sanctions Frostburg Shooting Tourney

Western Maryland Title Matches Set for May 26

Cash Prizes, Trophies Will Be Presented To Winners of Seven Events on Program

FROSTBURG, March 7 — The Frostburg Rifle and Pistol Club has received the approval of the National Rifle Association to hold a shooting tournament on the rifle range, Hoffman road, Sunday, May 26.

The affair is expected to be one of the biggest matches in the history of Western Maryland shooting circles.

In preparation for the event, the Frostburg Rifle and Pistol Club has constructed eight new national tournament approved target frames with backing targets that eliminate cross-fire problems arising from competitors firing on each others' targets.

MATCH NO. 1 — S. W. Green Purse of $15. Twenty shots at 100 yards.

MATCH NO. 2—Jeffries Brothers' Jewelers Purse of $15. Twenty shots at fifty yards.

MATCH NO. 3 — Frostburg Rotary Club purse of $15. Twenty shots at 100 yards.

MATCH NO. 4 — Allegany-Garrett Sportsmen's Association Purse of $15. Twenty shots at fifty yards and twenty shots at 100 yards.

MATCH NO. 5 — Cumberland Times and Alleganian Company Purse of $25. For Western Maryland team championship. This will be a Dewar team match with $5 to each competitor of winning team.

MATCH NO. 6 — The Cornish trophy for the Western Maryland individual championship and a purse of $15 donated by the Young Men's Republican Club.

MATCH NO. 7 — The Western Maryland Rifle League Purse. Ten shots prone at fifty yards, ten shots standing at fifty yards for masters, experts and sharpshooters. Ten shots at fifty yards; ten shots standing at 25 yards and 50-yard target for marksmen first class and marksmen and unclassified shooters. For masters, experts and sharpshooters, first place, $5; second place, $2.50. For Marksmen and unclassified shooters, first place $5; second place, $2.50.

In match No. 6, the high woman shooter will be awarded a camera donated by the T. & S. Cut Rate store and in match No. 4, the high woman will receive a walnut inlaid fruit bowl donated by James Morton, of Frostburg.

Condition Unchanged

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP) — Still semi-conscious after nearly 48 hours, Yancey Henry, heavyweight boxer, remained in critical condition tonight at Freedman's hospital, his nurse reported.

Henry was found unconscious in his room here late Tuesday night. He had been defeated in a fight at Baltimore Monday night by Curtis ("Hatchetman") Sheppard of Pittsburg.

Bob Montgomery Will Fight Tony Pellone In Garden Feature

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, who is world lightweight champion on the New York-Pennsylvania circuit, makes his first New York appearance in seventeen months tomorrow night in a non-title ten-rounder with Tony Pellone, a local welterweight youngster, in Madison Square Garden.

Although Montgomery has been no ball of fire in outpointing Bill Parsons and Leo Rodak in his two starts since being separated from the army, the bookmakers have made the Philadelphian a 5 to 11 favorite.

He expects to scale 140 or slightly less, while Pellone will tip the beam at about 141.

Martin Marion, Cards' Shortstop, Signs Contract

Star To Receive About $17,000; Kurowski Is Lone Holdout

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 7 (AP)—The odds-on pennant figures quoted on the St. Louis Cardinals looked better than ever tonight as Marty Marion, generally rated the best shortstop now in the business, ended his holdout siege and prepared to leave for the Red Bird training camp.

Martin Marion

Breadon refused to disclose the terms of the agreement but the popular guess is that Marion probably signed for $17,000.

The signing ended speculation over the possibility the star short fielder might be on the trading block—a spot on which many Red Bird stars have found themselves when they become involved in money disputes with the player-rich organization.

"It won't take me long to get in shape," Marion said, "because I'm never far out of condition. I'll catch up with the rest of the squad in four or five days."

With Marion in the fold, Third Baseman George Kurowski remained the only holdout.

Breadon said there was nothing new on Kurowski, but he threw a small light on his salary difficulties this year.

The club's total salaries for 1946, he said, will be $100,000 over last season—a 50 per cent increase—due chiefly to the return of high-salaried men from service.

Dates Are Approved For Race Meetings In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 7 (AP) — Dates for a spring and fall racing meet at Charles Town and for an autumn event only at Wheeling Downs were confirmed today by the state racing commission.

Chairman Beverley Brown of the commission announced that the spring dates of May 29 to July 20, inclusive, had been confirmed for the Charles Town Jockey Club.

The fall season at the esatern panhandle track will extend from December 2 to 21, inclusive.

Wheeling asked and received permission to hold a longer fall meeting to offset the lack of racing this spring. The dates will be August 24 to October 19, inclusive.

Under new management this year, Wheeling Downs will be undergoing extensive improvements and for that reason no application was made for a spring program, the commission explained.

—The Panama Golf Club at Panama City will spend $250,000 in improvements, including addition of a swimming pool and bowling alley.

Riggs To Play Budge

Arizona Accepts Bid to Tourney

Border States Champions Become Seventh Team Named for Games

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—Arizona, winner of the Border States Conference tourney last weekend, became the seventh team to accept a bid to the national invitation basketball tourney today. The eighth club will likely be named over the weekend.

The far western club, winner of 25 games while losing four, has been coached for twenty years by Fred Enke, whose son is a regular on the club. Lincoln Richmond is the team's leading scorer with an average of 15 points.

The tourney pairings will be announced Monday noon.

Other clubs already in the meet, won a year ago by DePaul, are St. John's of Brooklyn, Muhlenberg, West Virginia, Kentucky, Syracuse and Bowling Green, Ohio.

—In 1873, at Alliance, O., a rolling mill company, head by John Hunter, was employing 440 persons.

NRA Sanctions Frostburg Shooting Tourney

Cash Prizes, Trophies Will Be Presented To Winners of Seven Events on Program

FROSTBURG, March 7 — The Frostburg Rifle and Pistol Club has received the approval of the National Rifle Association to hold a shooting tournament on the rifle range, Hoffman road, Sunday, May 26.

The affair is expected to be one of the biggest matches in the history of Western Maryland shooting circles.

In preparation for the event, the Frostburg Rifle and Pistol Club has constructed eight new national tournament approved target frames with backing targets that eliminate cross-fire problems arising from competitors firing on each others' targets.

MATCH NO. 1 — S. W. Green Purse of $15. Twenty shots at 100 yards.

MATCH NO. 2—Jeffries Brothers' Jewelers Purse of $15. Twenty shots at fifty yards.

MATCH NO. 3 — Frostburg Rotary Club purse of $15. Twenty shots at 100 yards.

MATCH NO. 4 — Allegany-Garrett Sportsmen's Association Purse of $15. Twenty shots at fifty yards and twenty shots at 100 yards.

MATCH NO. 5 — Cumberland Times and Alleganian Company Purse of $25. For Western Maryland team championship. This will be a Dewar team match with $5 to each competitor of winning team.

MATCH NO. 6 — The Cornish trophy for the Western Maryland individual championship and a purse of $15 donated by the Young Men's Republican Club.

MATCH NO. 7 — The Western Maryland Rifle League Purse. Ten shots prone at fifty yards, ten shots standing at fifty yards for masters, experts and sharpshooters. Ten shots at fifty yards; ten shots standing at 25 yards and 50-yard target for marksmen first class and marksmen and unclassified shooters. For masters, experts and sharpshooters, first place, $5; second place, $2.50. For Marksmen and unclassified shooters, first place $5; second place, $2.50.

In match No. 6, the high woman shooter will be awarded a camera donated by the T. & S. Cut Rate store and in match No. 4, the high woman will receive a walnut inlaid fruit bowl donated by James Morton, of Frostburg.

Condition Unchanged

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP) — Still semi-conscious after nearly 48 hours, Yancey Henry, heavyweight boxer, remained in critical condition tonight at Freedman's hospital, his nurse reported.

Henry was found unconscious in his room here late Tuesday night. He had been defeated in a fight at Baltimore Monday night by Curtis ("Hatchetman") Sheppard of Pittsburg.

Bob Montgomery Will Fight Tony Pellone In Garden Feature

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, who is world lightweight champion on the New York-Pennsylvania circuit, makes his first New York appearance in seventeen months tomorrow night in a non-title ten-rounder with Tony Pellone, a local welterweight youngster, in Madison Square Garden.

Although Montgomery has been no ball of fire in outpointing Bill Parsons and Leo Rodak in his two starts since being separated from the army, the bookmakers have made the Philadelphian a 5 to 11 favorite.

He expects to scale 140 or slightly less, while Pellone will tip the beam at about 141.

Martin Marion, Cards' Shortstop, Signs Contract

Star To Receive About $17,000; Kurowski Is Lone Holdout

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 7 (AP)—The odds-on pennant figures quoted on the St. Louis Cardinals looked better than ever tonight as Marty Marion, generally rated the best shortstop now in the business, ended his holdout siege and prepared to leave for the Red Bird training camp.

Martin Marion

Breadon refused to disclose the terms of the agreement but the popular guess is that Marion probably signed for $17,000.

The signing ended speculation over the possibility the star short fielder might be on the trading block—a spot on which many Red Bird stars have found themselves when they become involved in money disputes with the player-rich organization.

"It won't take me long to get in shape," Marion said, "because I'm never far out of condition. I'll catch up with the rest of the squad in four or five days."

The club's total salaries for 1946, he said, will be $100,000 over last season—a 50 per cent increase—due chiefly to the return of high-salaried men from service.

Arizona Accepts Bid to Tourney

Border States Champions Become Seventh Team Named for Games

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—Arizona, winner of the Border States Conference tourney last weekend, became the seventh team to accept a bid to the national invitation basketball tourney today. The eighth club will likely be named over the weekend.

The far western club, winner of 25 games while losing four, has been coached for twenty years by Fred Enke, whose son is a regular on the club. Lincoln Richmond is the team's leading scorer with an average of 15 points.

The tourney pairings will be announced Monday noon.

Other clubs already in the meet, won a year ago by DePaul, are St. John's of Brooklyn, Muhlenberg, West Virginia, Kentucky, Syracuse and Bowling Green, Ohio.

Two Prize Fight Programs Will Be On Radio Tonight

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—More than the usual quota of prize fight broadcasting will be extant for Friday night listeners.

Both ABC and MBS have stuff scheduled. The ABC-er is the usual 10 o'clock event, this time for Bob Montgomery and Tony Pellone in the lightweight class.

The MBS section, coming at 12 midnight from Chicago will be the Western division finals of the Golden Gloves tournament. It is to run a half-hour or so.

Something approaching a wholesale revamping of the Friday night CBS schedule is in prospect, all due to the fact that "Those Websters" have moved to MBS. Here are the new times: 9:30 Moore and Durante, up half-hour; 10 Danny Kaye show, also up half an hour; 10:30 Ann Sothern's Maisie, shifted from midweek.

In place of the Jon Gart trio, MBS for 10:15 has another musical feature, which it is calling "Take These Notes." It will be an all-string orchestra in popular and semi-classical selections.

The postmaster general, Robert Hannegan, is to be question answer for "Meet the Press" of MBS at 10:30. He will discuss this job as well as his post as chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Instead of the previously announced "Pendennis," the "Great Novel" of NBC at 11:30 is to be Part I of Mrs. Elizabeth Gaskell's "Cranford."

Post, Davis Give Views on Water Line, Flood Control

News Is Querying Nominees on Important Municipal Matters

Believing flood control and improvement of the city's water system to be perhaps two of the most important questions that will confront Cumberland's new mayor and city council, The Cumberland News is interviewing the two mayoralty and eight councilmanic nominees on those subjects in an effort to obtain their views and present them to the public.

The questions are:

1. Are you in favor of the existing flood control program worked out over a period of years by the army engineers?
2. Do you favor the plan that has been adopted for expansion of the city water system?

Today The Cumberland News presents the opinions of Thomas S. Post and Frank J. Davis, candidates for mayor. The views of councilmanic candidates will be presented subsequently.

With regard to expansion of the city water system, Post stated:

Supports Water Measures

"I shall give my support to every measure that will improve water service, including a sedimentation basin and the proposed auxiliary water line from Lake Gordon to the city."

Davis has this to say:

"I have, for several weeks past, been making a study of the army engineers' plan for flood control for the city of Cumberland. The plan seems to me to be practical enough as far as it goes. But there is one suggestion I would like to make, if given the opportunity. In the engineers' plan, there is no provision that I can find, for removal of obstacles below the Knobley mountain railroad tunnel, where there is a large railroad bridge across the Potomac. The study shows that the river above this point is ten and a half feet higher on flood stage, than it is below the bridge. It seems to me that some provision should be made to take care of removal of obstacles and debris below the bridge as well as above. It might also be possible to stream-line the abutments of this bridge as is proposed at other points.

"Flood control is our major problem just now, and is, in my opinion, equally important, if not more so, than our local traffic problem," Davis continued. "There are proposals," he said, "to tie our flood control development and a proposed cross-town bridge or some traffic control project, together. I do not favor this idea. It seems to me that we should take one thing at a time. If the flood control work is completed so that we can be assured of freedom from floods throughout the whole city, then we should go to

Corriganville Man Is Taken by Death

Rites for David C. Fleegle Will Be Held Sunday Afternoon

He was formerly employed as a janitor and was a native of Ellerslie, a son of the late Valentine and Mary Burkett Fleegle.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Laura Shatzer Fleegle, whom he married March 31, 1897, he is survived by three children, O. Burton Fleegle and Mrs. L. Pearl Cochran, both of Corriganville, and Mrs. Leota Raygor, 523 Broadway, this city.

Two brothers, Vonder Fleegle and Alonzo Fleegle, and two sisters, Mrs. Lena Brown, Brunswick, and Mrs. Rebecca Matthews, Narrows, Va., also survive.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Corriganville Methodist church by the Rev. William E. Nelson, pastor of the church. Interment will be in Hillcrest cemetery here.

MISS ROBB RITES

Funeral services for Miss Emma L. Robb, 82, 157 Polk street, who died late Monday evening in Memorial hospital where she had been a patient since January 3, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Kight funeral home.

The Rev. Ralph B. Mark, pastor of Central Methodist church, officiated and interment was in Allegany cemetery, Frostburg.

Pallbearers were George W. Barnard, Raymond Barnard, Claude T. Jett, W. H. Hann, Thomas Frazee and Lester Warnick.

CHARLES SCHAAB RITES

Funeral services for Charles A. Schaab, 69, who died Monday morning at his home, 214½ Virginia avenue, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Stein funeral home.

The Rev. Hixon T. Bowersox, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, officiated and interment was in Rose Hill cemetery.

Pallbearers were H. T. Mahaney and Floyd W. Simmons, of Cumberland Lodge No. 60, Knights of Pythias; Arch Perdew and Arthur Weber, of St. John's Lutheran church, and Stanley Burke and T. E. Poole, of Lodge No. 120, Improved Order of Red Men, which held services at the grave.

Official Vote Tally Changes Standing

Frank Hinze Moves to Fifth Place Ahead of DeLisle Chaney

The official tabulation of votes cast in the municipal primary election on Tuesday changed the standing of two candidates and the total vote received by three others, Samuel E. Griminger, city clerk, said yesterday.

DeLisle E. Chaney, councilmanic candidate who finished fifth on the basis of unofficial returns, lost ten votes in the official count and dropped to sixth place behind H. Frank Hinze. Hinze's official total is 1,842 and Chaney's 1,838.

In the race for mayor, Thomas S. Post gained ten votes and William E. McDonald lost thirty. Joseph R. Mantheiy, council candidate, lost ten votes.

For Mayor: Thomas S. Post 2,399, Frank J. Davis 1,717, William E. McDonald 1,165, and Hunter B. Helfrich 991.

For Council: William J. Edwards 3,237, Clifton E. Fuller 2,941, William V. Keegan 2,555, Myers G. Light 2,056, H. Frank Hinze 1842, DeLisle E. Chaney 1,838, John E. Sharp 1,704, Luther Hutter Sr. 1,153, Richard T. Renshaw 1148, Joseph R. Mantheiy 653, Frank J. Mackert 614, Gordon B. Griffin 475, and Cleveland T. Albright 430.

Sgt. William Jacob Is Discharged from Army

Sgt. William C. Jacob, 20, son of Mrs. William Jacob, 515 Washington street, was honorably discharged from the army yesterday at Fort George G. Meade.

Sgt. Jacob entered service in August, 1943, and served in the ground forces of the army air corps. He was last stationed at Panama City, Fla., before receiving his discharge.

He plans to resume his studies at Georgetown university, Washington, D. C., where he was a freshman when he entered the army.

Demurrer Upheld By Judge Capper In Policy Suit

Company Contends Gerald Heavner Met His Death in Flying Fortress

Associate Judge Walter C. Capper yesterday sustained a demurrer filed by the Peoples Life Insurance Company in connection with the suit brought by Mollie Morral in her attempt to collect insurance on the life of Staff Sgt. Gerald A. Heavner who died in action in World War II.

After Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson, Jr., had docketed the plaintiff's petition, the defendant firm requested a bill of particulars; first, that the plaintiff produce the contract of insurance; and secondly, that the plaintiff's declaration be amended to set forth the type of military activity or operation in which the insured was engaged at the time of his death.

Rider Attached to Policy

The declaration in the case is upon a life insurance policy issued by the insurance firm to the defendant in the amount of $1,000. It alleges that on June 3, 1942, the insurance company gave Heavner permission to engage in military or naval services of the United States Army and that thereafter he was a staff sergeant in the air corps and thereafter he was reported missing in action by the War department in the vicinity of Emden, Germany, and was declared dead September 28, 1944.

The sole question in this case, Judge Capper said, is whether or not the death of the assured was due directly or indirectly to riding in or operating a Flying Fortress as a rider added to Heavner's policy granted him permission to engage in military or naval service with the exception of air activity or submarine work.

The request for a bill of particulars expressly asked the plaintiff to set forth the type of military operation in which the insured was engaged at the time of his death and in answer to this question the plaintiff said that Heavner was a waist gunner of a Flying Fortress, the court said.

"It is obvious", the court declared, "that if the insured met his death while engaged in the activities of a waist gunner of a Flying Fortress there can be no recovery under the terms of this policy."

Limitations Are Valid

Continuing, the court stated, "plaintiff's counsel seriously contend that it was not their purpose to admit that Heavner met his death while riding in or operating a Flying Fortress. However, we think that the request for information as to the exact activity or operation in which he was engaged at the time of his death and the answer to the request that he was a waist gunner of a Fortress sufficiently establishes so far as the demurrer is concerned, that he must have met his death either directly or indirectly as a result of riding in an aircraft."

A wealth of authority has held that such limitations on insurance policies in time of war are valid to protect the company against the extra hazard of riding in an airpane or in a submarine.

The court gave the plaintiff fifteen days in which to amend the answer to the bill of particulars.

William C. Walsh and Thomas B. Finan are representing the insurance company.

SAWMILL CLASS—The miniature sawmill shown above made by B. M. Duncan, Baltimore, has been a feature of a series of seminars on sound forestry and lumbering practices conducted under the auspices of the state forestry department. Shown operating the sawmill is Grover Conzet, former state forester of Minnesota now with the forest service, Philadelphia, who instructed district forest personnel and sawmill operators at the classes yesterday at the state armory. Those observing the sawmill in action are (left to right) K. E. Pfeiffer, assistant state forester in charge of forest management; George Kramer, in charge of lumber grading; State Forester Joseph F. Kaylor; District Forester William H. Johnson; and H. C. Buckingham, former district state forester here and now assistant state forester. The miniature sawmill is a nine foot working model and includes all the fixtures of a full-scale sawmill with the exception of an edger.

Young Forest Fire Fighters Get First Test

Recently Organized Group of Boys Puts Out Mountain Blaze

What forestry department officials consider their youngest fire-fighting crew received its baptism of fire Wednesday night and Thursday morning and emerged from the ordeal with flying colors, bringing a brush and wood fire under control on Warrior mountain after approximately ten hours of hard work.

The organization of the crew of seven youths three weeks ago came about as the result of a series of talks on forest fire prevention given by Brook Bodkin, senior forest warden, to 4-H clubs in the county. When Bodkin addressed the Oldtown club the members evinced considerable interest and after the meeting approached Bodkin and asked if they could form a fire-fighting crew of their own.

After conferring with District Forester William H. Johnson, it was decided that forming such a crew would have distinct advantages and would also give the boys invaluable training.

House Named Leader

The crew was formed under the supervision of Bodkin and Dewey Deffinbaugh, forest warden and janitor at Oldtown school. Billy House, 17, Oldtown, was named leader. The other six crew members average from twelve to sixteen years in age. After forming the crew, the boys were given preliminary training and then received their equipment consisting of the usual fire-fighting paraphernalia including rakes, shovels, pickaxes and a fire pump.

Once organized and equipped, all the crew needed was a fire.

And they didn't have to wait long. Wednesday was a Class 4 day which means pretty much on the dry side according to forestry department symbols. And when smoke was seen rising from the south end of Warrior mountain it is not surprising that Crew Chief House was the first one to spot it and call in the facts to the district forester's office in Cumberland.

A few minutes later Crew Chief House and the exulting members of his crew were on their way to the fire in a truck loaded with their equipment—with a mission to perform.

The youthful crew found the southern end of Warrior mountain burning briskly and started preparations to put in a fire lane under the supervision of Deffinbaugh. They were joined shortly by Bodkin and Assistant State Forester H. C. Buckingham.

Did a Fine Job

Buckingham, who was unfamiliar with the progress of the Oldtown crew, looked at Bodkin and said, "What are you going to do with those boys?" He was soon agreeably surprised and admitted later, "Those boys really did a fine job, a fine job."

With the fire spreading rapidly until it covered eight acres, the boys, working like Trojans, encircled the conflagration with a fire lane four feet wide.

The crew went to work around 3 o'clock and worked straight through without relief until 1 a. m. when the fire was brought under control for keeps. They went home with blisters but were anxious to go back and "mop up" the next morning, Bodkin said. However, this offer was declined, it being a school day.

Special Service Planned

A special service honoring former servicemen of the Mt. Pleasant-Pleasant Grove communities will be held at Mt. Pleasant Methodist church March 14 at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Richard H. Bready will be the speaker.

Music will be under the direction of Miss Margery E. Hinkle with Mrs. Harry Wilson, pianist. Special musical selections will be given. Refreshments will be served following the program. Lady friends and families of each soldier are also invited to attend.

Forestry Department May Be Asked To Turn Out Lumber for Homes

Kaylor Says State Can Assist in Speeding Up Production

The possibility that the state forestry department may be called upon by the government to furnish substantial assistance in the job of turning out millions of feet of lumber to be used in the construction of homes was broached here yesterday by State Forester Joseph F. Kaylor at a meeting of forestry department personnel and saw mill operators.

With this country about to embark on a tremendous building program to meet the critical housing shortage, Kaylor said that the state is in excellent condition to assist timber owners and mill operators in speeding up their production.

The government is going to need millions of feet of timber, Kaylor said, and some of this timber for frame structures can be supplied in the east thereby eliminating the necessity of transporting western timber through the Panama canal.

Proper Method Explained

The state forestry department, with a full force of trained personnel headed by four district foresters and five farm foresters, are in a position to assist operators in the marking of timber, the speeding up of operations and also by looking for other material.

Kaylor explained that his department has hundreds of contacts with individuals who own timber and are in an advantageous position to assist these owners in solving their problems and especially such critical problems as framing lumber to help in the housing shortage.

District forestry personnel and saw mill operators yesterday attended a lumber seminar at the state armory where efficient lumbering practices were taught by Grover Conzet, former state forester of Minnesota now in the forest service, Philadelphia, George Kramer, in charge of lumber grading in the state, and K. E. Pfeiffer, assistant state forester in charge of forest management.

Conzet, who used a miniature sawmill for illustrative purposes, told those in attendance that more lumber is ruined by poor sawing and piling than anything else.

Sound Practices Outlined

It was explained at the sessions that making money in the lumber business depends on the grade and quality of the product and that by cutting to grade values can be raised from $35 per thousand to $110 per thousand feet.

Another point brought out was that proper marking of timber to be cut insures another crop in four or five years' time and also elimin-

Capt. John W. Avirett, II, Named To High Navy Post in Washington

John W. Avirett, II, a former local resident, has been promoted to captain in the United States Naval Reserve and assigned to duty as special assistant to the assistant secretary of the navy in Washington, D. C., according to a Navy department announcement received here yesterday.

Capt. Avirett, son of the late Col. John W. Avirett and Mrs. Sarah D. Avirett-Thomas, entered the naval reserve in January, 1943, as a lieutenant, senior grade.

The announcement stated that Capt. Avirett, senior member of the Baltimore law firm of Piper, Watkins, Avirett and Egerton when he entered service, expects to be released from the naval reserve in the late spring, after which he will resume the practice of law with the firm.

Other posts which Capt. Avirett has held since entering service include assistant counsel to the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts; counsel to the electronics division of the Bureau of Ships; and executive officer to the general counsel for the Navy department.

After obtaining his master's degree from the University of Virginia, Capt. Avirett was graduated from Harvard law school, Cambridge, Mass., and began practicing law in Baltimore.

His brother, Maj. James Alfred Avirett, "Rose Hill," Avirett place, has been in the service for four years, and is now serving as staff judge advocate at Camp Pickett, Va.

Sen. Kimble Will Speak at Banquet In LaVale Tonight

Legislator's Son Will Be Initiated into DOKK at Spring Ceremonial

Senator Robert B. Kimble, grand chancellor of Maryland, will be one of the speakers at the banquet and spring ceremonial this evening of Wahaba Temple, 237 DOKK, which will be held at the LaVale firemen's hall. Approximately 115 persons are expected to attend.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Earl Carney Wolven, Selbyville, Del., district deputy imperial prince, who will speak at the banquet, to be held at 6:30 o'clock. The ceremonial, scheduled for 8 o'clock, will conclude with the "Eighth Order," directed by John N. Miller and J. Walter McKee.

McKee, assisted by Arthur Brant, will serve as master of ceremonies at the dinner and ceremony. John C. Fisher, royal vizier, and his divan, will be in charge.

Other speakers will be Claud Yost, Keyser, W. Va., grand chancellor of West Virginia; Judge Frank F. Luthard, Baltimore, one of the directors of the foundation fund; and A. Elwood Martak, Baltimore, keeper of the records and seals.

Members of temples in Chambersburg, Harrisburg, and McKeesport, Pa.; Keyser; Washington, D. C., and Delaware are expected to attend the banquet and ceremonial.

Tyros to be initiated besides Kimble include George Ward, Vermont G. Zollner, Joseph G. Spitzer, John D. Woolard, John and Ralph Hilleary, Paul Robinette, William Lemmert, Lloyd and Paul Nycum, Marvin Keiter, John W. Laslo, Elmer E. Jeffries, Byron Kight, Richard S. Hotchkiss, Oliver R. Winebrenner, Kermit Van Pelt, Milton N. Crowe, Ralph Koontz, Joseph F. Baldwin, Ralph F. Crowe and C. A. Strawderman. Belmont Robinette and Paul E. Wenrich will be reinstated.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes John C. Fisher, Andrew Wilson, Joseph Wilson, J. N. Miller, Charles Wolford and David Smith.

Army Veteran Signs Up For Hitch in Navy

A Kitzmiller army veteran and two youths, one from Kitzmiller and one from Nikep, were sworn into the navy yesterday in Baltmore, according to Chief Boatswain's Mate Bradford Smith, local recruiter.

The army veteran is Ralph Garland Bohon, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Bohon, Kitzmiller. The other enlistees are Harold Frederick Stewart, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stewart, Kitzmiller; and John Thomas Myers, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Myers, Nikep.

Phone Service Back to Normal As Strike Ends

"Number, Please?" Replaces "Emergency Calls Only"

Feminine voices were saying "Number, please?" at the local telephone exchange again last night after telephone service returned to normal with the return to work of striking operators who "jumped the gun" on a threatened nationwide strike.

Settlement of the issues between the National Federation of Telephone Workers and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company was reached a scant twenty-five minutes before the 6 a. m. strike deadline yesterday, but Cumberland and other Maryland operators had been away from their switchboards nine and a half hours when that agreement was reached.

Instructions to report back to work were sent to workers here early yesterday morning soon after the agreement was reached, but some delay developed in getting those instructions to operators.

Normal Service Restored

Consequently, the return to normal service was slow in being achieved, but near normal service was in effect at noon and completely normal service was restored before mid-afternoon.

Cumberland operators left their switchboards here at 8 o'clock Wednesday night to attend an instructional meeting in the Fort Cumberland hotel, and telephone service was disrupted from that hour although the operators made no announcement that they were on strike until 11 p. m. after a letter from Baltimore was opened and read.

Management personnel took over operation after the regular operators left their posts and many a would-be caller was greeted by a masculine voice advising that the operators were on strike and only emergency calls were being handled.

Excellent Co-operation

While only emergency calls were being handled generally, management personnel gave excellent cooperation to The Cumberland News in putting through calls necessary to news gathering.

One long distance call to Miss Margaret C. Crocken, spokesman for the telephone unions affected by the strike, was attempted by The Cumberland News while the strike was in progress. That call was accepted by the management personnel here but was turned down in Baltimore.

No Inquest Planned In Death of Volk

Missing Watch and Wallet Are Located at Home; Probe Continues

West Virginia State Police said yesterday that no inquest will be held in the death of Lloyd D. Volk, 25-year-old Cumberland railroad fireman, whose mangled body was found along the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks in Great Cacapon, W. Va., Saturday morning.

The decision that no inquest would be necessary was arrived at by C. C. Dyche, coroner of Morgan county, W. Va., where the accident occurred, state police said.

Meanwhile, West Virginia, Maryland and B. and O. railroad police are continuing their investigation as to how Volk was killed by a train and how he got to Great Cacapon.

Although he was an employe of the B. and O., Volk was not working at the time he met his death, railroad authorities said.

Police were probing the possibility that he might have been the victim of foul play inasmuch as his wallet and watch had not been located, but officers said yesterday the watch and wallet have since been found at Volk's home, 309 Pennsylvania avenue.

Cumberland Man Fined On Motor Law Charge

Powell E. Robinson, 203 Race street, was fined $5.75 by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew in trial magistrates court yesterday after entering a plea of guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle on a thirty-day card without being accompanied by a licensed driver. Sentence was suspended on a charge of using dealer's tags without a ten-day permit. State Trooper Milton G. Hart arrested Robinson on Greene street Wednesday.

William D. Steele, 207 South Lee street, forfeited $6.45 bond on a charge of exceeding the thirty mile speed limit on Route 40 in LaVale. Trooper Harry Holsinger arrested Steele Tuesday.

County, Federal, State Funds Aid Forestry Work

Power Pumps and Radio System Pay Dividends, Foresters Say

County, state and federal funds which were used to equip this forestry district with power pumps and a two-way radio station really paid off in their first crucial test, forestry department personnel learned last night at a banquet at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

As explained by State Forester Joseph F. Kaylor, H. C. Buckingham, assistant state forester, and District Forester William H. Johnson, the funds donated by the county and state and federal agencies have accomplished three important things. Those are:

3—Provided funds to train personnel to fight the fires.

All three accomplishments were vividly illustrated Wednesday afternoon, a dry day in Western Maryland forests, when a fire broke out on Warrior mountain. When the fire started the telephone line to the Warrior mountain tower was out due to a fallen tree. But an alert junior fire fighter, Billy House, Oldtown, spotted the smoke and reported it. The two-way radio immediately was put into action and the youthful Oldtown fire-fighting crew was dispatched to the scene and the fire was brought under control.

Guest speakers at last night's banquet were Arthur Hoffa, mayor of Barton, and Arthur J. Weber, of the South Cumberland Planing mill. Weber told of changes in the saw mill business in the last forty years and stressed the importance of protecting what remains of Western Maryland's natural resources.

Charlton Truck Drivers To End Work Stoppage

Piedmont Grocery Company Employes Receive Wage Increase

Truck drivers of the Charlton Brothers Transportation Company, who quit work yesterday morning in protect over the dicharge of a fellow workman, will report for work this morning, C. E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, AFL, reported last evening.

The union official reported that a driver was discharged Wednesday night after the company was notified by an agent of an insurance company that the driver had had two accidents within a week.

Sturtzman said both accidents were of a minor nature and unavoidable.

Reach Agreement

The matter was settled tentatively yesterday morning by 10:30 o'clock, the union official said, after the company representative agreed to allow the driver to return to work in another capacity pending a conference with R. O. Charlton, Hagerstown.

The union official said the eight drivers returned to work at once but that the company wished to dock them for the time lost and begin paying them as of 11 a. m.

In one of the accidents, the truck driver told Stutzman, the tractor-trailor skidded due to the slippery condition of the street and slid against a parked car.

Negotiate Increase

The union official said the company head is expected to be here today.

A three cents an hour wage increase has been negotiated with the Piedmont Grocery Company for truck drivers of the firm, Stutzman added. The increase is retroactive to January 31 and is effective until the contract expires in May. The increase was negotiated under a wage reopening clause in the contract, the union official said.

Red Cross Drive Workers Report $15,106.50

Initial Reports Indicate Campaign for $30,500 Will Be Successful

Initial reports clearly indicate that the people of Allegany county are willing to support this year's Red Cross campaign in appreciation for the organization's splendid war record, leaders of the drive reported yesterday.

Following yesterday's report meeting where it was revealed that the drive has reached the half-way mark, workers in the organization prepared to intensify their efforts to "see everybody" in their attempt to cleanup the speedup campaign in time for Monday night's dinner-report meeting at the Central YMCA.

Mrs. Lee Witherup, executive secretary, yesterday stressed that organization workers should strive to cover their respective territories thoroughly as the need for support is just as great this year as during the war years.

Results Are Encouraging

Campaign leaders felt that the results to date have been encouraging. Yesterday's report luncheon showed that a total of $15,106.50 has been raised so far in the drive headed by Lt. Col. Randolph Millholland. The goal of the drive is $30,500.

A feature of the meeting was the fact that two divisions accounted for almost all of the $15,106.50 in yesterday's report.

Mrs. Jim McQuown, chairman of the Women's division, reported $3,029 of a goal of $6,000 raised while Harry C. Swearingen and W. Earle Cobey, co-chairman of the Advanced Gifts committee, reported $11,076 of its goal of $12,100.

Chief Judge William A. Huster, chairman of the clubs and organizations committee, reported $450 of a goal of $1,000; the classified division, headed by associate chairman John H. Rodman, John R. Robinson and Forrest Brown, reported $551.50 of a $5,000 goal.

While none of the county groups reported at yesterday's luncheon, Mrs. Witherup said that calls received from various towns in the county at headquarters indicate that county organization personnel is working hard and that results will be good.

Need Is Great

"We believe that the main idea is to give people an opportunity to support a thing they believe in," Mrs. Witherup said. "It is for this reason that we should stress contacting everybody since the public is fully aware that the young soldiers now overseas really need the aid of the Red Cross as well as the service men in hospitals."

Mrs. Witherup urged that workers who have reports to make should not fail to make them promptly o Monday. Auditors will take their places at the "Y" shortly after 5:30 o'clock with the dinner scheduled to start at 6:30.

Mrs. Witherup said that the organization was grateful to the members of the Kiwanis club and O. J. Hale, president, for sharing their weekly luncheon meeting with the Red Cross. The Kiwanis club turned over the time usually allotted for its program for Red Cross reports.

Hale introduced Mrs. C. L. Kopp, chairman of the Allegany county chapter, who in turn introduced Lt. Col. Millholland. The reports were then presented by the organization workers.

Committeemen Seek Re-election

Six of the seven present members of the Republican State Central Committee of Allegany County last night announced that they will be candidates to succeed themselves as members of that organization.

The lone exception to the joint announcement of candidacy which was made following a meeting of the committee last night is Robert C. Pollock, former trial magistrate at Mt. Savage, who has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination as judge of the orphans court.

Pollock has announced his resignation from the central committee and it will be effective in the near future.

Members of the committee who have announced their candidacy for re-election are Fred B. Driscoll, Jacob H. Brown and Edgar M. Lewis, Cumberland; Thomas Elias and Darrell G. Zeller, Frostburg, and James Park, Lonaconing.

Park and Lewis have been members of the committee for the past twelve years; Elias has been a member for the last eight years. Driscoll, Brown and Zeller are completing four years as members of the committee.

BARTON MINER IS BADLY INJURED IN FALL OF ROCK

A 43-year-old Moscow coal miner who was crushed beneath a fall of rock at a Barton coal mine yesterday, was reported in a "fair" condition last evening in Memorial hospital where he was admitted at 5:45 p. m.

The injured man, Clarence Green, told attaches a rock fell upon him yesterday afternoon while he was at work at the Koontz Coal Company mine at Barton. Attaches were told the miner was pinned beneath the rock for some time.

Attaches said Green was suffering from possible fractures of the left hip and thigh and a possible fracture of the right arm as well as multiple abrasions and contusions. He suffered some shock, attaches added, but was conscious.

Thomas Mowbray, an employe of the mine, accompanied the injured man to the hospital.

Mrs. Edna Perkins, 41, Amaranth, Pa., was reported in a "fair" condition in Memorial hospital where she was admitted at 4:30 p. m. She told attaches she drank a quantity of disinfectant.

Post, Davis Give Views on Water Line, Flood Control

News Is Querying Nominees on Important Municipal Matters

Believing flood control and improvement of the city's water system to be perhaps two of the most important questions that will confront Cumberland's new mayor and city council, The Cumberland News is interviewing the two mayoralty and eight councilmanic nominees on those subjects in an effort to obtain their views and present them to the public.

The questions are:

1. Are you in favor of the existing flood control program worked out over a period of years by the army engineers?
2. Do you favor the plan that has been adopted for expansion of the city water system?

Today The Cumberland News presents the opinions of Thomas S. Post and Frank J. Davis, candidates for mayor. The views of councilmanic candidates will be presented subsequently.

"The existing flood control program meets with my approval 100 per cent; it is one of the city's No. 1 projects.

With regard to expansion of the city water system, Post stated:

Supports Water Measures

"I shall give my support to every measure that will improve water service, including a sedimentation basin and the proposed auxiliary water line from Lake Gordon to the city."

Davis has this to say:

"I have, for several weeks past, been making a study of the army engineers' plan for flood control for the city of Cumberland. The plan seems to me to be practical enough as far as it goes. But there is one suggestion I would like to make, if given the opportunity. In the engineers' plan, there is no provision that I can find, for removal of obstacles below the Knobley mountain railroad tunnel, where there is a large railroad bridge across the Potomac. The study shows that the river above this point is ten and a half feet higher on flood stage, than it is below the bridge. It seems to me that some provision should be made to take care of removal of obstacles and debris below the bridge as well as above. It might also be possible to stream-line the abutments of this bridge as is proposed at other points.

"Flood control is our major problem just now, and is, in my opinion, equally important, if not more so, than our local traffic problem," Davis continued. "There are proposals," he said, "to tie our flood control development and a proposed cross-town bridge or some traffic control project, together. I do not favor this idea. It seems to me that we should take one thing at a time. If the flood control work is completed so that we can be assured of freedom from floods throughout the whole city, then we should go to

Rites for David C. Fleegle Will Be Held Sunday Afternoon

David Clarence Fleegle, 74, died yesterday shortly after noon at his home in Corriganville.

He was formerly employed as a janitor and was a native of Ellerslie, a son of the late Valentine and Mary Burkett Fleegle.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Laura Shatzer Fleegle, whom he married March 31, 1897, he is survived by three children, O. Burton Fleegle and Mrs. L. Pearl Cochran, both of Corriganville, and Mrs. Leota Raygor, 523 Broadway, this city.

Two brothers, Vonder Fleegle and Alonzo Fleegle, and two sisters, Mrs. Lena Brown, Brunswick, and Mrs. Rebecca Matthews, Narrows, Va., also survive.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Corriganville Methodist church by the Rev. William E. Nelson, pastor of the church. Interment will be in Hillcrest cemetery here.

The body is at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cochran, in Corriganville.

MISS ROBB RITES

Funeral services for Miss Emma L. Robb, 82, 157 Polk street, who died late Monday evening in Memorial hospital where she had been a patient since January 3, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Kight funeral home.

The Rev. Ralph B. Mark, pastor of Central Methodist church, officiated and interment was in Allegany cemetery, Frostburg.

Pallbearers were George W. Barnard, Raymond Barnard, Claude T. Jett, W. H. Hann, Thomas Frazee and Lester Warnick.

CHARLES SCHAAB RITES

Funeral services for Charles A. Schaab, 69, who died Monday morning at his home, 214½ Virginia avenue, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Stein funeral home.

The Rev. Hixon T. Bowersox, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, officiated and interment was in Rose Hill cemetery.

Pallbearers were H. T. Mahaney and Floyd W. Simmons, of Cumberland Lodge No. 60, Knights of Pythias; Arch Perdew and Arthur Weber, of St. John's Lutheran church, and Stanley Burke and T. E. Poole, of Lodge No. 120, Improved Order of Red Men, which held services at the grave.

Sgt. William Jacob Is Discharged from Army

Sgt. William C. Jacob, 20, son of Mrs. William Jacob, 515 Washington street, was honorably discharged from the army yesterday at Fort George G. Meade.

Sgt. Jacob entered service in August, 1943, and served in the ground forces of the army air corps. He was last stationed at Panama City, Fla., before receiving his discharge.

He plans to resume his studies at Georgetown university, Washington, D. C., where he was a freshman when he entered the army.

Demurrer Upheld By Judge Capper In Policy Suit

Company Contends Gerald Heavner Met His Death in Flying Fortress

Associate Judge Walter C. Capper yesterday sustained a demurrer filed by the Peoples Life Insurance Company in connection with the suit brought by Mollie Morral in her attempt to collect insurance on the life of Staff Sgt. Gerald A. Heavner who died in action in World War II.

After Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson, Jr., had docketed the plaintiff's petition, the defendant firm requested a bill of particulars; first, that the plaintiff produce the contract of insurance; and secondly, that the plaintiff's declaration be amended to set forth the type of military activity or operation in which the insured was engaged at the time of his death.

Rider Attached to Policy

The declaration in the case is upon a life insurance policy issued by the insurance firm to the defendant in the amount of $1,000. It alleges that on June 3, 1942, the insurance company gave Heavner permission to engage in military or naval services of the United States Army and that thereafter he was a staff sergeant in the air corps and thereafter he was reported missing in action by the War department in the vicinity of Emden, Germany, and was declared dead September 28, 1944.

The sole question in this case, Judge Capper said, is whether or not the death of the assured was due directly or indirectly to riding in or operating a Flying Fortress as a rider added to Heavner's policy granted him permission to engage in military or naval service with the exception of air activity or submarine work.

The request for a bill of particulars expressly asked the plaintiff to set forth the type of military operation in which the insured was engaged at the time of his death and in answer to this question the plaintiff said that Heavner was a waist gunner of a Flying Fortress, the court said.

"It is obvious", the court declared, "that if the insured met his death while engaged in the activities of a waist gunner of a Flying Fortress there can be no recovery under the terms of this policy."

Limitations Are Valid

Continuing, the court stated, "plaintiff's counsel seriously contend that it was not their purpose to admit that Heavner met his death while riding in or operating a Flying Fortress. However, we think that the request for information as to the exact activity or operation in which he was engaged at the time of his death and the answer to the request that he was a waist gunner of a Fortress sufficiently establishes so far as the demurrer is concerned, that he must have met his death either directly or indirectly as a result of riding in an aircraft."

A wealth of authority has held that such limitations on insurance policies in time of war are valid to protect the company against the extra hazard of riding in an airpane or in a submarine.

The court gave the plaintiff fifteen days in which to amend the answer to the bill of particulars.

William C. Walsh and Thomas B. Finan are representing the insurance company.

Official Vote Tally Changes Standing

Frank Hinze Moves to Fifth Place Ahead of DeLisle Chaney

The official tabulation of votes cast in the municipal primary election on Tuesday changed the standing of two candidates and the total vote received by three others, Samuel E. Griminger, city clerk, said yesterday.

DeLisle E. Chaney, councilmanic candidate who finished fifth on the basis of unofficial returns, lost ten votes in the official count and dropped to sixth place behind H. Frank Hinze. Hinze's official total is 1,842 and Chaney's 1,838.

In the race for mayor, Thomas S. Post gained ten votes and William E. McDonald lost thirty. Joseph R. Mantheiy, council candidate, lost ten votes.

The official count, however, made no change in the standing of Luther Hutter, Sr., who gained the eighth councilmanic nominee place by a margin of five votes over Richard T. Renshaw.

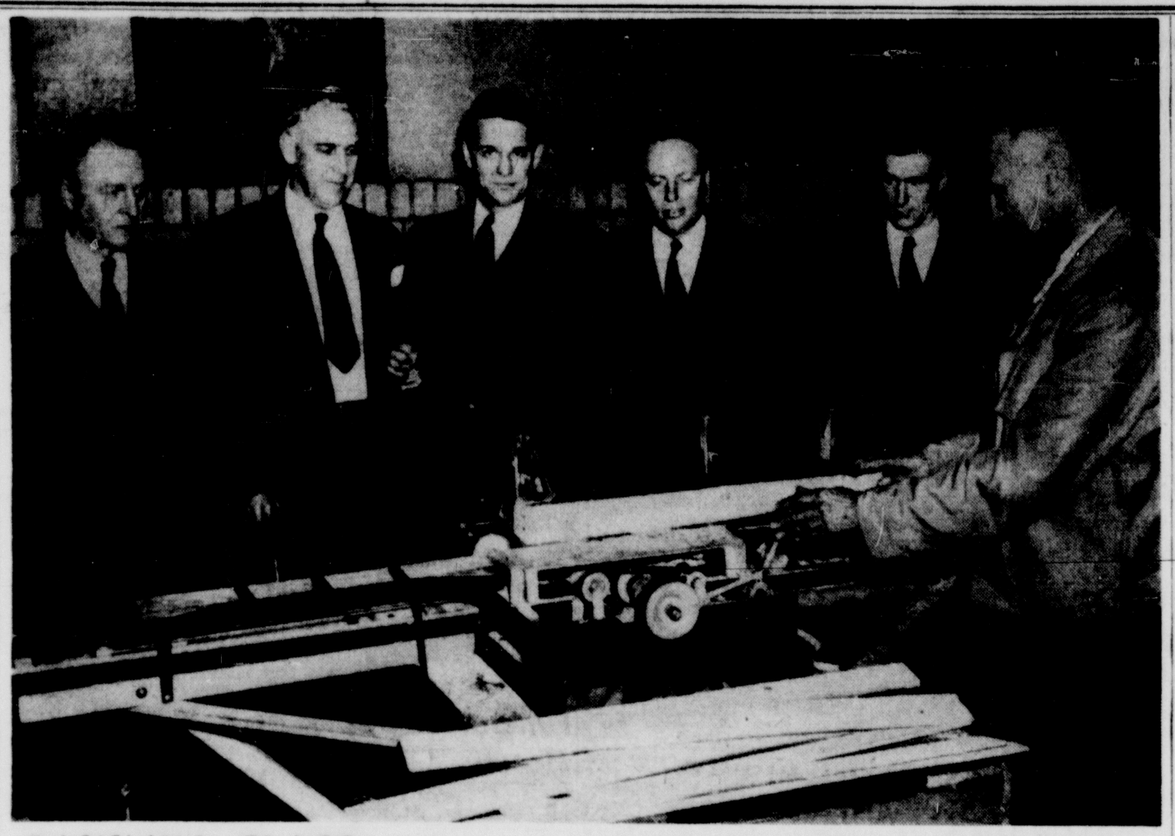
For Council: William J. Edwards 3,237, Clifton E. Fuller 2,941, William V. Keegan 2,555, Myers G. Light 2,056, H. Frank Hinze 1842, DeLisle E. Chaney 1,838, John E. Sharp 1,704, Luther Hutter Sr. 1,153, Richard T. Renshaw 1143, Joseph R. Mantheiy 653, Frank J. Mackert 614, Gordon B. Griffin 475, and Cleveland T. Albright 430.



SAWMILL CLASS—The miniature sawmill shown above made by B. M. Duncan, Baltimore, has been a feature of a series of seminars on sound forestry and lumbering practices conducted under the auspices of the state forestry department. Shown operating the sawmill is Grover Conzet, former state forester of Minnesota now with the forest service, Philadelphia, who instructed district forest personnel and sawmill operators at the classes yesterday at the state armory. Those observing the sawmill in action are (left to right) K. E. Pfeiffer, assistant state forester in charge of forest management; George Kramer, in charge of lumber grading; State Forester Joseph F. Kaylor; District Forester William H. Johnson; and H. C. Buckingham, former district state forester here and now assistant state forester. The miniature sawmill is a nine foot working model and includes all the fixtures of a full-scale sawmill with the exception of an edger.

Young Forest Fire Fighters Get First Test

Recently Organized Group of Boys Puts Out Mountain Blaze

What forestry department officials consider their youngest fire-fighting crew received its baptism of fire Wednesday night and Thursday morning and emerged from the ordeal with flying colors, bringing a brush and wood fire under control on Warrior mountain after approximately ten hours of hard work.

The organization of the crew of seven youths three weeks ago came about as the result of a series of talks on forest fire prevention given by Brook Bodkin, senior forest warden, to 4-H clubs in the county. When Bodkin addressed the Oldtown club the members evinced considerable interest and after the meeting approached Bodkin and asked if they could form a fire-fighting crew of their own.

After conferring with District Forester William H. Johnson, it was decided that forming such a crew would have distinct advantages and would also give the boys invaluable training.

House Named Leader

The crew was formed under the supervision of Bodkin and Dewey Deffinbaugh, forest warden and janitor at Oldtown school. Billy House, 17, Oldtown, was named leader. The other six crew members average from twelve to sixteen years in age. After forming the crew, the boys were given preliminary training and then received their equipment consisting of the usual fire-fighting paraphernalia including rakes, shovels, pickaxes and a fire pump.

Once organized and equipped, all the crew needed was a fire.

And they didn't have to wait long. Wednesday was a Class 4 day which means pretty much on the dry side according to forestry department symbols. And when smoke was seen rising from the south end of Warrior mountain it is not surprising that Crew Chief House was the first one to spot it and call in the facts to the district forester's office in Cumberland.

A few minutes later Crew Chief House and the exulting members of his crew were on their way to the fire in a truck loaded with their equipment—with a mission to perform.

The youthful crew found the southern end of Warrior mountain burning briskly and started preparations to put in a fire lane under the supervision of Deffinbaugh. They were joined shortly by Bodkin and Assistant State Forester H. C. Buckingham.

Did a Fine Job

Buckingham, who was unfamiliar with the progress of the Oldtown crew, looked at Bodkin and said, "What are you going to do with those boys?" He was soon agreeably surprised and admitted later, "Those boys really did a fine job, a fine job."

With the fire spreading rapidly until it covered eight acres, the boys, working like Trojans, encircled the conflagration with a fire lane four feet wide.

"They went right around that fire and they showed plenty of enthusiasm, too," Bodkin declared.

The crew went to work around 3 o'clock and worked straight through without relief until 1 a. m. when the fire was brought under control for keeps. They went home with blisters but were anxious to go back and "mop up" the next morning, Bodkin said. However, this offer was declined, it being a school day.

Special Service Planned

A special service honoring former servicemen of the Mt. Pleasant-Pleasant Grove communities will be held at Mt. Pleasant Methodist church March 14 at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Richard H. Bready will be the speaker.

Music will be under the direction of Miss Margery E. Hinkle with Mrs. Harry Wilson, pianist. Special musical selections will be given. Refreshments will be served following the program. Lady friends and families of each soldier are also invited to attend.

Forestry Department May Be Asked To Turn Out Lumber for Homes

Kaylor Says State Can Assist in Speeding Up Production

The possibility that the state forestry department may be called upon by the government to furnish substantial assistance in the job of turning out millions of feet of lumber to be used in the construction of homes was broached here yesterday by State Forester Joseph F. Kaylor at a meeting of forestry department personnel and saw mill operators.

With this country about to embark on a tremendous building program to meet the critical housing shortage, Kaylor said that the state is in excellent condition to assist timber owners and mill operators in speeding up their production.

The government is going to need millions of feet of timber, Kaylor said, and some of this timber for frame structures can be supplied in the east thereby eliminating the necessity of transporting western timber through the Panama canal.

Proper Method Explained

The state forestry department, with a full force of trained personnel headed by four district foresters and five farm foresters, are in a position to assist operators in the marking of timber, the speeding up of operations and also by looking for other material.

Kaylor explained that his department has hundreds of contacts with individuals who own timber and are in an advantageous position to assist these owners in solving their problems and especially such critical problems as framing lumber to help in the housing shortage.

District forestry personnel and saw mill operators yesterday attended a lumber seminar at the state armory where efficient lumbering practices were taught by Grover Conzet, former state forester of Minnesota now in the forest service, Philadelphia, George Kramer, in charge of lumber grading in the state, and K. E. Pfeiffer, assistant state forester in charge of forest management.

Conzet, who used a miniature sawmill for illustrative purposes, told those in attendance that more lumber is ruined by poor sawing and piling than anything else.

Sound Practices Outlined

It was explained at the sessions that making money in the lumber business depends on the grade and quality of the product and that by cutting to grade values can be raised from $35 per thousand to $110 per thousand feet.

Another point brought out was that proper marking of timber to be cut insures another crop in four or five years' time and also elimin-

Senator Robert B. Kimble, grand chancellor of Maryland, will be one of the speakers at the banquet and spring ceremonial this evening of Wahaba Temple, 237 DOKK, which will be held at the LaVale firemen's hall. Approximately 115 persons are expected to attend.

His son, Robert B. Kimble, Jr., will be one of the twenty-three tyros to be initiated at the ceremonial.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Earl Carney Wolven, Selbyville, Del., district deputy imperial prince, who will speak at the banquet, to be held at 6:30 o'clock. The ceremonial, scheduled for 8 o'clock, will conclude with the "Eighth Order," directed by John N. Miller and J. Walter McKee.

McKee, assisted by Arthur Brant, will serve as master of ceremonies at the dinner and ceremony, John C. Fisher, royal vizier, and his divan, will be in charge.

Other speakers will be Claud Yost, Keyser, W. Va., grand chancellor of West Virginia; Judge Frank F. Luthard, Baltimore, one of the directors of the foundation fund; and A. Elwood Martak, Baltimore, keeper of the records and seals.

Members of temples in Chambersburg, Harrisburg, and McKeesport, Pa.; Keyser; Washington, D. C., and Delaware are expected to attend the banquet and ceremonial.

Tyros to be initiated besides Kimble include George Ward, Vermont G. Zollner, Joseph G. Spitzer, John D. Woolard, John and Ralph Hilleary, Paul Robinette, William Lemmert, Lloyd and Paul Nycum, Marvin Keiter, John W. Laslo, Elmer E. Jeffries, Byron Kight, Richard S. Hotchkiss, Oliver R. Winebrenner, Kermit Van Pelt, Milton N. Crowe, Ralph Koontz, Joseph F. Baldwin, Ralph F. Crowe and C. A. Strawderman. Belmont Robinette and Paul E. Wenrich will be reinstated.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes John C. Fisher, Andrew Wilson, Joseph Wilson, J. N. Miller, Charles Wolford and David Smith.

Capt. John W. Avirett, II, Named To High Navy Post in Washington

John W. Avirett, II, a former local resident, has been promoted to captain in the United States Naval Reserve and assigned to duty as special assistant to the assistant secretary of the navy in Washington, D. C., according to a Navy department announcement received here yesterday.

Capt. Avirett, son of the late Col. John W. Avirett and Mrs. Sarah D. Avirett-Thomas, entered the naval reserve in January, 1943, as a lieutenant, senior grade.

The announcement stated that Capt. Avirett, senior member of the Baltimore law firm of Piper, Watkins, Avirett and Egerton when he entered service, expects to be released from the naval reserve in the late spring, after which he will resume the practice of law with the firm.

Other posts which Capt. Avirett has held since entering service include assistant counsel to the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts; counsel to the electronics division of the Bureau of Ships; and executive officer to the general counsel for the Navy department.

After obtaining his master's degree from the University of Virginia, Capt. Avirett was graduated from Harvard law school, Cambridge, Mass., and began practicing law in Baltimore.

His brother, Maj. James Alfred Avirett, "Rose Hill," Avirett place, has been in the service for four years, and is now serving as staff judge advocate at Camp Pickett, Va.

Army Veteran Signs Up For Hitch in Navy

A Kitzmiller army veteran and two youths, one from Kitzmiller and one from Nikep, were sworn into the navy yesterday in Baltimore, according to Chief Boatswain's Mate Bradford Smith, local recruiter.

The army veteran is Ralph Garland Bohon, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Bohon, Kitzmiller. The other enlistees are Harold Frederick Stewart, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stewart, Kitzmiller; and John Thomas Myers, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Myers, Nikep.

Phone Service Back to Normal As Strike Ends

"Number, Please?" Replaces "Emergency Calls Only"

Feminine voices were saying "Number, please?" at the local telephone exchange again last night after telephone service returned to normal with the return to work of striking operators who "jumped the gun" on a threatened nationwide strike.

Settlement of the issues between the National Federation of Telephone Workers and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company was reached a scant twenty-five minutes before the 6 a. m. strike deadline yesterday, but Cumberland and other Maryland operators had been away from their switchboards nine and a half hours when that agreement was reached.

Instructions to report back to work were sent to workers here early yesterday morning soon after the agreement was reached, but some delay developed in getting those instructions to operators.

Normal Service Restored

Consequently, the return to normal service was slow in being achieved, but near normal service was in effect at noon and completely normal service was restored before mid-afternoon.

Cumberland operators left their switchboards here at 8 o'clock Wednesday night to attend an instructional meeting in the Fort Cumberland hotel, and telephone service was disrupted from that hour although the operators made no announcement that they were on strike until 11 p. m. after a letter from Baltimore was opened and read.

Management personnel took over operation after the regular operators left their posts and many a would-be caller was greeted by a masculine voice advising that the operators were on strike and only emergency calls were being handled.

Excellent Co-operation

While only emergency calls were being handled generally, management personnel gave excellent co-operation to The Cumberland News in putting through calls necessary to news gathering.

One long distance call to Miss Margaret C. Crocken, spokesman for the telephone unions affected by the strike, was attempted by The Cumberland News while the strike was in progress. That call was accepted by the management personnel here but was turned down in Baltimore.

No Inquest Planned In Death of Volk

Missing Watch and Wallet Are Located at Home; Probe Continues

West Virginia State Police said yesterday that no inquest will be held in the death of Lloyd D. Volk, 25-year-old Cumberland railroad fireman, whose mangled body was found along the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks in Great Cacapon, W. Va., Saturday morning.

The decision that no inquest would be necessary was arrived at by C. C. Dyche, coroner of Morgan county, W. Va., where the accident occurred, state police said.

Meanwhile, West Virginia, Maryland and B. and O. railroad police are continuing their investigation as to how Volk was killed by a train and how he got to Great Cacapon.

Although he was an employe of the B. and O., Volk was not working at the time he met his death, railroad authorities said.

Police were probing the possibility that he might have been the victim of foul play inasmuch as his wallet and watch had not been located, but officers said yesterday the watch and wallet have since been found at Volk's home, 309 Pennsylvania avenue.

Cumberland Man Fined On Motor Law Charge

Powell E. Robinson, 203 Race street, was fined $5.75 by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew in trial magistrates court yesterday after entering a plea of guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle on a thirty-day card without being accompanied by a licensed driver. Sentence was suspended on a charge of using dealer's tags without a ten-day permit. State Trooper Milton G. Hart arrested Robinson on Greene street Wednesday.

William D. Steele, 207 South Lee street, forfeited $6.45 bond on a charge of exceeding the thirty mile speed limit on Route 40 in LaVale. Trooper Harry Holsinger arrested Steele Tuesday.

County, Federal, State Funds Aid Forestry Work

Power Pumps and Radio System Pay Dividends, Foresters Say

County, state and federal funds which were used to equip this forestry district with power pumps and a two-way radio station really paid off in their first crucial test, forestry department personnel learned last night at a banquet at the All Ghan Shrine Country Club.

As explained by State Forester Joseph F. Kaylor, H. C. Buckingham, assistant state forester, and District Forester William H. Johnson, the funds donated by the county and state and federal agencies have accomplished three important things. Those are:

1—Provided the district with power pumps with which to fight forest fires.

2—Provided a two-way radio for this district.

3—Provided funds to train personnel to fight the fires.

All three accomplishments were vividly illustrated Wednesday afternoon, a dry day in Western Maryland forests, when a fire broke out on Warrior mountain. When the fire started the telephone line to the Warrior mountain tower was out due to a fallen tree. But an alert junior fire fighter, Billy House, Oldtown, spotted the smoke and reported it. The two-way radio immediately was put into action and the youthful Oldtown fire-fighting crew was dispatched to the scene and the fire was brought under control.

Guest speakers at last night's banquet were Arthur Hoffa, mayor of Barton, and Arthur J. Weber, of the South Cumberland Planing mill. Weber told of changes in the saw mill business in the last forty years and stressed the importance of protecting what remains of Western Maryland's natural resources.

Charlton Truck Drivers To End Work Stoppage

Piedmont Grocery Company Employes Receive Wage Increase

Truck drivers of the Charlton Brothers Transportation Company, who quit work yesterday morning in protect over the dicharge of a fellow workman, will report for work this morning, C. E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, AFL, reported last evening.

The union official reported that a driver was discharged Wednesday night after the company was notified by an agent of an insurance company that the driver had had two accidents within a week.

Sturtzman said both accidents were of a minor nature and unavoidable.

Reach Agreement

The matter was settled tentatively yesterday morning by 10:30 o'clock, the union official said, after the company representative agreed to allow the driver to return to work in another capacity pending a conference with R. O. Charlton, Hagerstown.

The union official said the eight drivers returned to work at once but that the company wished to dock them for the time lost and begin paying them as of 11 a. m.

In one of the accidents, the truck driver told Stutzman, the tractor-trailor skidded due to the slippery condition of the street and slid against a parked car.

Negotiate Increase

The union official said the company head is expected to be here today.

A three cents an hour wage increase has been negotiated with the Piedmont Grocery Company for truck drivers of the firm, Stutzman added. The increase is retroactive to January 31 and is effective until the contract expires in May. The increase was negotiated under a wage reopening clause in the contract, the union official said.

Red Cross Drive Workers Report $15,106.50

Initial Reports Indicate Campaign for $30,500 Will Be Successful

Initial reports clearly indicate that the people of Allegany county are willing to support this year's Red Cross campaign in appreciation for the organization's splendid war record, leaders of the drive reported yesterday.

Following yesterday's report meeting where it was revealed that the drive has reached the half-way mark, workers in the organization prepared to intensify their efforts to "see everybody" in their attempt to cleanup the speedup campaign in time for Monday night's dinner-report meeting at the Central YMCA.

Mrs. Lee Witherup, executive secretary, yesterday stressed that organization workers should strive to cover their respective territories thoroughly as the need for support is just as great this year as during the war years.

Results Are Encouraging

Campaign leaders felt that the results to date have been encouraging. Yesterday's report luncheon showed that a total of $15,106.50 has been raised so far in the drive headed by Lt. Col. Randolph Millholland. The goal of the drive is $30,500.

A feature of the meeting was the fact that two divisions accounted for almost all of the $15,106.50 in yesterday's report.

Mrs. Jim McQuown, chairman of the Women's division, reported $3,029 of a goal of $6,000 raised while Harry C. Swearingen and W. Earle Cobey, co-chairman of the Advanced Gifts committee, reported $11,076 of its goal of $12,100.

Chief Judge William A. Huster, chairman of the clubs and organizations committee, reported $450 of a goal of $1,000; the classified division, headed by associate chairman John H. Rodman, John R. Robinson and Forrest Brown, reported $551.50 of a $5,000 goal.

While none of the county groups reported at yesterday's luncheon, Mrs. Witherup said that calls received from various towns in the county at headquarters indicate that county organization personnel is working hard and that results will be good.

Need Is Great

"We believe that the main idea is to give people an opportunity to support a thing they believe in," Mrs. Witherup said. "It is for this reason that we should stress contacting everybody since the public is fully aware that the young soldiers now overseas really need the aid of the Red Cross as well as the service men in hospitals."

Mrs. Witherup urged that workers who have reports to make should not fail to make them promptly o Monday. Auditors will take their places at the "Y" shortly after 5:30 o'clock with the dinner scheduled to start at 6:30.

Mrs. Witherup said that the organization was grateful to the members of the Kiwanis club and O. J. Hale, president, for sharing their weekly luncheon meeting with the Red Cross. The Kiwanis club turned over the time usually allotted for its program for Red Cross reports.

Hale introduced Mrs. C. L. Kopp, chairman of the Allegany county chapter, who in turn introduced Lt. Col. Millholland. The reports were then presented by the organization workers.

Committeemen Seek Re-election

Six of the seven present members of the Republican State Central Committee of Allegany County last night announced that they will be candidates to succeed themselves as members of that organization.

The lone exception to the joint announcement of candidacy which was made following a meeting of the committee last night is Robert C. Pollock, former trial magistrate at Mt. Savage, who has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination as judge of the orphans court.

Pollock has announced his resignation from the central committee and it will be effective in the near future.

Members of the committee who have announced their candidacy for re-election are Fred B. Driscoll, Jacob H. Brown and Edgar M. Lewis, Cumberland; Thomas Elias and Darrell G. Zeller, Frostburg, and James Park, Lonaconing.

Park and Lewis have been members of the committee for the past twelve years; Elias has been a member for the last eight years. Driscoll, Brown and Zeller are completing four years as members of the committee.

BARTON MINER IS BADLY INJURED IN FALL OF ROCK

A 43-year-old Moscow coal miner who was crushed beneath a fall of rock at a Barton coal mine yesterday, was reported in a "fair" condition last evening in Memorial hospital where he was admitted at 5:45 p. m.

The injured man, Clarence Green, told attaches a rock fell upon him yesterday afternoon while he was at work at the Koontz Coal Company mine at Barton. Attaches were told the miner was pinned beneath the rock for some time.

Attaches said Green was suffering from possible fractures of the left hip and thigh and a possible fracture of the right arm as well as multiple abrasions and contusions. He suffered some shock, attaches added, but was conscious.

Mrs. Edna Perkins, 41, Amaranth, Pa., was reported in a "fair" condition in Memorial hospital where she was admitted at 4:30 p. m. She told attaches she drank a quantity of disinfectant.
